

18th-century Counterpoint (MUTH 3420/5420)

Spring 2016

Room: MU 250
MTWR 12-1:50pm
Dr. Justin Lavacek (justin.lavacek@unt.edu)
Office: MU 212

Required text: Benjamin, Thomas. The Craft of Tonal Counterpoint (2nd ed.), 2003.

Overview and objective:

This class emphasizes the strict essential counterpoint that underlies all 18th-century music. Thus, carefully controlled background voice leading will be of primary concern. From that perspective, Baroque imitative counterpoint will be studied through analysis and composition as surface diminutions upon strict foundational counterpoint.

Grading percentage: A=90-100, B=80-90, C=70-80, D=60-70, F=0-59

-8 homeworks x 25 pts	=	200 points
-1 tests x 50 pts	=	50
-2 projects x 50 pts	=	100 points
350 points total (subject to change)

The penalty for late work is 10% per class day. After the fourth unexcused absence (20% of the class), students can be withdrawn from the course.

Blackboard Learn

I'll post class materials (content section) and all grades on Blackboard (<https://learn.unt.edu/>).

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a "0" for that particular assignment or exam [or specify alternative sanction, such as course failure]. Additionally, the incident will be reported to the Dean of Students, who may impose further penalty. According to the UNT catalog, the term "cheating" includes, but is not limited to: a. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; b. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; c. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty or staff member of the university; d. dual submission of a paper or project, or resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructor(s); or e. any other act designed to give a student an unfair advantage. The term "plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to: a. the knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment; and b. the knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct

ADA STATEMENT

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at disability.unt.edu. You may also contact them by phone at (940) 565-4323.
