

Noah's Trinity Cookie

READ AND BAKE TOGETHER

Noah sat at the kitchen table, feeling quite confused after hearing that God is three in one. "Mom, how can God be three but also one?" he asked. His mom smiled and reached for the cookie dough. "Let me show you," she said. Mom used food coloring and made three colored balls of dough- blue, red, and yellow. "Blue is like God the Father, Who made everything. This red dough is like God the Son, Jesus, Who became our Savior. And yellow is like God the Holy Spirit, Who comforts us." Mom had Noah press the three colored dough balls together, forming one cookie. "See? Three parts, but now they're one." As the cookie baked, Noah watched, fascinated. When it was done, he held the single cookie in his hands. "It's one cookie, but it's still made of three parts!" he exclaimed. His mom nodded. "It's not a perfect explanation, but it helps us understand a little bit better the mystery of God's Trinity."

Talk About It:

- What was Noah having a hard time understanding?
- What did mom have him bake to help him understand that God can be three and one?
- How many circles made up the one cookie?

Read The Baptism of Jesus

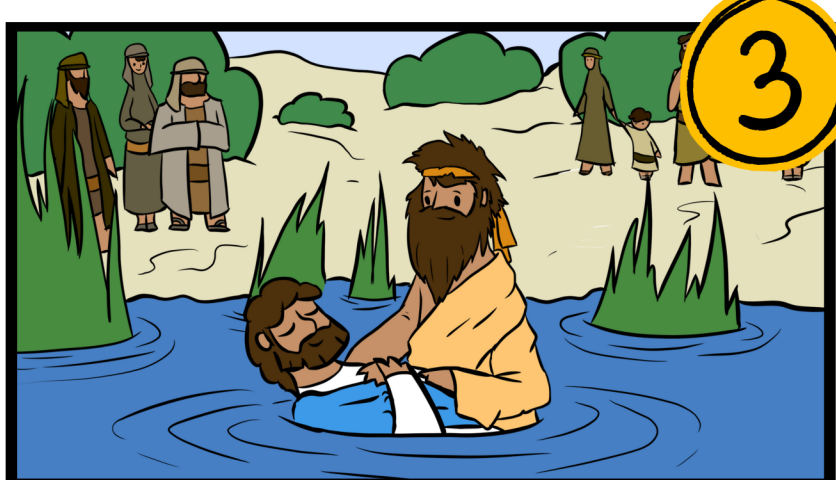

Matthew 3:13-17

“Then Jesus went from Galilee to the Jordan River to be baptized by John.

But John tried to talk him out of it. ‘I am the one who needs to be baptized by you,’ he said, ‘so why are you coming to me?’

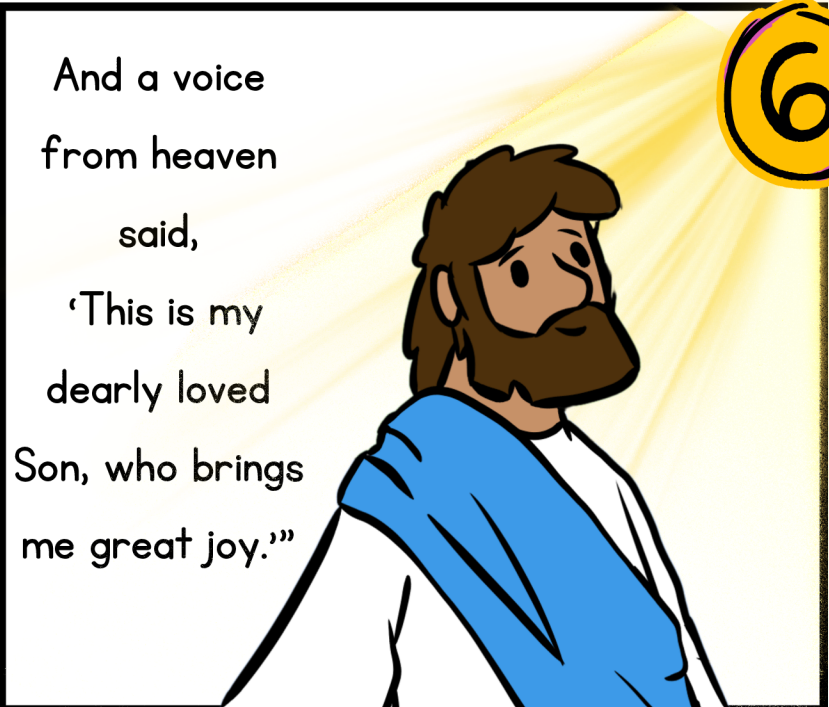

But Jesus said, ‘It should be done, for we must carry out all that God requires.’ So John agreed to baptize him.

After his baptism, as Jesus came up out of the water, the heavens were opened ...

... and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and settling on Him.

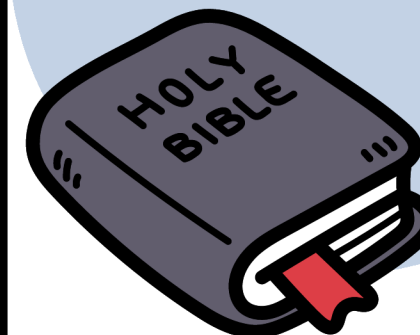

And a voice from heaven said, ‘This is my dearly loved Son, who brings me great joy.’”
