Course Description: Every organization in both the public and private sector is in varying degrees dependent on materials and services supplied by other organizations. No organization is self-sufficient. Purchasing and supply management is, therefore, one of the key business processes in every organization. This course is designed to provide an introduction to the field of purchasing and supply management. It covers topics such as how supply is organized within organizations, the standard acquisition process, purchasing-related information systems, cost management tools, negotiation strategies, supplier selection, metrics, purchasing capital goods, purchasing services, outsourcing, buyer-supplier relationships, and purchasing strategies.

Course Objectives: The main goal of the course is to provide students in business administration and other relevant disciplines an in-depth understanding of the key activities involved in buying and utilizing materials as well as their impact on an organization’s performance. The secondary objective is to develop the students’ skills in communication, teamwork, and critical thinking through classroom discussions and group projects.

Teaching Methodology: The material is primarily presented in a case-based discussion format with dialogue encouraged on the issues. Student preparation of assigned readings and homework prior to class is essential for full participation, comprehension and participation.

Required Class Materials: In order to fully participate in this class, students will need access to a computer with a webcam and microphone and access to Zoom, Microsoft Teams, and Microsoft Office products.

Supplemental Materials: Class case studies and relevant articles will be posted throughout the semester.

Readiness Assessment Tests

In team-based learning, the basic mechanism to ensure that students are exposed to course content is the Readiness Assurance Process. The Readiness Assurance Process has five major components as follows:

1. Reading Assignment – Complete the assigned readings and come to class prepared to take a test covering the conceptual material (not the quantitative material) you have just read.
2. Individual Tests – The Readiness Assessment Test (RAT) will be given at the beginning of class and will typically consist of short true-false or multiple-choice questions. RATs are closed book tests. There will be no make-up RATs. However, you will be allowed to drop your lowest two individual RAT scores. If you are caught cheating on these individual tests, you will receive a failing grade for the class.
3. Team Tests – When students have finished taking the individual RAT, they turn in their answers and immediately proceed to retake the same test, but this time as a team. Team RATs are also closed book tests. The discussion required to choose a team answer both serves as an excellent review of the readings and provides the opportunity for peer teaching. The team tests are completed and scored using special Google-docs forms which provide concrete and immediate feedback on both individual and team scores. At this point, the instructor (or a group member) usually also posts their team scores on the board; however, individual scores remain anonymous. Public posting of the team scores allows students to monitor their performance by making comparisons between their scores and those of their peers.
4. Appeals Process – This phase of the process gives students the opportunity to refer to their assigned reading material to appeal any questions that were missed on the team test. The students must produce compelling evidence (in writing) to convince the instructor to award credit for the answers they missed on the team test.
5. Instructor Feedback – This feedback comes after the appeals process and allows the instructor to clear up any confusion students may have about any of the concepts presented in the readings.
Attendance/Participation

Class meetings are primarily lecture, team work and group discussion. An upper-level undergraduate course should be a forum where ideas are freely exchanged. The course material will be augmented for certain lessons with handouts and videos which will be discussed in class and which are considered testable material.

I hold you responsible for all material covered during class, including changes to the syllabus, course schedule, and course materials. If you cannot attend the scheduled class time, due to a valid excused absence, be sure consult with your team members to catch up on the information you missed.

Class attendance is mandatory; and I will call on students and teams by name to answer questions, discuss assignments, and to comment on key concepts. Missing these opportunities may result in a reduction in your final grade (see class participation under Grading). Class participation and attendance cannot be made up without a valid medical excuse, an absence approved by the Dean of Students, or bona fide family emergency.

What do I mean by participation?

- Attending class on a regular basis - (Students will receive a 10 percent reduction in participation points for every unexcused absence)
- Raising and answering questions
- Reading the assigned material prior to class
- Sharing ideas, observations, and personal experiences
- Pointing out relevant data
- Generating potential solutions
- Relating to and synthesizing the ideas of others
- Pointing out relationships to earlier discussions
- Helping others develop their views and ideas
- Not distracting others who are trying to listen or learn

Class participation will affect the case grades and your final grade. Points will be based on preparation for class, quality of class input, organization, and conciseness. Half of the points in this area will be based on attendance and half will be based on actual participation. If you do not actively participate, you will not receive any points for this grading element. Please get involved, share your experiences and ideas, and ask questions of the instructor and your classmates. Remember, if you don’t understand, it’s likely that others don’t either.

Students are expected to attend class meetings regularly and to abide by the attendance policy established for the course. It is important that you communicate with the professor and the instructional team prior to being absent, so you, the professor, and the instructional team can discuss and mitigate the impact of the absence on your attainment of course learning goals. Please inform the professor and instructional team if you are unable to attend class meetings because you are ill, in mindfulness of the health and safety of everyone in our community.
If you are experiencing any symptoms of COVID-19 please seek medical attention from the Student Health and Wellness Center (940-565-2333 or askSHWC@unt.edu) or your health care provider PRIOR to coming to campus. UNT also requires you to contact the UNT COVID Team at COVID@unt.edu for guidance on actions to take due to symptoms, pending or positive test results, or potential exposure.

Exams

The midterm exam will be given during the class session indicated. Exams are cumulative in nature. The final exam is comprehensive and will be scheduled by the registrar during finals week. The exams will be case-based and comprised of short answer or essay questions. No make-up exams will be given for unexcused absences.

Team Case Analysis

Teams will be asked to present their analysis of the cases as part of in-class exercises/discussions, case write-ups, and through video presentations. In all of these instances, the team’s role will be to present the facts of the case, identify the major issues and problems, generate and evaluate alternative solutions, recommend and justify a solution, and suggest an implementation strategy where appropriate. Everyone in the class should read and analyze each case. It is recommended that every person in each team take an active role in their team’s case analysis; otherwise, each team may organize as it desires to maximize its effectiveness.

Team Member Evaluation

Much like the business world where organizations no longer compete against other organizations, but supply chains compete against supply chains, the assignments associated with this class are mainly team-based. However, organizations routinely evaluate members of their supply chains and weed out those who are not adding value or those who are adding too much cost. Therefore, to introduce some element of individual responsibility, at the end of the class, team members will have the opportunity to evaluate their peers. These scores will then be used to calculate this portion of the individual student’s grade.

Final grades will be distributed according to the following cutoffs. The student will be awarded at least the indicated letter grade if he/she achieves the cutoff percent or higher on all coursework.

Collaboration in Buyer/Supplier Relationships Final Exam Review

16 Dec 13 Final Exam

CANVAS ONLINE LEARNING
Management of this course will be through the CANVAS System which can be accessed at: https://unt.instructure.com

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Announcements will be made when needed during the term using the ANNOUNCEMENTS tool. Be diligent and check it every day or you may miss something important. Only the instructor can post announcements.

ASSIGNMENTS
Assignments are posted using the CONTENT/ASSIGNMENTS tool. It is easy to use and make sure you check it daily for any new assignment. Assignments will be posted approximately 1 week before due. Deadlines are in place and clearly stated in the instructions, which prohibit submitting an assignment late. Late submittals are not accepted and students are responsible for any technical difficulties. Student submittals will be posted to CANVAS by the due date and time using the ATTACH FILE option.

COURSE CONTENT
The modules within CANVAS provide access to all lessons and supporting material posted on CANVAS. Types of files include Excel, PowerPoint, PDF, and Word among others. If it appears that a file does not look right, be sure and download that file to your computer and open it in the correct software. Some files automatically download to your computer when you access them. Be sure and view them in the correct software to avoid alignment problems. Students are responsible for printing any documents you choose for class support such as PowerPoint documents, assigned articles, homework, and class case studies.

EMAIL
Please use my UNT email address listed at the top of the syllabus for all communication. Keep your messages clear, courteous, and short.

GRADES
The GRADES tool in CANVAS will be used to report/track your grades. It is located on the left of your homepage list of tools. You will be informed when a grade is released using this tool. Final grades are reported using this tool in advance of UNT release of grades. The GRADES tool in CANVAS is not the official gradebook as maintained by the professor and doesn’t always calculate grades correctly due to various weights, excluded/dropped scores, and various settings within CANVAS.

IMPORTANT UNIVERSITY POLICIES

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY STANDARDS AND SANCTIONS FOR VIOLATIONS
According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

Cheating, plagiarism, or other inappropriate assistance on examinations or cases will be treated with zero tolerance and will result in a grade of “F” for the course. The work should be solely your effort with ABSOLUTELY NO outside help or assistance. When working on exams, you must not discuss the exam with anyone (other faculty, other teams, or other students) unless specifically approved by the instructor. Students must be familiar with and adhere to the University’s Academic Integrity policies.

Copying or using material from assignments previously submitted by other students (at UNT or other learning institutions) or downloaded from the Internet is plagiarism. If you quote material, you must cite your sources. Large scale “cutting and pasting” from other sources, even if properly footnoted does not meet the criterion of submitting your own work and will result in a failing grade for the course.

RCOB Statement on Academic Integrity
The G. Brint Ryan College of Business takes academic honesty seriously. Ethics and integrity are important business values, essential to building trust and adhering to both professional and legal standards. Academic dishonesty destroys trust, damages the reputation and the value of the degree and is unacceptable.

According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions from admonition (a warning) to expulsion from the University.

Some of the most common examples of academic integrity violations include plagiarism or cheating, such as unauthorized assistance on examinations, homework, research papers or case analyses. Your work must be entirely your own. When working on assignments, you should not discuss your work with others unless approved by the course instructor. Group assignments should only be discussed with members assigned to your group, and all group members may be held accountable in some way for known academic integrity violations in a group assignment.
Another example of academic dishonesty relates to improper attribution. When preparing your assignments, you must cite all outside sources in the manner requested by your instructor. Copying or using material from any source prepared by or previously submitted by others, at UNT or other institutions, or downloaded from the Internet, is plagiarism. Unless directed otherwise in an assignment, large scale “cutting and pasting” from other sources, even if properly footnoted, is not appropriate. You should synthesize this material in your own words and provide a footnote. Your instructor will specify what materials, if any, may be used on the tests and exams.

Using materials other than those permitted, talking with other individuals during the exam, individuals exchanging information about an exam when one has taken the exam and the other has not, or copying or using material from another individual’s exam is academic dishonesty and will result in a meeting to discuss academic integrity violations and potentially issue sanctions mentioned above, and may result in ineligibility for academic scholarships. The use of online assistance, such as sites commonly used for finding homework solutions, group chat, cell phones, smart watches, and similar tools during exams is not allowed for any reason unless specifically permitted. No portion of an exam may be copied or photographed without permission.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the University's status as an institution of higher education. A student is responsible for responding to a request to discuss suspected academic dishonesty when issued by an instructor or other University official. If a student fails to respond after a proper attempt at notification has been made, the University may take appropriate academic actions in the absence of the student’s participation.

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR
Student behavior that interferes with an instructor’s ability to conduct a class or other students’ opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University’s expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION – EAGLE CONNECT
Students’ access point for business and academic services at UNT is located at: my.unt.edu. All official communication from the University will be delivered to your Eagle Connect account. For more information, please visit the website that explains Eagle Connect and how to forward e-mail: eagleconnect.unt.edu/

ADA STATEMENT
UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one’s specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website at disability.unt.edu

EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION & PROCEDURES
UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert to quickly notify students with critical information in the event of an emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to CANVAS for contingency plans for covering course materials.

RETENTION OF STUDENT RECORDS
Student records pertaining to this course are maintained in a secure location by the instructor of record. All records such as exams, answer sheets (with keys), and written papers submitted during the duration of the course are kept for at least one calendar year after course completion. Course work completed via the CANVAS online system, including grading information and comments, is also stored in a safe electronic environment for one year. Students have the right to view their individual record; however, information about students’ records will not be divulged to other individuals without proper written consent. Students are encouraged to review the Public Information Policy and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws and the University’s policy.

GRADE APPEALS, WITHDRAWALS, & INCOMPLETES Please refer to the UNT Graduate Catalog for policies governing these actions. If you have any questions, please contact me for clarification. Please note: I only use an incomplete for extraordinary circumstances. An incomplete grade will not be used simply to provide more time to complete the course requirements.

STUDENT EVALUATION ADMINISTRATION DATES
Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey.
Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website (http://spot.unt.edu) or email spot@unt.edu.

SEXUAL ASSAULT PREVENTION
UNT is committed to providing a safe learning environment free of all forms of sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Federal laws (Title IX and the Violence Against Women Act) and UNT policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, and therefore prohibit sexual misconduct. If you or someone you know is experiencing sexual harassment, relationship violence, stalking, and/or sexual assault, there are campus resources available to provide support and assistance. UNT’s Survivor Advocates can assist a student who has been impacted by violence by filing protective orders, completing crime victim’s compensation applications, contacting professors for absences related to an assault, working with housing to facilitate a room change where appropriate, and connecting students to other resources available both on and off campus. The Survivor Advocates can be reached at SurvivorAdvocate@unt.edu or by calling the Dean of Students Office at 940-565-2648. Additionally, alleged sexual misconduct can be non-confidentially reported to the Title IX Coordinator at oeo@unt.edu or at (940) 565 2759.
