- To have the skills and understanding to operate and manipulate a sound system for live sound re-enforcement
- To have the knowledge and understanding to specify components needed for a theatrical sound system
- To have a working knowledge of sound recording and editing
- To gain a foundation of technical knowledge for future studies in the field

Course Requirements

Attendance: This class is meant to be part of your training to enter the theatrical production industry, as such, punctuality is an important aspect. Attendance is mandatory. After the second absence, your final grade will be lowered for each additional absence. Lateness of more than 5 minutes to class or lab will be factored in as half an absence. You will be responsible for missed information.

Lab Attendance: As part of the LAB for this class, you are required to participate in sound load-in for 1 of the three department productions this semester. Failure to meet this requirement will result in a demotion of your final grade by two (2) full grades. The schedule will be given out during the second class meeting and sign up will begin during that class meeting.

Notices:

Disabilities Accommodation:

"The University of North Texas is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation; reference Public Law 92-112- The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of new federal legislation entitled Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens."

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

Academic Conduct:

You are encouraged to become familiar with the University's Policy for Academic Dishonesty found in the UNT Student Handbook. Academic misconduct will not be tolerated in this course, and is subject to discipline. Cheating, plagiarism, collusion and falsification of academic records or the attempt to do these things constitute scholastic dishonesty. The Code of Student Conduct provides specific penalties faculty members may assign for cheating. For more information – www.vpaa.unt.edu/academic-integrity.htm

Student Behavior in the Classroom:

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.unt.edu/csrr
