

NICOLE KLAGSBRUN

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NICOLE KLAGSBRUN GALLERY is pleased to present an installation by JIMMIE DURHAM. The works will be on display from November 7 through December 5, 1992. Mr. Durham is an artist whose work takes form as performance and poetry as well as sculpture and works on paper. He was recently included in Documenta IX in Kassel Germany and he has been invited to the Whitney Biennial this spring.

The current installation, entitled "Janus and His Double", sets up a context in which opposites are examined. The gallery is divided into halves one of which contains 'non-art' by the Shakespearean character Caliban who attempts to explore his own identity by making drawings and paintings of his nose. In the other half the installation contains 'real art' in a display of works on paper and sculptures of PVC and mud. At the center, in a kind of twilight zone between the two halves, stands the figure of Janus regarding the whole.

Nicole Klagsbrun gallery is located at 51 Greene Street, New York, NY, between Broome and Grand. For further information, please call the gallery between Tuesday and Saturday, from 10 AM to 6 PM.
