Welcome to UNT!

As members of the UNT community, we have all made a commitment to be part of an institution that respects and values the identities of the students and employees with whom we interact. UNT does not tolerate identity-based discrimination, harassment, and retaliation. UNT's full Non-Discrimination Policy can be found in the UNT Policies section of the syllabus.

Course Description and objectives

This is a beginner Arabic course, where students will learn both Modern Standard Arabic(MSA) and the Shaami (Levantine) dialect. By the end of this course, you should be able to do the following:

1. Demonstrate familiarity with certain cultural aspects of the Arab world.
2. Pronounce Arabic sounds properly.
3. Exchange culturally appropriate greetings.
4. Ask and answer simple questions on very familiar topics, relying mostly on memorized words and phrases, and simple sentences.
5. Ask and answer questions to express basic needs such as ordering at a restaurant or purchasing at the market.
6. Identify the main idea and a few basic points on very familiar topics in texts that are written or spoken.
7. I can write simple sentences about very familiar topics such as talking about myself.

Required Textbook and Materials

"Pronunciation of Arabic: Mastery of Phonology Through Tajweed" online course can be purchased here.

Teaching Philosophy

My goal is to create a supportive and student-centered learning environment. Despite the effort required to learn a new language and to come to every session fully prepared, learning a language must be fun. Also, I believe in the importance of fostering learner agency and in creating a learning environment that encourages student autonomy. For that purpose, I encourage and expect students to assume responsibility for their learning and to view the instructor not as the source of knowledge but as a coach helping them on their learning journey. Finally, another important factor in successful learning is learner-learner interaction. Therefore, I strive to create a collaborative learning environment where students work together to accomplish tasks, drawing on each others' strengths and resources.

Course Structure

This is a student centered classroom. In preparation for class, students are expected to spend an average of one to one and a half hours learning new material, watching videos, reviewing, and writing homework prior to each class session. Homework details and class activities are posted on the weekly schedule in modules on canvas, and homework must be submitted on Canvas prior to class. Most of class time will be devoted to doing group work; to participate actively and engage others with the material, students need to prepare well before class.

Rules of Engagement

Rules of engagement refer to the way students are expected to interact with each other and with their instructors. Here are some general guidelines:

- While the freedom to express yourself is a fundamental human right, any communication that utilizes cruel and derogatory language on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal or state law will not be tolerated.
- Treat your instructor and classmates with respect, even when their opinion differs from your own.
- Ask for and use the correct name and pronouns for your instructor and classmates.
- In Arab culture, the instructor is not addressed by first name only; make sure you use “Isteeze Caroline” both in email correspondences and when addressing the instructor

See these Engagement Guidelines (<https://clear.unt.edu/online-communication-tips>) for more information.

Course Requirements and Grade Distribution

Attendance, Participation and Exit tickets (25%)

Regular attendance is crucial to keeping up with the pace of the class and your overall success, so I look forward to you being in class on time and well-prepared. During the semester, you may be unable to prepare for class adequately for one or a couple of days. If for any reason, you have been unable to prepare for class adequately, make sure to inform your instructor via email prior to class, and she can arrange for you to learn by listening that day and will avoid asking you questions in class.

At the end of every class, you will be given a very short assignment to complete as an exit ticket; the aim is to showcase what you have learned both through your preparation prior to class and during the class session. Exit tickets must be submitted on canvas, under assignments, “attendance, participation, and exit tickets” before leaving the classroom. Students can use their phone or their laptops to upload the task.

Daily attendance, participation, and exit tickets are graded on a scale of 1 to 5, and will be posted on Canvas after every class.

- In case of an absence, please inform your instructor prior, not after, the class you will be missing. The participation grade for that day will be a “0,” but the lowest two grades for attendance, participation, and exit tickets are automatically dropped on Canvas allowing you to miss two classes without impacting your grade.
- You are responsible for any class work, homework, and for any announcements made in your absence.

To get a full participation score, you need to:

- Be in class on time
  - Attendance and participation points will be deducted for tardiness as follows:
    - Arrival during the first 5 min of class = 0.5 pt.
    - Arrival during the first 15 min of class = 1 pt.
    - Arrival during the first 30 min of class = 2 pts.
    - Arrival during the first 40 min of class = 3 pts.
    - If you arrive more than 40 minutes late, you will receive a “0” for that day’s participation.
- Be fully prepared for class activities, and participate actively in class and group activities. The homework due prior to class will help prepare you for class activities. Attendance and participation points will be deducted for participation as follows:
  - Not actively participating in every class activities= 1 pt.
  - Being unable to participate in an activity because of lack of preparation for class, such as not having watched the video being discussed in class= 2 pts.
- Turn in your exit ticket on canvas before leaving the classroom. Your exit ticket assignment must showcase adequate preparation prior to class and an understanding of the material covered in class. You are encouraged to seek your classmates’ or your instructor’s help if you are struggling with the task of the exit ticket. Also, feel free to check your answers with your classmates and instructor before turning them in. Exit tickets are not quizzes; rather, opportunities for you and your instructor to make sure you understand the material before moving on.

Homework Assignments (25%)

- Expect to spend an average of 1 ½ to 2 hours in preparation for every class session. Homework assignments must be submitted on canvas before class, and late homework assignments will not be accepted unless students have received approval from the instructor prior to the assignment’s due date.
- Homework will be submitted on canvas. Click on assignments, then Click “show by type” on the top right, then “homework assignments” and scroll the right homework number. You will find the homework number on the schedule available on canvas, under “modules,” schedule. Please note that whenever the assignment is a file upload, only pdfs are accepted.
- Homework assignments will be graded on a scale from 1 to 5. You will be graded on the overall quality of your work, and on the effort you put into the homework and not on the number of correct answers. It is important to note that this is not a simple completion grade; rather you are required to put effort and review the necessary material to do well on the homework.
- The lowest two homework grades will be dropped.
- Check canvas daily to see any comments your instructor or the grader might have left. A grade of 4.9 means that your homework is very well done, and there is a comment you need to check. A 0.1 deduction will not impact your grade significantly and is meant merely to draw your attention to go to canvas to listen to feedback or read any comments.
- It is your responsibility to check that the grade you receive is fair. Whenever you receive a grade that is less than 4.9, you must know why. The grader is encouraged to write to let you know why you have less than a perfect score. If any grade does not make sense, please write in the comments on canvas to inquire. If the grade still does not seem fair to you, please let your instructor know.

Quizzes (15%)

You will have several short vocab and grammar quizzes covering the material learned throughout the course. Dates for quizzes will be announced at least one week in advance.

Graded conversations, and formulaic expressions oral quizzes (10%)

Expressions such as “Good morning” and the various responses are often referred to as formulaic expressions when teaching Arabic. You will learn many of the essential formulaic expressions during the semester; they will be compiled in a quizlet set for your convenience. You will have two oral quizzes about them with the tutors or your instructor. Please inform your instructor if none of the available tutoring hours or instructor office hours work for you.

Also, for this class, you will have 2 graded conversations; they will take place toward the end of the semester and will be three weeks apart.

Interviews with native speakers (5%)

This semester, you will conduct two interviews in English with two different native speakers and write a 500 word essay (in English, of course) about the information you have learned from the interview.

Guidelines are here.

Reading and “Pronunciation of Arabic: Mastery of Phonology Through Tajweed” activities (10%)

One of the objectives of the course is to master Arabic sounds. Arabic has a few sounds that are not part of your native tongue, and, to pronounce those sounds, you will need to practice. Many students can pronounce those sounds with no practice at all; others need to practice for a few weeks just for one specific sound while they get all the others with no effort. Everyone eventually masters all the sound; all it takes is practice.

In this course, we will be learning and inshallah mastering Arabic pronunciation through the pedagogical tools of the art of tajweed. Students will work on this component of the course and submit its required assignments during lab hours.

Additionally, toward the end of the semester, students will have 2 reading assignments that will be recorded on Canvas.

Final exam (10%)

The final exam will include listening, reading, and writing parts in addition to sections on vocabulary and grammar.

Grade distribution:

Attendance, Participation and exit tickets: 25%

Homework: 25%

Quizzes: 15 %

Graded conversations and formulaic expressions: 10%

Interviews with native speakers : 5%

Pronunciation and reading: 10%

Final exam: 10%

Grading Scale

|              |   |
|--------------|---|
| 90-100       | A |
| 80-89        | B |
| 70-79        | C |
| 60-69        | D |
| 59 and below | F |

Extra credit

Several opportunities for extra credit will be available through the semester. To earn extra credit, students must attend an event related to the Arab world and write a cultural report in English about it. The event must be pre-approved by the instructor and announced to the class, so everyone has an opportunity to attend. Guidelines are on canvas and students must answer specific questions. The deadline to submit the report and receive extra credit is a week after the event.

Course Policies

Late Work

Late homework assignments will not be accepted unless you received an approval from the instructor prior to the assignment's due date; however, The lowest two homework grades will be dropped automatically on Canvas.

Academic Honesty

I expect you to submit your own work and participate in all aspects of the course with integrity and academic honesty. Do your own work. It is against the policy of this course to use an answer key or any translation platform or resource, to enlist the help of a fluent Arabic speaker or to have your work checked by anyone other than your instructors before submitting it. Failure to follow this policy on any assignment will result in a grade of zero for that assignment.

Working on the homework with other classmates is encouraged, but each student must submit to the instructor his or her own answers.

Grading Concerns

I encourage you to reach out to your instructor as soon as possible if you have any questions about grades or if you feel that the grade is not accurate or fair. It is extremely important you understand the rubric and the reasoning for your grades.

Attendance Policy

I look forward to you being in class on time and well-prepared. Regular attendance is crucial to keeping up with the pace of the class and your overall success. Daily attendance, participation and exit tickets are graded on a scale of 1 to 5, and will be posted on Canvas after every class.

- In case of an absence, please inform me before, not after, the class you will be missing. The participation grade for that day will be a "0," but the lowest two grades will be automatically dropped on canvas allowing you to miss two classes without impacting your grade.
- You are responsible for any class work, homework, and for any announcements made in your absence.

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 [insert administration dates] of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website at <https://studentaffairs.unt.edu/office-disability-access>. You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.
