Now What?

What You Can Expect:

Prosecuting a personal injury case for a client who is in bankruptcy can be like walking through a minefield. There are the obvious questions. How does bankruptcy affect a personal injury claim? Can the claim be exempted? What about medical bills – can those be claimed? And then there are the questions that we might not even know to ask. Answering one of these questions incorrectly or failing to ask one altogether can be the legal equivalent of stepping on a mine. Let a bankruptcy lawyer guide you through this process and teach you how to identify and avoid these mines. Plus, explore your client's options when a defendant declares bankruptcy.
