

Special Problems: Advanced Topics in Arabic: Media Arabic Fall 2019

Course Description

This course is designed for students who have had at least four semesters of Arabic instruction. It explores the Arabic language used when covering media stories. The focus will be on stories relating to military operations, terrorism, and regional security. This is in order to build vocabulary pertinent to, and useful in the realm of current events and the security field, with a specific interest taken in news coverage of the Syrian/Iraqi war with the Islamic State, political strife in Lebanon, and the Saudi war in Yemen. Throughout the semester, the student is expected to work on a lengthy research project and on building the required vocabulary to be able to discuss the researched topic.

Vocabulary lists (20%)

- Throughout the semester, the student will be compiling a vocabulary list on google doc where new words or expressions are added throughout the semester. A list of a minimum of 12 words must be emailed to the instructor bi-weekly by Saturday at 8 pm. Please email your first list by the third Friday of the semester.
- Vocabulary lists must include words or expressions that are important to know for your research paper or that you came across in your readings.
 - o For nouns, please provide singular and plural forms.
 - o For verbs, please list past, the present and gerund (MaSdar) forms and the preposition when necessary. Pay attention to MaSdar patterns as you will need to list the verb in the past and the present along with the MaSdar.

- You are expected to study and use the words and expressions compiled in your vocabulary list ; they will be included in the quizzes.
- Two vocabulary quizzes will take place during the semester. The first quiz is during week 8 and the second one is during week 12.

Presentation (10%)

- After the paper is written and submitted (during week 12), the student is expected to deliver an 8 to 10 minute presentation about their research paper. It is expected that the student uses a majority of the vocabulary learned throughout the semester (from their personal vocabulary list) in the presentation.

Research paper (50%)

- The research paper is approximately 2000 words long and will explore a news story from the headlines; providing an overview of the background of the incident and what its ramifications may be for the United States. It will require research and a bibliography.
- It is not a one-step process; rather, it will be based on several drafts which will be edited and polished up until the submission of the final version due on December 11th. The student is expected to email the instructor three progressive writing drafts throughout the semester that show the student's research and progress in writing.

Disability Accommodation

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class.

Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student.

For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

Acceptable Student Behavior

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at https://policy.unt.edu/sites/default/files/07.012_CodeOfStudConduct.Final8_19.pdf

Sexual Discrimination, Harassment, & Assault

UNT is committed to providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences any of these acts of aggression, please know that you are not alone. The federal Title IX law makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses. UNT has staff members trained to support you in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more.

UNT's Dean of Students' website offers a range of on-campus and off-campus resources to help support survivors, depending on their unique needs:
<http://deanofstudents.unt.edu/resources>.

The UNT Survivor Advocates can be reached by emailing SurvivorAdvocate@unt.edu or calling 940-565-2648. The UNT Survivor Advocates connect students who have been impacted by violence to resources (counseling, health, safety, academics, legal, etc.), and act as their advocate. They can assist a student by filing protective orders, completing crime victim's compensation applications, contacting professors for absences related to an assault, working with housing to facilitate a room change (if needed), and connecting students to the many other resources that are available, both on and off campus. They are here to help! For more information see <https://deanofstudents.unt.edu/sexual-misconduct/reporting-sexual-misconduct>
