Welcome to UNT!

As members of the UNT community, we have all made a commitment to be part of an institution that respects and values the identities of the students and employees with whom we interact. UNT does not tolerate identity-based discrimination, harassment, and retaliation. UNT's full Non-Discrimination Policy can be found in the UNT Policies section of the syllabus.

Course Description

This course investigates the relationship between music, activism, and politics through a wide range of historical and geographical contexts. Perspectives may include, but are not limited to: musical nationalism, censorship, cultural policy making, war and peace, the cultural industries, and/or musical activism and social movements.

The course is designed so that students can be successful without a background in music. A musical performance background (reading music notation) is also not a prerequisite. The main requirement is a willingness to listen carefully, listen wider, and to reflect on those experiences.

Course Structure

MUMH3200 is designed in several big topics. These topics range from specific piece analysis to larger issues. Canvas holds the learning objectives and detailed schedule for each week.

Course Prerequisites or Other Restrictions

There are no prerequisites for this course.

UNT Creative Arts Core Objectives

- Students will articulate how music engages with political ideologies and practices. To most effectively examine these musical issues, students will introduce problems and questions; present, interpret and analyze historical documents and contemporary scholarship related to the music being studied in this course; consider the context and credibility of this source material; develop and present arguments related to music and activism; and present conclusions, while assessing their implications. (Core LO: Critical Thinking)
- Students will evaluate and communicate how political ideologies have influenced all realms of music and media. To communicate effectively, students will be asked to present a central idea; organize material cohesively; develop content; and apply rules of Standard English in their arguments. (Core LO: Communication)
- Students will identify elements of social responsibility across all kinds of musics. In so doing, students will acknowledge and apply diverse perspectives to various musical genres/songs; acknowledge and apply civic responsibility to various musical genres/songs; and articulate insights about personal attitudes, behaviors, or beliefs as they relate to various musical genres/songs (Core LO: Social Responsibility)
- Working as a part of a team, students will participate in frequent in-class team activities and a final creative team project. Throughout these activities, students will reflect frequently on how best to contribute to a group; prepare and collaborate with a team; foster a constructive team climate; and respond to feedback constructively. (Core LO: Teamwork)

Materials

There is no required textbook for this course. All course materials will be made available via Canvas as PDFs or links to UNT's library databases.

Information Literacy

A portion of the assignments in this course (including reading assignments) are intended to have students engage with and access UNT Library resources. Such resources may include, but are not limited to, primary source databases, UNT special collections, and ebooks, with the goal of learning how to independently seek out, assess, and interpret primary and secondary source material available in the UNT Library databases.

Statement on Use of AI

Certain assignments in this course will permit or even encourage the use of generative artificial intelligence (GAI) tools such as ChatGPT. The default is that such use is disallowed unless otherwise stated. Any such use must be appropriately acknowledged and cited. It is each student's responsibility to assess the validity and applicability of any GAI output that is submitted; you bear the final responsibility. Violations of this policy will be considered academic misconduct. We draw your attention to the fact that different classes at UNT could implement different AI policies, and it is the student's responsibility to conform to expectations for each course.

Students can find all assignment information, submission guidelines, and due dates in the Introduction Module in Canvas. We will have Final Creative Project Presentations during our final

Instructor Feedback

Due to the class size, I will return feedback on all written assignments within two weeks of the due date. If I see that I will be unable to return your feedback within that timeframe, I will post an Announcement to let everyone know when it can be expected.

Late Work

All assignments have a 24-hour grace period in the event of unforeseen technical difficulties or life emergencies. That means students can submit all work up to 24 hours after the due date without penalty.

Students can turn in the other writing assignments (Protest Song, Censorship Mixtape, and Historical Sheet Music Assignments) up to three days late following the grace period with a minimal penalty. See Canvas for the detailed penalties.

Of course, if something unforeseen happens, please contact me (not a TA!) directly before the assignment is due regarding an extension.

Attendance Policy

This class has no formal attendance policy, but attendance is required. Should you miss class, you cannot earn in-class assignment points. Because we will complete many more in-class assignments than required to earn the necessary points, it is not possible to make up missed in-class assignments. In other words, it's okay to miss a few classes here and there – you'll be able to make up those points.

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website (<http://spot.unt.edu/>) or email spot@unt.edu.

ODA Statement

UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one's specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class.
