COURSE DESCRIPTION

4200. Senior Drawing and Painting Studio. 3 hours (0;6). Advanced studies in drawing and painting with an emphasis on in-depth individually generated projects. Students will focus on professional development and portfolio preparation. Students will work on developing technical skills, materials and processes appropriate to their concepts as well as aesthetic sensibilities including the use of historic and contemporary references in drawing and painting and other arts, criticism, expression of personal concepts in works. Prerequisite(s) : Three of the following courses: ASTU 3201, ASTU 3202, ASTU 3203, ASTU 3204, ASTU 3205, ASTU 3206. Must have passed drawing and painting review.

OBJECTIVES

Senior Painting and Drawing furthers a critical exploration within the media of drawing and takes on the central premise that an investigation in drawing and painting as a primary mode of expression and vehicle for intellectual activity has become important to your studio practice. Each artist is committed to the effort of building an ambitious body of work which will propel them into a professional studio practice and/or advanced level of inquiry.

This course will be driven by conceptual/theoretical discourse relative to contemporary drawing and painting. It is my expectation that you are engaged in a high-level of rigorous production and simultaneous analysis of those efforts. We will scrutinize both the formal elements and construction of paintings, as well the thematic progression, which will be largely individually driven.

A significant amount of work outside of class will be expected from everyone. You will be supplied with critical essay(s) and reviews that address wide-ranging issues in contemporary art. Group and individual critiques will dominate much of our studio time, as will relevant individual research methods germane to your work.

COURSE OUTCOMES & OBJECTIVES

a. Understanding of basic principles of design and color, concepts, media and formats, and the ability to apply them. This includes functional knowledge of the traditions, conventions, and evolutions of the discipline as related to issues of representation, illusion, and meaning. The development of solutions to aesthetic and design problems should continue throughout the degree program.

b. Ability to synthesize the use of drawing, two-dimensional design, and color. These abilities are developed by beginning with basic studies and continuing throughout the degree program toward the development of advanced capabilities.

c. Knowledge and skills in the use of basic tools, techniques, and processes sufficient to work from concept to finished product, including knowledge of paints and surfaces.

d. Exploration of the expressive possibilities of various media, and the diverse conceptual modes available to the painter. This may deal with direct painting from nature or with alternative approaches to the making of traditional or innovative two- and, at times, three-dimensional images.

e. Encouragement to develop a consistent, personal direction and style through independent work.

CONTENT, EVALUATION & EXAMINATION

Group and individual critique will form a large component of this course and will play a role in your evaluation. You are required to work during scheduled class time for presentation of assignments, instruction, personal critiques and group discussions. Late work will be accepted for half credit, but only if it is submitted one class session late. Students will be evaluated on the timely completion of assignments and the resulting inventiveness and fluency of their work.

You will be graded for each critique (Individual, Large and Small Group Critique) based on the merits of the presented work. I will evaluate visual form, content, concept, theme, personal growth, and relevance to the contemporary art world. I will also examine your ability to follow through with an assignment, as well as your ability to receive and respond to critical feedback.

CRITIQUE

Critiques are an essential part of your comprehensive development as an art student and community member. Critiques form a significant component of this course. A critique is a forum through which you express your thoughts, questions, and intentions regarding your own projects as well as the work of your peers. Critiques develop your ability to speak about visual art with clarity, in an informed manner. They often raise questions about a project not considered initially, lead to new ideas, and open up possibilities for further work. It is a requirement of this course that you participate fully in each of these group conversations, speaking candidly, honestly, and without unnecessary “prompting.” We will commit to maintaining a respectful and sensitive discussion regarding our peers work – it will not become a platform for personal attacks or unthoughtful response. On critique days work should be posted on the wall within the first 5 minutes of each class so that we do not delay the introduction of new concepts and the day’s studio work. Failure to do so, or missing a critique will significantly impact your participation grade.

ASSIGNMENTS & GRADING

40% - In-class studio portfolio
30% - Overall Participation and Cooperation in Discussions & Critiques
22% - Homework, sketchbook assignments, writing and/or reading assignments
8% - Final

*Based on earning 1000 points over the course of the semester

A = Excellent (100-90%)

B = Above Average (89-80%)

C = Average (79-70%)

D = Inferior (69-60%) [passing but not necessarily satisfying degree requirements]

F = Failure (59% or below)

EXAMPLES OF GRADING STANDARDS

A

Student work that is superior and goes above and beyond standard expectations. Superior work and rigorous effort is demonstrated through in-class & homework assignments, on time and up to faculty-defined standards, as well as full classroom participation. Grades in this category indicate excellence in the subject matter.

B

Student work that meets high expectations. Hard work and skill are demonstrated through assignments and classroom participation. Grades in this category indicate strong aptitudes for the subject matter.

C

Student work generally meets standard expectations, but other factors (such as hard work, sub-average participation, attendance, attainment of faculty-defined standards, and timely completion of work, etc.) may not be up to expectations.

D

Student work, attendance, participation does not meet minimum expectations. Student progress within the subject matter is at a sub-average level. Students that fall into this category are generally late to class regularly, and absent often, fail to turn in assignments, quizzes, and projects, and fail to display an understanding of the subject matter.

F

Failure to meet expectations. This can include, but is not limited to, quality of work, progress within the discipline, participation, attendance, etc.

PARTICIPATION

Participation includes speaking during crits and in-class discussions, working during our in-class practice sessions, as well as, initiative, attitude, teachability, and cooperation with the class rules and goals.

You will be required to maintain a critique notebook for the course. I will be looking to see that you are prepared each session with your notebook and actively recording names of artists, references, and ideas. If you do not have this, it will reflect negatively on your daily points.

You are expected to assist in maintaining a classroom environment that is conducive to learning. In order to assure that everyone has an opportunity to gain from time spent in class, unless otherwise approved by the instructor, you are prohibited from using phones, eating or drinking in class, making offensive remarks, interrupting myself or peers, sleeping or engaging in any other form of distraction. Inappropriate behavior in the classroom shall result in, minimally, a request to leave class, which will be counted as an absence.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

- Regular and punctual attendance is mandatory.
- Three absences will be tolerated.
- More than three absences will require a note from a doctor or a note from the art office excusing the absence for a reason covered under UNT policy 06.039 (Student Attendance and Authorized Absences) in order to be counted as excused.
- More than three absences will lower your final grade by one letter grade per additional absence (4 or more)
- Most lectures, demonstrations, and assignments will occur at the beginning of class periods and will not be repeated for those who come in late. If you are late to class, you will need to notify me at the end of the class period to replace an absence with a tardy. Three tardies will constitute an absence.
- A tardy is considered to be arrival 5 minutes after the beginning of class.
- Assignments that are turned in late will receive one letter grade lower per day for each day they are late.
- Examinations, quizzes, and in-class assignments missed may only be made up with an official doctor's excuse or note from the art office excusing the absence for a reason covered under UNT policy 06.039 (Student Attendance and Authorized Absences).
- Critiques missed may not be made up and grades will reflect the student's failure to participate in the critique discussions.

CELL PHONES

Cell phones must be silent for the duration of each class period. Calling, receiving calls, TEXTING, instagramming, playing games, etc., are not allowed during class time. Failure to heed this rule may result in a temporary dismissal from that class session (including being marked absent) and/or the lowering of your participation grade. If you anticipate an emergency call or text please notify me before class begins so that you may use your phone without penalty. If you use your phone to play music with headphones you may do so only during extended working sessions by permission from the professor, leaving one ear open to hear any further instruction.

Please adhere to these guidelines also during scheduled breaks

All lecture notes and drawings/thumbnailed sketches for class must be taken in a notebook or sketchbook. All required research (when applicable) must be conducted on a laptop or approved tablet.

CLEAN STUDIO POLICY

Always clean up after yourself before leaving the studio after a working session. This is a common courtesy to your peers and myself. No one should have to clean up after anyone else, and it maintains a safe environment when you simply clean up after yourself and reorganize or shut down/turn off anything you've used while in the studio. Failure to do so will also impact your participation grade. Also, please take any necessary safety precautions when using tools or materials in the classroom both for your own sake and the safety of your classmates.

Safety Rules: Never dispose of paint in the sink. Any paint or paint soaked rags should be disposed of in the fire-proof red kick-cans. Never dispose of any solvents in the sink. Dispose of used solvents in the containers provided.

Please no food or drinks (without a sealable lid) in the studio during class-time or during our scheduled break time.

I will answer emails in the order in which I receive them within three business days (M-F). I will respond to urgent or time-sensitive e-mails first. I will not be available to reply to emails during weekends. I am happy to answer emails from those who regularly attend class. However, I will not answer emails from those who were absent and would like information on what was missed. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

According to UNT Policy 18.1.16, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

ADA ACCOMODATION

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct.

STUDENT EVALUATION ADMINISTRATION DATES

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13 and 14 [insert administration dates] of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the spot website at www.spot.unt.edu or email spot@unt.edu.

INCOMPLETE GRADES

An Incomplete Grade ("I") is a non-punitive grade given only during the last one-fourth of a term/semester and only if a student (1) is passing the course and (2) has a justifiable and documented reason, beyond the control of the student (such as serious illness or military service), for not completing the work on schedule.

In consultation with the instructor, complete a request for an Incomplete Grade. This form can be found on the department website and must be turned into the department chair prior to the last day of classes (not the exam date). Note: A grade of Incomplete is not automatically assigned to students
