Teaching Philosophy

I am a strong believer in the importance of fostering learner agency and in creating a learning environment that encourages student autonomy. For that purpose, I encourage and expect students to assume responsibility for their learning and to view the instructor not as the source of knowledge but as a coach helping them on their learning journey. Finally, another important factor in successful learning is learner-learner interaction. Therefore, I strive to create a collaborative learning environment where students work together to accomplish tasks, drawing on each others' strengths and resources.

Final project Due on canvas by Thursday December 12, by midnight

Your success in this class is extremely important to me. If any aspects of this course prevent you from learning, please reach out as soon as possible. I will do my utmost best to work with you and to develop strategies that support your success.

Communication Expectations

The best way to reach me is via email. Please avoid using canvas to email me; rather, send an email directly to Caroline.Najour@unt.edu. I respond within 24 hours on weekdays, and on Monday, when email is sent after 5 pm on Friday.

This class relies heavily on canvas where grades and assignments will be regularly posted. Be sure to check Canvas and your email daily as the instructor will share important information about class over the email.

Course Description and objectives:

This course explores the Arab World through the lens of travels and adventures; it is designed for students who have had the equivalent of two semesters of Arabic instruction. Learners will develop language skills to communicate in everyday travel situations, such as arriving at the airport, booking accommodation, and asking for directions. By the end of the course, students will be able to discuss travel plans and describe travel experiences. For the end of the course project, students will create two five-day tour itineraries to a destination in the Arab world. One itinerary should represent a dream trip without budgetary constraints, while the other should be more realistic, reflecting the financial capabilities of the target clients.

Interpersonal Communication objectives

Learners will be able to engage in conversations on topics related to travels and adventures such as talking to a travel agent, booking accommodation, discussing past travel experiences and future travel plans.

Interpretive Communication objectives

Learners will be able to understand and interpret main ideas and some supporting details in short, authentic texts, videos, and audios related to travel.

Presentational communication objectives

Learners will be able to present information about travel itineraries and past travel experiences, describing locations and activities to persuade or narrate.

Course Requirements and Grade Distribution

Participation and exit tickets (20%)

Regular attendance is crucial to keeping up with the pace of the class and your overall success, so I look forward to you being in class on time and well-prepared. During the semester, you may be unable to prepare for class adequately for one or a couple of days. In this case, please inform your instructor via email before class or in person right before class starts. Do not miss class because you have been unable to prepare; show up and you will still learn by listening that day and your instructor will avoid asking you questions in class.

At the end of every class, you will be given a very short assignment to complete as an exit ticket; the aim is to showcase what you have learned both through your preparation for class and during the class session. Exit tickets must be submitted on Canvas, under assignments, “attendance, participation, and exit tickets” before leaving the classroom. Students can use their phone or their laptops to upload a picture of the task.

Daily attendance, participation, and exit tickets are graded on a scale of 1 to 10 (with a few exceptions), and posted on Canvas after every class. In case of an absence, notify me beforehand. Your participation grade for that day will be a '0,' but the lowest 2 grades will be dropped, allowing you to miss a couple of classes without impacting your grade.

You're responsible for classwork, homework, and any announcements made in your absence. Points will be deducted for tardiness, and for not actively participating or being unprepared during activities.

- To get a full participation score, you need to:
 - Be in class on time
 - Attendance and participation points will be deducted for tardiness as follows:
 - Arrival during the first 5 min of class = 1 pt.
 - Arrival during the first 10 min of class = 2 pts.
 - Arrival during the first 20 min of class = 4 pts.
 - Arrival during the first 30 min of class = 6 pts.
 - Arrival during the first 40 min of class = 8 pts.
 - If you arrive more than 40 minutes late, you will receive a “0” for that day’s participation.
 - Be fully prepared for class activities, and participate actively in class and group activities. The homework due before class will help prepare you for class activities. Attendance and participation points will be deducted for participation as follows:
 - Not actively participating in every class activity = 2 pt.
 - Being unable to participate in an activity because of lack of preparation for class, such as not having watched the video being discussed in class = 4 pts.
 - Speaking in English during pair work or class

- Exit tickets:
 - Exit tickets are not quizzes but opportunities to showcase your preparation at home and your understanding of the material. You are encouraged to seek your classmates or your instructor's help if you are struggling with the task of the exit ticket; feel free to check your answers with your classmates and instructor before turning them in. Exit tickets are opportunities for you and your instructor to make sure you understand the material before moving on. Turn your exit ticket in on Canvas before leaving class.
 - When students inform the instructor about missing class in advance, they are encouraged to drop by during office hours to take the exit ticket. Their attendance grade for the class they missed will be excused in this case.
- In some specific cases, students may consult with the instructor to have their attendance grade excused for the entirety of the semester. In this case, the rest of the grade components will carry more weight. Please note that prior approval of the instructor is required, and this option remains at the discretion of the instructor.

Bi-Weekly conversations (5%)

- Since we will be meeting only twice a week, I would like you to have an opportunity to practice Arabic a third time every other week. Bi-Weekly conversations will be your opportunity to do so.
- Record a 20-minute conversation via Zoom. Unless there is a specific reason, please have your cameras on. First, it is much easier for your classmate to converse with someone they are seeing. Also, this will allow the grader to grade the conversation since she will not be able to recognize your voice. If there is a reason to turn cameras off, don't hesitate to do so.
- I will usually assign a prompt (on the schedule) that you will need to start with; don't limit yourself to it. Just start with it and go wherever the conversation takes you.
- Share a link of your recorded conversation on canvas
- To get a grade of 10 out of 10 on this, you must:
 - Speak exclusively in Arabic. Here is a helpful quizlet.
 - Participate in conversation (students allowing their partner to do most of the talking while they answer in very short sentences will not receive a full score.)
 - Maintain a conversation for 20 minutes.
- At first, you might struggle to maintain a conversation for that long. You will get used to it soon, and most importantly, this exercise will contribute to building your fluency.

Vocabulary and formulaic expressions quizzes (5%)

- You will be meeting with the tutor bi-weekly or depending the schedule to take quiz 8-10 minute vocabulary or formulaic expressions quizzes. Details and dates will be posted on the schedule.

Homework Assignments (20%)

- New material will not be presented in class; rather, you will prepare for it at home. Class time is reserved for the activation and practice of what you have studied and prepared at home. Expect to spend an average of two hours learning new material, reviewing, and writing homework at home for each class session. Homework assignments must be submitted on Canvas before class, and late homework assignments will not be accepted unless you have received approval from the instructor prior to the assignment's due date.

- Homework will be submitted on canvas. Click on assignments, then Click "show by type" on the top right, then "homework assignments" and scroll the right homework number. You will find the homework number on the schedule available on canvas, under "modules," schedule. Please note that whenever the assignment is a file upload, only pdfs are allowed.
- Homework assignments will be graded on a scale from 1 to 10. You will be graded on the overall quality of your work, and on the effort you put into the homework and not on the number of correct answers. It is important to note that this is not a simple completion grade; rather you are required to put effort and review the necessary material to do a good job on the homework.
- The lowest two homework grades will be dropped.
- Check canvas daily to see any comments your instructor or the grader might have left. A grade of 9.9 means that your homework is very well done, and there is a comment you need to check. A 0.1 deduction will not impact your grade significantly, and is meant merely to draw your attention to go to Canvas to listen to feedback or read any comments.
- It is your responsibility to check that the grade you receive is fair. Whenever you receive a grade that is less than 9.9, you must know why. The grader is encouraged to write to let you know why you have less than a perfect score. If any grade does not make sense, please write in the comments on canvas to inquire. If the grade still does not seem fair to you, please let your instructor know.
- For fill-in-the-blank exercises, please write out the full sentences making sure to underline the fill-in-the-blank word. You will not receive credit if you only write the word.

Graded conversations with language partner (10%)

Twice during the semester, you will be asked to upload your 20-minute conversation with your language partner for a grade. The daily schedule will specify which weeks' conversation is graded for fluency and accuracy. You will be given personalized audio feedback regarding your language and the areas you need to focus on in upcoming conversations. You are encouraged to write down notes from the instructor's feedback, review them before every subsequent non-graded conversation in order to focus on aspects that need improvement. Making the same mistakes in the next graded conversation will result in major loss of points.

Graded conversations with instructor (10%)

We will have a 15-minute graded conversation with the instructor, which will take place towards the end of the semester.

Quizzes (15%)

You will have several short vocab and grammar quizzes covering the material learned throughout the course. Dates for quizzes will be announced at least one week in advance.

Final project (10%)

In place of a final exam, students will submit a final project in which they will assume the role of travel consultants offering customizable tours. For this project, students will create two five-day tour itineraries to a destination in the Arab world. One itinerary should represent a dream trip without budgetary constraints, while the other should be more realistic, reflecting the financial capabilities of the target clients.

The final project is due on Canvas by midnight on Thursday, December 12. Detailed guidelines will be shared on Canvas.

Extra credit

Several opportunities for extra credit will be available throughout the semester. To earn extra credit, students must attend an event related to the Arab world and write a cultural report in English about it. The event must be pre-approved by the instructor and announced to the class, so everyone has an opportunity to attend. Guidelines are on canvas and students must answer specific questions. The deadline to submit the report and receive extra credit is a week after the event.

Course Policies

Language

Please use only Arabic from the moment you enter class. English may be used on occasion to explain some grammatical concepts, during translation exercises, or for a quick translation of a word. In all other instances, only Arabic should be used in class.

If you think you need to use English, ask for permission first. English may be used, however, during office hours and via email correspondence. Class participation points will be deducted for speaking English in class. This is a chance to practice, so take full advantage!

Late Work

Late homework assignments will not be accepted unless you received an approval from the instructor prior to the assignment's due date; however, The lowest two homework grades will be dropped automatically on Canvas.

Academic Integrity

I expect you to submit your own work and participate in all aspects of the course with integrity and academic honesty. Do your own work. It is against the policy of this course to use an answer key or any translation platform or resource, to enlist the help of a fluent Arabic speaker or to have your work checked by anyone other than your instructors before submitting it. Failure to follow this policy on any assignment will result in a grade of zero for that assignment.

Working on the homework with other classmates is encouraged, but each student must submit to the instructor his or her own answers.

To learn more, check UNT's Academic Integrity Policy.

Grading Concerns

I encourage you to reach out to your instructor as soon as possible if you have any questions about grades or if you feel that the grade is not accurate or fair. It is extremely important that you understand the rubric and the reasoning for your grades.

Attendance Policy

I look forward to you being in class on time and well-prepared. Regular attendance is crucial to keeping up with the pace of the class and your overall success. Daily attendance, participation and exit tickets are graded on a scale of 1 to 5, and will be posted on Canvas after every class.

In case of an absence, please inform me before, not after, the class you will be missing. The participation grade for that day will be a "0," but the lowest two grades will be automatically dropped on canvas allowing you to miss two classes without impacting your grade.

You are responsible for any class work, homework, and for any announcements made in your absence.

Homework

Assigned homework will be posted on Canvas and, unless otherwise noted, must be submitted before the beginning of the following class session.

Class Conduct

Please keep your cell phones in silent mode, in your bags, and out of sight during class time.

Lastly, please be respectful of the instructor and your classmates at all times. Behavior that is disruptive or disrespectful in any manner will not be tolerated. We are all here to learn, so please do not inhibit the learning process for yourself, your classmates, or the instructor.

UNT Policies

Academic Integrity Policy

Academic Integrity Standards and Consequences. According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

Course Evaluation

Student Perceptions of Teaching (SPOT) is the student evaluation system for UNT and allows students the ability to confidentially provide constructive feedback to their instructor and department to improve the quality of student experiences in the course.

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 [insert administration dates] of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website (http://spot.unt.edu/) or email spot@unt.edu.

ODA Statement

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website at <https://studentaffairs.unt.edu/office-disability-access>. You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

All records such as exams, answer sheets (with keys), and written papers submitted during the duration of the course are kept for at least one calendar year after course completion. Course work completed via the Canvas online system, including grading information and comments, is also stored in a safe electronic environment for one year. Students have the right to view their individual record; however, information about student's records will not be divulged to other individuals without proper written consent. Students are encouraged to review the Public Information Policy and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws and the University's policy. See UNT Policy 10.10, Records Management and Retention for additional information.

Acceptable Student Behavior

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. Visit UNT's Code of Student Conduct (<https://deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct>) to learn more.
