

Kevin Camp • Houston

Kevin Camp received his undergraduate degree from the University of Houston with a bachelor of science in Economics and a minor in Finance. In 2008, Kevin received his Juris Doctorate from South Texas College of Law. While in law school, he served as President of the Board of Advocates and represented the school across the nation in several different varsity trial competitions. While attending South Texas College of Law and competing in these mock trials, Kevin achieved several awards and accomplishments, including; Champion in the 2007 National White Collar Crime competition at Georgetown in Washington D.C., Champion of the 2007 T. Gerald Treece Summer Mock Trial Academy Competition, semi-finalist in the 2008 ABA Criminal Trial in Chicago, multiple Speaking awards, Advocacy scholarships and service awards.

He continues to stay involved in the advocacy program by working with law students as a varsity mock trial coach at South Texas College of Law and an Adjunct Professor in Mock Trial Litigation. In September of 2010, Kevin had the privilege of graduating from the Gerry Spence Trial Lawyer's College in Wyoming.

Kevin opened a solo-practice in Houston, in 2010, where he represented clients in personal injury and other general business litigation matters. He began working for Jones Granger, which is approved and designated by railway trade labor unions, in June of 2012 and is devoted to protecting the right to a trial by jury.
