Course Description:
This course is an introduction to the field and discipline of art education. We explore a variety of artists and approaches to artmaking with a focus on big ideas, foundational vocabulary, curriculum development, experiential/embodied learning, and artistic dialogue.

Course Goals:
1. Students will understand the wide range of purposes, approaches, and venues for art education.
2. Students will explore foundational concepts and vocabulary in education and art education theory to design meaningful curriculum around learners’ needs and development.
3. Students will design and teach original lessons exploring big ideas and refine their lessons through personal reflection and class feedback.
4. Students will reflect on their own identity, past experiences, and teaching philosophy and learn about asset-based mindsets in teaching and learning.
5. Students will experiment with addressing contemporary art, creative practice, and visual culture in their lessons.
6. Students will develop assessment strategies to learners’ knowledge and competency.
7. Students will identify a range of materials and resources for art teaching and professionalism.

Land Acknowledgement:
I would like to acknowledge that the University of North Texas sits on the occupied/unceded/seized territory of the Wichita, Caddo, Comanche, and Cherokee Nations. These tribes have stewarded the land for generations, and I pay respects to their elders, past and present. Land acknowledgements are one way to make the ongoing effects of colonialism visible and show our gratitude and appreciation for those whose land we live and learn on. (Adapted from UNT’s Land Acknowledgement)

How to succeed in this course:
Communicate with me if you have questions, are confused about the assignments/my expectations, or are struggling in the course. My goal is to support you to be a thoughtful, critical, and grounded researcher and if you are having trouble let’s discuss how we can work together for your success. Feel free to email me or stop by my office hours for a chat and a cup of tea. I will do my best to address all emails within two business days.

Teaching Philosophy:
I believe that learning is a process. To truly learn we must be open to taking risks, moving towards discomfort, and questioning what we think we know. Listening and patiently considering the views of others moves us beyond arriving at the “right” answer towards a more complex and nuanced understanding of the world. I believe that to really grow we must not only take in new information, but we must also reflect on how it fits with what we previously knew and understood. We are all involved in a process of continual learning and unlearning. This process is powerful, uncomfortable, and full of possibility. As learners we may make mistakes along the way- and that is part of the process too!

I believe that teaching is a big responsibility. There is no job more important. Therefore, it is imperative that we engage with critical issues effecting art education to be ethical practitioners confronting injustices for our students and for ourselves. As your teacher and fellow learner I am dedicated to listening to you, holding space for you, and helping you engage in the process of learning/unlearning. I believe in the growth and potential of all students and will do my best to cultivate an environment where everyone’s voice can be heard and understood.

To make this a space for important conversations about sensitive topics I ask that we approach our work together with a grounding of respect for the humanity of your peers. I welcome friendly debates and disagreements in the spirit of trying to understand one another or an issue more deeply- the class is much less interesting if we all think the same! However, personal, aggressive, or antagonistic comments that do not further the dialogue will not be tolerated. I expect you to be civil and mindful of how your words and actions affect others and the historical/cultural weight language carries. I invite you to give one another (and me!) grace as we are all learning. I expect you to come prepared to be reflective, critical, and curious. Together we can create a thoughtful and supportive community that everyone can contribute to. If you feel like this is not the case, please stop by my office to discuss.

COURSE POLICIES

Participation:

Participation makes up 10% of your final course grade. Your grade will reflect how engaged and present you were in class discussions, activities, and group work. To receive full participation arrive on time, come prepared, contribute to class discussions and group work, and stay engaged in discussions and lectures. I understand that some folks might identify as shy (I do too!) but I would challenge everyone to be present and share their thoughts at least once each day. Your opinions, critiques, and reflections matter. In order to participate fully you will need to read and reflect prior to our meetings. If you are having trouble understanding the material or if life circumstances are getting in the way of your full participation communicate with me so we can make a plan for your success. I expect each of you to be prepared to share your thoughts and may call on you to do so.

Canvas:

I will be in touch with you over Canvas so be sure you have set it up to receive alerts and notifications. You might also check to make sure it forwards correspondence to your email. You are responsible for checking your email often during this course to receive updates and announcements.

Tips on engaging with the texts:

- Pre-read and look for the organization of main ideas first
- Underline/highlight passages you find interesting or important
- Circle words you want to look up or people who seem important- take a look at the citations to find folks researching similar topics
- Write thoughts or questions in the margins (unless it’s a library book 😊)
- After reading look through again to reflect on the case the author made
  - Do you agree/disagree?
  - What questions do you still have?
  - Write down some thoughts while they are still fresh in your mind

Attendance:

This course depends on your presence and engagement with your peers and with the course readings. Therefore, it is important that you arrive on time, are mentally present in class, and prepared to discuss the material assigned. I know we all have lives outside of class and things tend to come up. Balancing life, work, and school is a lot! If you run into a challenge that might make you late to class or absent please contact me to let me know. If you miss a class it is your responsibility to find out assignments and obtain notes/handouts from classmates – instructor will not provide them. You are responsible for all material assigned and covered as part of this course.

- Being present means you are engaged in discussion and have your video on (if virtual)
- You may miss 1 class for any reason (unless you are presenting)
- Each additional unexcused absence will result in 2 points deducted from your final grade
- 3 or more absences will result in a failing grade
- Two late arrivals/early departures equal one absence. If you know you’ll be late let me know ahead of time. It is important that you are here and on time out of respect for our community.

What counts as an excused absence?
- Illness with doctor’s note provided
- Religious holiday with a note 2 weeks in advance
- If something else comes up that you think should count come talk to me

Names and Personal Pronouns:
I am happy to refer to you by the name and pronoun you identify most with. Let me know what name and pronoun you use (She / He / They / Ze / Etc) and I will change it in my records.

Academic Integrity:
All the work you turn in should be your own. If you are referring to other sources or quoting an author, you must cite it both in text and in a work cited page. This course uses APA and I recommend visiting Purdue Owl’s online citation guide to answer any questions about specific citations. Plagiarized work is unacceptable. You will receive a zero for the assignment and will be reported possibly resulting in a loss of course credit. Citations are needed when…
- You use 3 or more words from a source (physical or on the internet)
- You copy and paste words that are not your own
- You paraphrase an idea from someone else
- You take inspiration from a lesson or someone else’s published idea
- You use an image
Talk to me if you are unsure of how to cite something or have questions.

Late Work:
Late reading responses are not accepted. All other written assignments decrease in value by 25% every additional day they are late.
- Worth 75% of points if turned in later on the same due date
- Worth 50% of points if turned in the following day
- Worth 25% of points if turned in 2 days late
- 3 or more days late will result in no points for that assignment

Policy on Children in Class/on Zoom:
I support parents and guardians attending school and want to help you succeed in this course. While UT does not have an official policy on children in the classroom, I will detail my personal policy below (thanks to Dr. Melissa Cheyney for creating a road map for this policy)
• All babies exclusively breastfeeding are welcome in class as often as you need to support the breastfeeding relationship. Please feel free to nurse anytime during our virtual classes.

• For older children and babies, I understand that illness and unforeseen circumstances come up that may result in lapses of childcare. I know this can put caregivers in a difficult position of having to miss class or arrange for alternate childcare. While this is not meant to be a long-term solution, you are welcome to bring your child to class to cover any unforeseen gaps in childcare coverage.

• If you do end up bringing your child to class, I request that you sit near to the door so that if your child needs special attention or is disrupting learning for others you may step outside. Non-parents should find alternate seats if caregivers with children need the chairs closest to the door.

• For students learning at home with children or others you care for at home, your children are welcome on the screen (my daughter will probably also make appearances from time to time) and I understand you may need to turn off your camera sometimes when you are attending to those in your care. I am open to talking about needed accommodations with deadlines as the semester progresses.

Media and Technology
Making connections with our class community happens best when we are mentally present with each other in a shared space. Therefore, I encourage you to only reference your electronic devices when necessary. Printing out the readings ahead of time or referencing physical notes rather than electronic copies is encouraged. Multi-tasking or frequent texting during our course meetings may result in a loss of participation points.

Prohibition of Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation (Policy 16.004)
The University of North Texas (UNT) prohibits discrimination and harassment because of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal or state law in its application and admission processes; educational programs and activities; employment policies, procedures, and processes; and university facilities. The University takes active measures to prevent such conduct and investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate.

Acceptable Student Behavior
Student behavior interfering with an instructor’s ability to conduct a class or another students’ opportunity to learn is unacceptable and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student’s conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university’s expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.deanofstudents.unt.edu.
Course Risk Factor
According to University Policy, this course is classified as a category two course. Course Safety Procedures: This course has been assigned a course risk factor of two (2). Students in this class are exposed to some significant hazards but are not likely to suffer serious bodily injury. The hazards to which you may be exposed in this class include chemical hazards (paints and glazes), injury from cutting instruments (scissors and paper cutters, for example), and electrical hazards (from tools and kilns, for example.) Always be safety conscious and watch out for yourself and for others. MSD Sheets describing the components of each substance used in this class are located in the UNT Student Health Center. In case of emergency alarm will sound. Please follow the building evacuation plans posted on each floor of the building and proceed to the nearest parking lot. In case of tornado or other weather-related threat campus sirens will sound. Please go to the nearest hallway or room on your floor without exterior windows and remain there until an all-clear signal is sounded.

STUDENT RESOURCES

Services for Students with Disabilities:
This course welcomes students of all backgrounds, identities, and abilities. If you have circumstances that might make our learning environment or activities challenging let me know how I can best support you. If you have accommodations or medical information you need to share with me, please let me know. I am committed to making this an effective learning environment for all students, but I can only do that if you communicate your needs early on in the semester. I promise to keep our discussions confidential. If you have a documented disability please contact the Office of Disability Access website (http://www.unt.edu/oda). You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

Writing Center:
Writing can be challenging. The folks over at the writing center are here to support you. The writing center that can help you generate ideas, organize your thoughts, and tell a compelling story. They also can help with editing and citations.

Sexual Discrimination, Harassment, and Assault UNT is committed to providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences any of these acts of aggression, please know that you are not alone. The federal Title IX law makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses. UNT has staff members trained to support you in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more.

Food/Housing Insecurity
Any student who has difficulty affording groceries or accessing sufficient food to eat, or who lacks a safe and stable place to live, and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Dean of Students, Suite 409 at the University Union. The UNT Food Pantry is a useful resource. Please visit the website for more details, or feel free to come see me: https://deanofstudents.unt.edu/resources/foodpantry

Mental Health Resources
We all could benefit from some extra support during tough times, especially with the effects of the pandemic. You are not alone. The University has resources that can help and learning how to ask for help is an important part of the college experience. If you or anyone you know is experiencing feelings of being overwhelmed, dealing with difficult life events, or feeling anxiety or depression please get the support you need by utilizing one of the resources below. Services are free, confidential, and none of your information will be shared without your written consent.

Weekly Reading Responses
70 points

Every week on Canvas (unless otherwise noted) you should expect to turn in a critical response to the readings. These critical responses are due the Tuesday before class by 12:01 pm on Canvas. Your responses should include:

- Minimum 1 paragraph (350-400 words) with specific quotes or text references (with APA citations in text)
  - A strong response might contain…
    - A takeaway you might apply to your future teaching- explain how you would use it in practice
    - A connection to another SPECIFIC course texts/ideas/discussions-give details
    - A reflection on how this relates to your own experience with teaching and schooling, what new thoughts does this bring up?

- 1 question you are wondering about
  - A strong question is…
    - Open ended and specific, can’t be answered with yes/no
    - Shows that you are engaging deeply with the text
    - Goes beyond platitudes and clichés
    - Moves past virtue signaling towards shifts in perspective

Examples of strong questions:

- Yosso gives us a roadmap to move beyond deficit thinking, but I wonder what training teachers could receive to help them recognize “resistant capital” (p. 80), which is so often seen as a problem?
- The Effland piece makes me wonder how the art education would be different if it were not always seen as therapy or a brain break. What concrete steps can we take to reimagine art education in our future classrooms?

This response should reflect a deep and critical engagement with the texts and ideas. You will lose points if your reflection does not demonstrate a deep engagement with the texts. Submit a text entry on Canvas. No late assignments will be accepted.

TExES Art Content Practice Exam
50 points
Complete the practice test in the 178-practice manual. Exam must be completed by specified date. Once you get your scores write (in paragraph form) a one to two-page study/improvement plan, reflecting on your strengths and weaknesses and how/what (websites, books, practice test, etc.) you will study to improve your score. Or you can complete the study plan on page 77 of the 178-preparation manual and upload it to Canvas.

Art Talk (VTS) 200 points
Chose an artwork that you think will generate a rich discussion (something with many details or that suggests a story). In small groups lead a 10-minute Art Talk using Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS) for your peers. Rubric/Guidelines will be located on Canvas.

Mini Artist Presentations 200 points
The goal of this mini-artist presentation is to 1) prepare for your TExES test, 2) practice teaching skills you can apply in your future classroom, 3) illustrate the type of assignment you may give your future students, and 4) enhance your cultural competency in teaching art. For this assignment you will choose a Contemporary artist (run your artist by me) and create a 6-10 slide Power Point covering their biography, art practice, and major social/cultural/historical influences on their work.

- The most successful presentations are specific and detailed and may involve short (under 2 minute) video or audio clips. You may also want to include video/audio of yourself in this presentation.
- Spend time getting to know the artist and deeply understand the tradition and materials they are working within. Research the specific cultural, historical, social, and political issues they are informed by.
- Choose 1 artwork to go deep with (perhaps show a detailed slide with a particular aspect you want to highlight) and consider other artworks from their body of work that address similar themes.
- Your last slide should be your reference list in APA format, expect to include at least 3 sources.

Curriculum Slam/Revision/Reflection 310 Points
Your final project for this course is a Curriculum Slam. For this assignment you will use the College of Education (COE) lesson plan format (the template is located on Canvas) to create and teach a lesson plan addressing a compelling Big Idea. The majority of your grade will be based on your revisions, so you can use this assignment as a “lab space” to experiment, take a risk, and pilot an idea with the support of your peers and professor.

- Design a lesson: Your lesson plan should be 20-25 minutes long and it should involve an Art Talk as well as elements of art making, and a final reflection.
- Test it out: We will share our final lessons with each other during the final 2 course sessions in our Curriculum Slam. During this session you will get a chance to test out your lesson, ask questions, and receive feedback.
• Revise it: After the Curriculum Slam I will give you prompt feedback (within 48 hours) and you will have 1 week to resubmit your lesson using track changes in RED so I can see what you changed.

• Reflect: Submit a 1-2 page double spaced paper reflecting on the lesson and explaining what changes you made and why.

Peer Feedback:

20 Points

A portion of your grade will also come from being present in class during the Curriculum Slams to support your peers and give feedback during their presentations. It is important that you attend all of these presentations and are generous with your engagement to receive full points.

Teach Us Something

50 Points

What is something you love to do that you know like the back of your hand? Skateboarding? Taking a great selfie? Making the perfect PBJ sandwich? Paper Marbling? A big part of teaching is breaking down complex processes into smaller scaffolded steps. In this 5-10 minute mini-teaching demonstration you’ll practice teaching something you know well to your peers. Write out and practice a list of steps (including set up/clean up) that can break a multi-step process down into manageable parts and prepare a visual aid to help your peers.

Extra Credit Opportunities (worth 20 points each)

Attend one of the events below and compose a 3-page reflection connecting the event to ideas from the course. Attach 1-3 photos taken at the event:

1. Public Screening and Panel Discussion for the Film, Alice Street (2022)
   - Film Description: In a rapidly gentrifying city, the construction of a luxury condominium threatens a local mural forcing the artists and a neighborhood to rally to protect its history, voice, and land.
   - Date: Sept. 22, 22 6–8 pm
   - Location: Greater Denton Arts Council, Patterson-Appleton Arts Center

2. Education as Experimentation Symposium
   - On October 21-22, 2022, the Onstead Institute for Education in the Visual Arts and Design within the College of Visual Arts and Design (CVAD) at the University of North Texas will host Education as Experimentation 3, a singular gathering of artists, designers, educators, and scholars. The event coincides with the release of the book Studious Drift: Movements and Protocols for a Postdigital Education by CVAD Professor of Art Education Tyson E. Lewis and Onstead Institute Director Peter B. Hyland. Proceedings will include critical responses to the book and experimental protocols arranged by invited artists that will involve audience members in an active exploration of educational possibilities. Registration is free, but space is limited. Please contact the Onstead Institute at onstead@unt.edu to RSVP early to secure your space.

3. “A Banquet for Seaweed: Snapshots from the Arab 1980s" symposium Nov. 3–5, & Art Exhibit
CVAD Gallery

Exhibition dates Oct. 4, 2022–Jan. 28, 2023

“A Banquet for Seaweed: Snapshots from the Arab 1980s”

Curator: Nada Shabout, Regents Professor, Art History

This exhibition will be in conjunction with the theme of a symposium, Nov. 3–5, about Arab art in the 1980s.
