

Women Lawyers' Association of Greater St. Louis (WLA)
Judicial Portrait Project

The WLA's Portrait Project was initiated to honor our retired female judges by putting up their pictures in their respective courthouses. Our goal is to commission portraits of retired women judges from St. Louis County and the City of St. Louis and hang them in the courtrooms where they served. Current displays are limited to male judges. This has been noticed by female attorneys as well as by the women we represent. Even something as simple as what images hang on the walls of our courtrooms matters to the people who go there to do business or resolve disputes. We hope to be able to celebrate the unveiling of a number of first portraits with a reception, likely sometime in the fall of this year.

For more information on this project, please contact Amy Gunn, WLA President.