

Donald Keith Mitchener
1401 Glenhill Lane
Lewisville, TX 75077
E-mail: donald.mitchener@unt.edu

Education

December 2006	Ph.D. American History, University of North Texas
May 2000	M.A. European History, University of North Texas
May 1991	B.A. History, Mississippi State University

Honors

1998	Elected to Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society
1997	Selected for membership in Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society
Fall 1987 - Spring 1988	Selected as a Student Associate of the Mississippi State University Center for International and Strategic Studies

Dissertation

Mitchener, Donald K. (2006)	“The American Doctrine for the Use of Naval Gunfire in Support of Amphibious Landings: Myth vs. Reality in the Central Pacific of World War II”
-----------------------------	---

Scholarly Publications

Published Works:

Books:

U.S. Naval Gunfire Support in the Pacific War: A Study of the Development and Application of Doctrine. Lexington, KY: University Press of Kentucky, Andarta Books, 2021.

Journal Articles:

“The Maestro of Naval Gunfire Support Planning: Admiral Richard L. Conolly and Naval Gunfire Support at Guam,” Global War Studies 10 no. 3, 2013, 47-67.

“Divided Loyalties: Reactions of Mississippians to Franklin D. Roosevelt’s Supreme Court Reform Proposal.” The Journal of Mississippi History. Vol. LXVII, No. 2 (Summer 2005): 135-158.

Book Chapters:

An extended version of “Naval Gunfire at Iwo Jima – The Perils of Doctrinal Myopia.” In The Sea in the Second World War: Maritime Aspects of a Global Conflict, edited by Marcus Faulkner and Alessio Patalano. Lexington, KY: University Press of Kentucky, Andarta Books, 2019.

Encyclopedia Articles:

“Warfare, Amphibious” in The Encyclopedia of Military Science. Thousand Oaks, CA: SAGE Publications, 2013.

“United States Marine Corps;” “Office of Naval Intelligence;” “Fleet Intelligence Centers;” in Glenn P. Hastedt, ed. Spies, Wiretaps, and Secret Operations An Encyclopedia of American Espionage. Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO/Greenwood, 2010.

Accepted for Publication:

“Naval Gunfire at Iwo Jima – The Perils of Doctrinal Myopia”

“Trial by Battle: Roi-Namur and the Naval Gunfire Support ‘Lessons of Tarawa’”

“Preliminary Naval Gunfire and Artillery Support at Tinian: An Analysis and Comparison”

Each will appear in upcoming issues of Global War Studies

Scholarly Book Reviews

Ian W. Toll’s Pacific Crucible: War at Sea in the Pacific, 1941-1942 for Global War Studies.

David J. Ulbrich’s Preparing for Victory: Thomas Holcomb and the Making of the Modern Marine Corps, 1936-1943 for Global War Studies.

John Prados’s Islands of Destiny: The Solomon Islands Campaign and the Eclipse of the Rising Sun for Global War Studies.

John A. Adams, Jr.’s The Fightin’ Texas Aggie Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor for Great Plains Quarterly.

Will Iredale’s Kamikaze Hunters: Fighting for the Pacific, 1945 for Global War Studies.

Miscellaneous Scholarly Activities

Conference Steering Committee

Normandy 75: An International Conference

22-25 July 2019

University of Portsmouth, U.K.

Conference Steering Committee

The Asia-Pacific War, 1931-1945: An International Conference

9-11 July 2015

Australian National University

Canberra, Australia

Conference Steering Committee

1944: Seventy Years On

14-17 April 2014

Royal Military Academy Sandhurst

I chaired sessions on Bombing, Air Defense, Air Command and Control and NEPTUNE, Admiralty, and Maritime Power at Normandy 75: An International Conference, 22-25 July 2019, University of Portsmouth, U.K.

I chaired various sessions at The Asia-Pacific War, 1931-1945: An International Conference, 9-11 July 2015, Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.

I chaired sessions on The British Empire at War, Strategic Choices and Decision Making in the Western Pacific, The Island War in the Pacific, Burma, and Memory and Legacy at the 1944: Seventy Years On conference held 14-17 April 2014 at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst, Surrey, England, United Kingdom.

I chaired the session on Cities, Littoral, and Hinterland at the Naval and Maritime Power in Two World Wars: Contemporary Relevance and Historical Importance conference held 11-12 April 2014 at the University of Greenwich, Old Royal Naval College, Greenwich, England, United Kingdom.

I chaired the session on Topics in Russian History at the North Central-Northeast Texas Annual Regional Conference of Phi Alpha Theta on April 4, 2009.

I reviewed the fifth edition of volume II of World Civilizations by Philip J. Adler and Randall L. Pouwels for Wadsworth / Cengage Learning.

I developed support materials for volume II of the sixth edition of World Civilizations by Philip J. Adler and Randall L. Pouwels for Wadsworth / Cengage Learning.

I have served on the committees of several masters and doctoral students.

Papers Presented

“Preliminary Naval Gunfire Support in Operation NEPTUNE: 6 June 1944”

Normandy 75: An International Conference

22-25 July 2019

University of Portsmouth

Portsmouth, England, United Kingdom

“Preliminary Naval Gunfire and Artillery Support at Tinian: An Analysis and Comparison”

The Asia-Pacific War, 1931-1945: An International Conference

9-11 July 2015

Australian National University

Canberra, Australia

“Trial by Battle: Roi-Namur and the Naval Gunfire Support ‘Lessons of Tarawa’”

1944: Seventy Years On

14-17 April 2014

Royal Military Academy Sandhurst

Surrey, England, United Kingdom

“The Maestro of Naval Gunfire Support Planning: Richard L. Conolly and Naval Gunfire Support at Guam”

Naval and Maritime Power in Two World Wars: Contemporary Relevance and Historical Importance

11-12 April 2014

University of Greenwich, Old Royal Naval College

Greenwich, England, United Kingdom

“Naval Gunfire at Iwo Jima – The Perils of Doctrinal Myopia”

Global-Regional Nexus: The Sea and the Second World War

3-5 May 2012

King’s College London

London, England, United Kingdom

“Naval Gunfire Preparation at Iwo Jima: An Example of Failed Joint Operations”
Fifth Regional IS/IS (International Security/Internal Safety) Conference
1-2 April 2011
Mississippi State University
Mississippi State, Mississippi

“The Price of Following Doctrine: The Application of American Naval Gunfire Doctrine in the Battle for Tarawa Atoll”
Northeast Texas Regional Convention of Phi Alpha Theta
14 April 2007
Tarleton State University
Stephenville, TX
Awarded Honor as Outstanding Graduate Paper Presentation

Miscellaneous Professional and Community Service Presentations

“John Paul Jones, David Farragut, and Ernest J. King: Three Makers of U.S. Naval Tradition”
21 January 2021
Presentation to the Dallas Council of The Navy League of the United States
Dallas, TX

“An Address in Commemoration of the 75th Anniversary of the D-Day Landings on 6 June 1944”
6 June 2019
Davis Public Library
Plano, TX

“The Attack on Pearl Harbor: the Japanese Background”
6 December 2018
Presentation to the Dallas Council of The Navy League of the United States
McKinney, TX

“The United States Coast Guard”
24 August 2018
Presentation to the Dallas Council of The Navy League of the United States
Dallas, TX

“The Battle of Midway”
21 June 2018
Presentation to the Dallas Council of The Navy League of the United States
Plano, TX

“The Doolittle Raid”
19 April 2018
Presentation to the Dallas Council of The Navy League of the United States
Addison, TX

“The Battle for Guadalcanal”

14 November 2017

Presentation at the Allen Public Library
Allen, TX

“The Battles of Coral Sea and Midway”

11 July 2017

Presentation at the Allen Public Library
Allen, TX

“The Origins of the Marine Raiders during World War II”

20 September 2014

Admiral Nimitz Foundation Symposium, In Stealth We Trust: Special Forces and Their Origins
Fredericksburg, TX

“Remembering D-Day: 6 June 1944”

11 June 2014

Presentation to the Richardson East Rotary Club
Richardson, TX

“War in the Pacific”

10 November 2012

Presentation to the Christian Military Fellowship at Brandon Baptist Church
Brandon, MS

Teaching Experience

Fall 2007 – present

Lecturer

University of North Texas

I have taught Regular and Honors American History Survey courses to classes of 20 to 200 students, World Civilization courses to classes of 40 to 125 students, and upper-level courses in the History of the United States Navy, Maritime History during the Age of Sail, the Rise of English Sea Power during the Tudor and Stuart periods, World War II in Asia and the Pacific, the Renaissance, the Age of the Reformation, and Tudor England to classes of 30-48 students.

Summer 2007

Instructor

University of North Texas

Teaching American Military History Grant

I taught a seminar in the history of US involvement in the Cold War, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War to high school history teachers. The objective was to provide secondary teachers with substantive information concerning the military history of the United States.

Spring 2007

Adjunct Instructor

University of North Texas

I taught American History Survey courses to classes of 40 to 130 students.

Fall 2000 – Fall 2006

Teaching Fellow

University of North Texas

I taught American History Survey courses to classes of 40 to 125 students and World Civilization Survey courses to classes of 40 to 50 students.

Fall 2004 – Fall 2007 and Fall 2009

Adjunct Faculty Instructor, History

North Central Texas College

Corinth, TX

I taught American History Survey courses to classes of 15 to 50 students.

Fall 2003 - Spring 2004

Associate Faculty Instructor, History

Collin County Community College District

Frisco, TX

I taught American History Survey courses to classes of 30 to 40 students.

Classes Developed and Taught

“U.S. Navy, 1775-2007: Sails, Steam, and Steel”

This is an upper-level course consisting of an overview of the history of the United States Navy from its origins during the Colonial Period to its support of Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom as well as a study of the place of the U.S. Navy in American society. Fundamental military concepts are stressed and the differences between land and sea warfare are explored and explained.

“Maritime History during the Age of Sail, 1588-1838”

The open oceans of this planet were the great common areas around which Europeans and their social/cultural progeny created what they proclaimed to be the “modern world.” At the heart of this creation lay the European-dominated economic system that depended upon access to and reasonably unfettered use of the sea. This upper-level course looks at the development of that system during the period known as the “Age of Sail.” Course topics include the maritime aspects of European exploration of the world, the development of ships and navigational technology, naval developments, general maritime economic theory, and maritime cultural history.

“The Rise of English Sea Power, 1399-1714”

This upper-level course is designed to teach students about the most important aspects of the early modern history of the Navy Royal/Royal Navy. Topics will include the administrative and technological development of the English navy during the reigns of the Tudor and Stuart monarchs, its use by those monarchs in the rise to power of the English state from 1399 until 1714, and the influence of both the navy and the sea upon English culture and society during the period under study.

“World War II in Asia and the Pacific”

This upper-level course covers World War II in Asia, the Pacific Ocean Areas, and the Southwest Pacific. The emphasis is on the operational aspects of the war in the three theaters as well as the intellectual underpinnings of American naval and military strategy. The course looks at the war from the perspectives of both the Americans and the Japanese and includes pertinent information concerning the Chinese and British as well.

“The Renaissance”

This upper-level course covers European political, social, intellectual, and cultural history ca. 1300-1600. A number of themes will be explored in an effort to give the student as complete a portrait as is possible in the time allotted of this very important period in the development of what would become the most dominant region of the world by the eighteenth century. It was during these years that Europe transitioned from the Middle Ages to the Modern era. It was the time of artists such as Masaccio, Da Vinci, Raphael, and Michelangelo; writers such as Petrarch, Machiavelli, More, and Montaigne; composers such as Machaut, Dufay, Josquin, and Byrd; and rulers such as Ferdinand and Isabella, Francis I, Charles V, and Henry VIII. It is hoped that the student will come away from this class with a better understanding of what the early humanists meant when they pronounced their time to be "modern" relative to the years that came immediately before their own.

“The Age of the Reformation”

This upper-level course covers European political, social, intellectual, and cultural history ca. 1517-1648. These were the years of the Lutheran, Calvinist, and English Reformations, the Catholic Reformation and Counter-Reformation, and the Wars of Religion. Out of these various conflicts - religious, political, and cultural - emerged a transformed Europe. The ideas that began to develop during the Renaissance gave birth to that which the early humanists called the "modern," but not in the way that many of them envisioned at the time. Upon this political and cultural foundation would be built absolutism, the Enlightenment, and everything else that we have come to know as "Europe." It is hoped that this course will provide the student with a better understanding of this important and formative period of Western Civilization.

“Tudor England”

This upper-level course covers English/British history ca. 1399-1603. Topics include the political, intellectual, and cultural histories of the period as well as important military and naval developments.

Other Administrative Experience and Credentials

August 2017

I was named an Associate Editor of Global War Studies

September 2014

I was named to the Editorial Revising and Review Board for Global War Studies.

Fall 2013

I was named as a UNT faculty fellow of the University of North Texas Military History Center.

Spring 2010 – Summer 2011

I participated in the Texas College and Career Readiness Initiative Social Studies and Science Collaborative Program as UNT History faculty representative.

Spring 2010

I served on U.S. History Textbook Selection Committee, UNT Department of History.

2009-present

I was named one of the UNT Department of History Undergraduate Advisors

Spring 2007

I participated in training for teaching online courses at North Central Texas College.

Fall 2005 – Summer 2006

I worked as a graduate assistant helping to develop content for H-Net Teaching American Military History website. This website was targeted at secondary school teachers and students. I was Webmaster of the site June-July 2006.

Fall 2004

I served as the graduate student representative on the Major General Olinto Mark Barsanti Military History Chair selection committee.

2001-2002

I served as President of Phi Alpha Theta, Alpha Lambda Chapter, University of North Texas

Thesis

Mitchener, Donald K. (2000)                      “The Reformation-era Church Courts of England: A Study of the Ecclesiastical Court Acta of the Archidiaconal and Consistory Court of Chester, England, 1540-42”

Special Research Skills

German

Latin

Latin Paleography

Research Interests

United States Maritime History, 18th century to present

History of the United States Navy and Marine Corps

History of the Royal Navy

World Maritime Affairs

The Development of United States Amphibious Warfare Doctrine

Teaching Interests

American Maritime and Naval History

World War II

American Military, the Revolution to the Present

United States Political and Diplomatic History, emphasis after 1880

English/British Maritime and Naval History

Tudor England

European History from the Fourteenth to the Sixteenth Centuries