

The Value of Network Virtualization

Business Productivity Benefits

Organizations that have undertaken network virtualization needed 67% less time to deploy business applications

These organizations needed 65% less time to deploy new networking equipment

Operational Efficiency

IT professionals responsible for maintaining and supporting their networks were 37% more efficient

These organizations reduced the impact of unplanned network-related downtime by 84%

Improved Mean Time to repair by 68%

IT Infrastructure Cost Reductions

On average, organizations that have undertaken network virtualization consolidated their network port/switch base by 52%

Reduced cabling by 58%

Saved 51% on power and cooling

If you would like to talk with a Midokura expert to share more information about your business challenges and potential for network virtualization within your organization, contact us at 1 (888) 512-0460 or info@midokura.com

Source: IDC, 2015

Methodology:

IDC surveyed nine US-based organizations with 500-75,000 employees, averaging 38,200 employees

Industries Covered: High Tech, Financial Services, Food and Beverages, Healthcare, Public Sector, Consumer Goods and Manufacturing

