Rules of Engagement

Rules of engagement refer to the way students are expected to interact with each other and with their instructors. Here are some general guidelines:

- While the freedom to express yourself is a fundamental human right, any communication that utilizes cruel and derogatory language on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal or state law will not be tolerated.

- Treat your instructor and classmates with respect in any communication online or face-to-face, even when their opinion differs from your own.
- Ask for and use the correct name and pronouns for your instructor and classmates.
- Speak from personal experiences. Use “I” statements to share thoughts and feelings. Try not to speak on behalf of groups or other individual’s experiences.
- Use your critical thinking skills to challenge other people’s ideas, instead of attacking individuals.
- Avoid using all caps while communicating digitally. This may be interpreted as “YELLING!”
- Be cautious when using humor or sarcasm in emails or discussion posts as tone can be difficult to interpret digitally.
- Avoid using “text-talk” unless explicitly permitted by your instructor.
- Proofread and fact-check your sources.
- Keep in mind that online posts can be permanent, so think first before you type.

See these Engagement Guidelines (https://clear.unt.edu/online-communication-tips) for more information.

To be successful in the next level of Spanish, it is highly recommended that students pass this course with a final grade of C or above. A minimum grade of C is obligatory for all Spanish majors and minors.

Policy on Late Work

Late work will be accepted only in case of an emergency (illness/accident or death in family). The student should contact the instructor as soon as possible providing documentation supporting the need for any late submission of a graded assignment. In the case of an anticipated absence, such as military deployment, the student should contact the instructor in advance and make arrangements to complete the required assignments.

Extra Credit

SPOT course Evaluation and submitting discussions early will give students the opportunities to earn extra points.

Active Participation

Discussions

The participation portion of your grade will depend on the level and quality of your interaction with other students and your professor in the course. As active participation, and to practice your writing, listening and speaking skills in Spanish, you will be required to complete written and oral (video) discussions in Canvas on specific topics related to the chapter of study. Video discussions will prepare you for the final conversation.

After you post your discussion, you will listen or read the posts of two students and you will give each of them a substantial comment (video or written). Full information and grading rubric are provided in Canvas.

Writing discussions and comments

Discussions must be the student's work and should reflect their writing skills as proved in exams and quizzes. For written discussions to be accepted, the student must write the essay written portion of each exam. Using translators or outside help for discussions will result in a grade of 0 without the opportunity to redo the work.

Video discussions and 2 comments

Written or audio comments will not be accepted for video discussions. Reading while making the video will result in a grade of 0 without the opportunity to redo the work. Full information is provided in Canvas. For more information and rules, read "Course Policies" section.

Early Discussions Submission to Earn Extra Points

Students who 1) submit their first post early (see the assignments schedule); 2) submit their 2 comments before or by the due date, and 3) comply with all the rules described below, will earn 2 points extra credit added to their discussion score for that week. The purpose of this incentive is to motivate early submission, and thereby provide a wider variety of posts for reply commenting by classmates.

Rules to receive the 2 extra points:

- a). Both comments must be substantial, include vocabulary and all the grammatical structures required in the discussion. Comments that do not meet with all the requirements stated in the grading rubric, will not receive the extra points. For more information, read the rubric in Canvas.
- b). Students who submit their first post early, but do NOT submit their 2 reply comments will not be eligible for the bonus points because they did not fully complete the assignment.

Homework

Homework is located in each weekly module in Canvas. Homework will be on grammar videos, specific exercises from the textbook, videos, audios, recording, writing, and reading assignments. Grammar worksheets (and answer keys) are provided for practice. Using translators or outside help for written assignments will result in a grade of 0 without the opportunity to redo the work.

Lockdown Browser System

Quizzes and exams will be using LockDown Browser System (LDB is NOT compatible with Chromebooks). Instructions and the link to download the application in your computer is in “Where to get help” Module. To take quizzes and exams, you will need a webcam on your computer. If your computer does not have a webcam, you can take the exam in the Language Lab. Check their schedule or call them in advance. Take the practice quiz to familiarize yourself with LockDown Browser and how to record your environment correctly.

Chapter exams

To evaluate your listening, reading, writing, vocabulary and grammatical skills, there will be 5 chapter exams throughout the semester. Exam 5 will be your final exam and it will be taken on the date scheduled by UNT for all online courses. Study guides and complete information with instructions on how to take the exams using LockDown Browser are available in Canvas.

Each exam will be available ONLY on the days and time assigned. Exams will be timed, and you will be logged out of the exam once the time allowed expires. If you take the exam in the Language lab, plan your time well and arrive at least two hours before the lab closes. You will need to bring your UNT student ID and sign in and out at the front desk. Leave all your belongings, including cell phone, at the front desk.

Before taking the practice quiz you must read the folder “Rules and Regulations for Quizzes and Exams” in Canvas and follow the rules during each quiz and exam. To take each exam, you will need your UNT Student ID. If you do not have it, notify your professor immediately. You will also need a webcam. It is the student’s responsibility to have the required technology. If you do not have a computer with a webcam, the exams can be taken in campus in the Language Lab in LAN and the Library. For due dates consult the Assignments Class Schedule.

Take your exams as soon as possible. In case of computer problems, you will need time to solve them before the exam closes. If you experience technical problems, contact the UNT Help Desk for help and request a case ticket number, then contact your professor to report the incident. Make up for and exams will not be allowed due to computer issues.

Final Conversation

At end of the course you will have a conversation in Spanish with a classmate or your professor using the “Zoom” feature of Canvas. The conversation will cover the communicative functions practiced in class and will be based in 4 topics related to the theme of the 4 chapters covered during the course. The conversation will be for 4-5 minutes per group of two students (or 12 minutes per groups of three students). This assignment will be graded individually on content and detail provided, incorporation of grammatical structures, and vocabulary studied throughout the course, preparation and use of communication strategies. Students will sign up in advance (in Canvas Calendar) on the day and time provided that best fit their schedule. Grading rubric, topics to study, and guidelines on how to do well on this assignment are available in the Module “Final Conversation” in Canvas.

Final Conversations will not be conducted on weekends. It is the student’s responsibility to make the necessary arrangements to have the conversation on the days schedule. If there is a conflict with the time, contact your instructor immediately to reschedule.

ODA students need to contact their professor during the first week of class if reasonable accommodations for this assignment is needed.

Course Evaluation

Student Perceptions of Teaching (SPOT) is the student evaluation system for UNT and allows students the ability to confidentially provide constructive feedback to their instructor and department to improve the quality of student experiences in the course. For the date when SPOT becomes available, consult the UNT schedule.

UNT Policies

Academic Integrity Policy

Academic Integrity Standards and Consequences. According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University. Cheating, plagiarism, and other examples of academic misconduct defined by University Policy will result in a zero on the assignment or assessment in question and may be reported to the Dean of Students.

ODA Policy

UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one's specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time; however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website \(https://disability.unt.edu/\).

Important Notice for F-1 Students taking Distance Education Courses

Federal Regulation

To read detailed Immigration and Customs Enforcement regulations for F-1 students taking online courses, please go to the Electronic Code of Federal Regulations website (<http://www.ecfr.gov/>). The specific portion concerning distance education courses is located at Title 8 CFR 214.2 Paragraph (f)(6)(i)(G).

The paragraph reads:

(G) For F-1 students enrolled in classes for credit or classroom hours, no more than the equivalent of one class or three credits per session, term, semester, trimester, or quarter may be counted toward the full course of study requirement if the class is taken on-line or through distance education and does not require the student's physical attendance for classes, examination or other purposes integral to completion of the class. An on-line or distance education course is a course that is offered principally through the use of television, audio, or computer transmission including open broadcast, closed circuit, cable, microwave, or satellite, audio conferencing, or computer conferencing. If the F-1 student's course of study is in a language study program, no on-line or distance education classes may be considered to count toward a student's full course of study requirement.

University of North Texas Compliance

To comply with immigration regulations, an F-1 visa holder within the United States may need to engage in an on-campus experiential component for this course. This component (which must be approved in advance by the instructor) can include activities such as taking an on-campus exam, participating in an on-campus lecture or lab activity, or other on-campus experience integral to the completion of this course.

If such an on-campus activity is required, it is the student's responsibility to do the following:

(1) Submit a written request to the instructor for an on-campus experiential component within one week of the start of the course.

(2) Ensure that the activity on campus takes place and the instructor documents it in writing with a notice sent to the International Student and Scholar Services Office. ISSS has a form available that you may use for this purpose.

Because the decision may have serious immigration consequences, if an F-1 student is unsure about his or her need to participate in an on-campus experiential component for this course, s/he should contact the UNT International Student and Scholar Services Office (telephone 940-565-2195 or email internationaladvising@unt.edu) to get clarification before the one-week deadline.

Student Verification

UNT takes measures to protect the integrity of educational credentials awarded to students enrolled in distance education courses by verifying student identity, protecting student privacy, and notifying students of any special meeting times/locations or additional charges associated with student identity verification in distance education courses.

See UNT Policy 07-002 Student Identity Verification, Privacy, and Notification and Distance Education Courses (<https://policy.unt.edu/policy/07-002>).

Use of Student Work

A student owns the copyright for all work (e.g. software, photographs, reports, presentations, and email postings) he or she creates within a class and the University is not entitled to use any student work without the student's permission unless all of the following criteria are met:

- The work is used only once.
- The work is not used in its entirety.
- Use of the work does not affect any potential profits from the work.
- The student is not identified.
- The work is identified as student work.

If the use of the work does not meet all of the above criteria, then the University office or department using the work must obtain the student's written permission.

Download the UNT System Permission, Waiver and Release Form

Transmission and Recording of Student Images in Electronically-Delivered Courses

1. No permission is needed from a student for his or her image or voice to be transmitted live via videoconference or streaming media, but all students should be informed when courses are to be conducted using either method of delivery.
2. In the event an instructor records student presentations, he or she must obtain permission from the student using a signed release in order to use the recording for future classes in accordance with the Use of Student-Created Work guidelines above.
3. Instructors who video-record their class lectures with the intention of re-using some or all of recordings for future class offerings must notify students on the course syllabus if students' images may appear on video. Instructors are also advised to provide accommodation for students who do not wish to appear in class recordings.

Example: This course employs lecture capture technology to record class sessions. Students may occasionally appear on video. The lecture recordings will be available to you for study purposes and may also be reused in future course offerings.

No notification is needed if only audio and slide capture is used or if the video only records the instructor's image. However, the instructor is encouraged to let students know the recordings will be available to them for study purposes.
