Required Books:

TEXT: Murrin, et al. Liberty, Equality, Power: A History of the American People, Compact 5th ed., Vol. II.
READER: Lowe, Richard, ed. American Legacies: Readings in United States History, Vol. II.

Purpose of Course:

To provide the student with an understanding of the political, economic, and social development of the United States since the end of the Civil War. It is hoped that each student also will learn to apply this knowledge in the making of contemporary political, economic, and social decisions.

Course Requirements and Grading Policies:

There will be three major exams and a final. All will be graded on a strict 100-point scale. The final will NOT be comprehensive.

The grades will be assigned as follows:

A = 90 - 100 points
B = 80 - 89 points
C = 70 - 79 points
D = 60 - 69 points
F = 59 and below

Tentative Calendar (Subject to Change)

The major exam schedule is as follows:

Major Exam 1	Friday, February 11
Major Exam 2	Wednesday, March 9
Major Exam 3	Monday, April 11
Final	Monday, May 9 (1:30 pm – 3:30 pm)

No extra credit work will be assigned or accepted.

Students will take four (4) tests. The numerical grades for these tests will be added together and divided by the number of tests (which is 4).

There will be an up-to-15-pt. extra-credit question on the final.

Structure of Major Exams:

Major exams will consist of one (1) 30-point essay question, two (2) 15-point short answer questions, and twenty (20) 2-point fill-in-the-blank sentences. Students will be given a review sheet at least one week before each major exam that contains questions and terms from which those on the exam will be chosen. It is expected that each student will use the review sheet to prepare for the test. Student essays are expected to be responsive to the questions asked, coherently constructed, and grammatically sound. The most important objective when answering essay questions should be the demonstration on paper of what the student knows about the subject being addressed. Exam essays will be graded with these criteria in mind.

Punctuality and attendance:

Students are expected to be on time for all class meetings and examinations. Attendance will be taken at each class meeting. Attendance will be used, at the instructor's discretion, to determine whether or not the student receives the instructor's "benefit of the doubt" when grades are assigned at the end of the semester.

Office Hours:

Tuesdays and Thursdays 9 am – 1 pm

Contacting Your Instructor:

It is best to contact your instructor via email. I am not in my office outside of office hours very often, but I check my email regularly. I will get back with you as soon as possible.

Information Concerning Grades:

FERPA rules require that information concerning grades be communicated directly to students by the instructor. This means that I cannot communicate information concerning a student's grades via email or telephone. The instructor and student must meet face-to-face.

Handout and Test Return Policy:

Those students missing class when instructional items and graded tests are distributed can pick up missed materials and graded tests during office hours.

Class Notes:

Unless special circumstances require it, the instructor will not furnish class notes or copies of the presentations to students. If you miss a lecture, get the notes from one of your fellow students in the class.

Student Behavior:

Students are expected to act like responsible adults in class. This means no talking or engaging in any other disruptive activity once class has begun. Students may speak when called upon by the instructor or, within reason, when reacting to something done or said by the instructor. Students who fail to comply with this standard of behavior will receive a warning. If a second warning proves necessary, then the offending student/students will be told to leave the classroom.

Persons who are late getting to class on the day of a test or on the day of the final will not be allowed to take the test/final if they arrive after any students have completed and handed in their tests. Know what day your tests are being given and get to class on time.

If you leave class while a test is being administered with your books or any other materials in your possession, your test will be taken and graded based upon what you have completed.

Cell Phones:

Cell phones will be turned completely off. If a student needs to have the cell phone on vibrate for some reason, he or she must see the instructor before class for permission.

During tests, cell phones must be put away so that they are not visible to the student. No text messaging allowed. Sending or receiving text messages during an exam will be considered prima facie evidence of cheating and will be handled according to the policy stated in this syllabus.

Use of Computers in Class:

Students may use computers to take notes in class. However....

While the instructor understands the popularity and convenience of laptops for this purpose, he also knows that far too often students use their computers to play games and surf the Internet. The misuse of a computer during class in this manner not only harms the student engaged in the activity, but it also is a distraction to others around the student who might actually be in class for the purpose of taking notes in preparation for the tests. To protect the studios, students who misuse their computers in this way will, when caught, be told to shut off their computer.

Make-up Policy for Major Exams

A student missing one of the first three scheduled exams must make up the exam within one week (Example: an exam administered on a Monday must be made-up before the start of class the following Monday). A make-up exam will be placed in the History Help Center for students who meet with the instructor and arrange to take the make-up. Make-up exams will not be automatically placed in the Help Center nor will they be placed in the Help Center as the result of an emailed request. It is the student's responsibility to make sure that a missed exam is made up within the specified one-week period. Unless other arrangements are made with the instructor, and at the discretion of the instructor, all students who do not make up a test within the one-week make-up period will receive a "0" ["zero"] for that exam. THE MAKE-UP EXAM IS ONE ESSAY QUESTION FOR 100 POINTS. The instructor's advice is that the student should not miss the exam in the first place.

This is a MAKE-UP EXAM, not a retest. Once you have taken a test, you cannot take it again in order to try to make a better grade.

The Final is the Final. There are no make-ups for the final. Know what day and time the final is being given and make sure you get to class on the correct day and at the correct time.

Disability Accommodation (ADA):

The University of North Texas is committed to full academic access for all qualified students, including those with disabilities. In keeping with this commitment and in order to facilitate equality of educational access, faculty members in the Department History will make reasonable accommodations for qualified students with a disability, such as appropriate adjustments to the classroom environment and the teaching, testing, or learning methodologies when doing so does not fundamentally alter the course. The ODA liaison for the Department of History is Dr. Pomerleau (Wooten Hall Room 234; phone 940-565-4214).

If you have a disability, it is your responsibility to obtain verifying information from the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) and to inform the instructor of your need for an accommodation. Requests for accommodation must be given to the instructor no later than the first week of classes for students registered with the ODA as of the beginning of the current semester. If you register with the ODA after the first week of classes, your accommodation requests will be considered after this deadline.

Grades assigned before an accommodation is provided will not be changed. Information about how to obtain academic accommodations can be found in UNT Policy 18.1.14, at www.unt.edu/oda, and by visiting the ODA in Room 321 of the University Union. You also may call the ODA at 940-565-4323.

Academic Ethics (Cheating and Plagiarism):

Students will be held accountable for acts of cheating, dishonesty, or plagiarism as defined in the student handbook. This includes, by the way, the use of cell phones to text answers to one another during an exam. Any student found to be engaging in any form of dishonest conduct during the taking of an exam will be expelled from that particular class period and will receive a "0" ["zero"] for that exam.

History Help Center:

Located in Wooten Hall, Room 220, the History Help Center provides assistance to students enrolled in history courses at UNT.

The Instructor reserves the right to make changes to any and all of the forgoing descriptions, instructions and/or information at his discretion.
