Textbook

Schubert, Peter. Modal Counterpoint, Renaissance Style. 2nd edition. Oxford UP, 2007.

Course Goals

In this course we'll develop competency in the Western sacred vocal polyphonic style of the sixteenth century. We study this old music today first because it is exquisitely beautiful and meticulously controlled; music to cherish and learn from. Secondly, strict 16th-century counterpoint formed the background structure on which flowered the Western tonal common practice period, music from about 1600-1900. Beneath their wonderfully diverse surfaces, all the music of Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, etc. is organized according to the structural principles of counterpoint developed (perhaps perfected) in the high Renaissance.

The foundation and greatest challenge of our study will be in writing one controlled line, taking careful account of melodic contour, modal expression, rhythm, and text setting. To these cantus firmi we will by degrees add intervallic harmony, free rhythm, and prudent dissonance. Outside of working textbook examples, we'll analyze period motets and read the theoretical writings of Johann Joseph Fux (1725), Gioseffo Zarlino (1558) and Giovanni Artusi (1600).

Graded Work

Quiz (worth 25 pts) on general introductory concepts.

Homeworks (worth 25 pts each) are taken from the textbook. I strongly recommend doing all of the indicated exercises, only copying over onto staff paper the best one you would like me to grade. The more composition you do, the more deeply you'll understand and internalize the material.

Compositions (worth 25 pts each) will be relatively short exercises to demonstrate your knowledge of the stages of counterpoint. You are encouraged to always sing your writing (we'll sing some of them in class every day), as the keyboard can homogenize distinct voices.

The midterm project (worth 50 pts) will be a short two-voice texted motet, as the culmination of studying the various stages of counterpoint, as demonstrated in your five prior species compositions.

The Zarlino project (worth 25 pts) will be a short presentation (with handout) you will give to the class summarizing a chapter by this preeminent 16th-century theorist.

The final project (worth 50 pts) will be a short paper criticizing “second practice” (early Baroque) counterpoint from the perspective of the “first” (High Renaissance), the style studied in this course. Namely, we will read Artusi’s criticism and corrections(!) of Monteverdi, then discover and fix similar issues in a different piece.

A: 90-100%, B: 80-89%, C: 70-79%, D: 60-69%, F: less than 60%

The penalty for late work is 10% per class day.

Canvas

I’ll post class videos, grades, announcements, notes, and some homeworks on Canvas. You can find the course website at <https://canvas.unt.edu>.

Attendance

Arriving more than 5 minutes late to class three times will result in one recorded absence.

Arriving more than 25 minutes late (half the class) is an absence. Three unexcused absences may result in the final grade dropping by one letter grade. Six unexcused absences may result in being dropped from the course with a WF (withdraw failing).

Excused absences include official University or College of Music activities, medical emergencies, and illnesses. If you have traffic problems or other family emergencies, please email me. Excused absences do not count against your attendance or lower your grade.

Absences to work a job are not excused absences. If you have a chronic medical condition that might affect your class attendance or performance, please see the Office of Disability

Accommodations. Students who will miss class because of a religious observance should make arrangements to make up the material. Please contact me prior to the event whenever possible.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a "0" for that particular assignment or exam [or specify alternative sanction, such as course failure].

Additionally, the incident will be reported to the Dean of Students (Office of Academic Integrity), who may impose further penalty. According to the UNT catalog, the term "cheating" includes, but is not limited to: a. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; b. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; c. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty or staff member of the university; d. dual submission of a paper or project, or resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructor(s); or e. any other act designed to give a student an unfair advantage. The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to: a. the knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment; and b. the knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor’s ability to conduct a class or other students’ opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student’s conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university’s expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc.

ODA STATEMENT

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter. You can now request your Letters of Accommodation ONLINE and ODA will mail your Letters of Accommodation to your instructors. You may wish to begin a private discussion with your professors regarding your specific needs in a course. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester. For additional information see the Office of Disability Access.

DIVERSITY AND BELONGING

UNT values diversity and individuality as part of advancing ideals of human worth, dignity and academic excellence. Diverse viewpoints enrich open discussion, foster the examination of values and exposure of biases, help educate people in rational conflict resolution and responsive leadership, and prepare us for the complexities of a pluralistic society. As such, UNT is committed to maintaining an open, welcoming atmosphere that attracts qualified students, staff, and faculty from all groups to support their success. UNT does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status in its application and admission process, educational programs and activities, employment policies and use of university facilities.

Financial Aid and Satisfactory Academic Progress

Undergraduates

A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total hours registered. Students cannot exceed attempted credit hours above 150% of their required degree plan. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose their financial aid eligibility.

Students holding music scholarships must maintain a minimum 2.5 overall cumulative GPA and 3.0 cumulative GPA in music courses.

If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so may have the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility. It is recommended that you to schedule a meeting with an academic advisor in your college or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course before doing so.

Graduates

A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total registered hours per term. Music scholarships require a 3.5 cumulative GPA. Students cannot exceed maximum timeframes established based on the published length of the graduate program. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose their financial aid eligibility.

If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so may have the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility. It is recommended you schedule a meeting with an academic advisor in your college, an advisor in UNT-International or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course.

RETENTION OF STUDENT RECORDS

Student records pertaining to this course are maintained in a secure location by the instructor of record. All records such as exams, answer sheets (with keys), and written papers submitted during the duration of the course are kept for at least one calendar year after course completion. Course work completed via the Canvas online system, including grading information and comments, is also stored in a safe electronic environment for one year. You have a right to view your individual record; however, information about your records will not be divulged to other individuals without the proper written consent. You are encouraged to review the Public Information Policy and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws and the university's policy in accordance with those mandates.
