Avid Editing – A Guide for Beginning and Intermediate Users (4th Edition) by Sam Kauffman

In The Blink of an Eye – Revised (2nd Edition) by Walter Murch

OBJECTIVES:

This course will introduce students to the skills and techniques used in non-linear digital editing. While the software platform for this course is Avid Media Composer this is not solely a technical course.

The final objective is to help students develop the technical, critical and artistic skills necessary to edit visual media segments (regardless of format, genre or platform) and gain a background in theory and aesthetics to guide their editing decisions.

CLASS COMMUNICATION:

Student Eagle Mail accounts will be used for all course correspondence. If you choose to use another email service you must enable your Eagle Mail account to forward the correspondence. Instructions on how to configure Eagle Mail can be found at: <http://eaglemail.unt.edu>

TARDINESS AND ABSENCE POLICY:

Due to the limited number of classes, complete attendance is expected. Assignments will be given and/or reviewed during each class and assignments will only be accepted at the beginning of class on the due date.

ONE unexcused absence will result in a TEN POINT or ONE LETTER GRADE deduction. Any student who misses the FIRST TWO class meetings (with unexcused absences) WILL be given an administrative withdrawal. Any student with TWO OR MORE unexcused absences MAY be dropped from the course regardless of when those absences occur.

Tardiness Penalty Schedule: (one late arrival is allowed without penalty)

If you arrive after	5:10 pm	you will lose	1 percentage point
If you arrive after	5:15 pm	you will lose	2 “ points
If you arrive after	5:20 pm	you will lose	3 “ points
If you arrive after	5:30 pm	you will lose	4 “ points
If you arrive after	6:00 pm	considered an unexcused absence

These percentage points will be deducted from your over-all course grade.

Given this class only meets once a week, each class is important. Leaving class early when the entire class has not been dismissed by the instructor can be considered an unexcused absence. Scheduling other appointments during class time should be avoided.

FINAL EXAM: Tuesday, December 14 5:00pm – 7:00pm

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

As an instructor, my role is to provide each student with the tools, materials and information to learn about the course content and complete all required assignments. The amount of learning (and resulting depth of knowledge gained) is up to each individual student.

Successful completion of the course will include completing all assignments, being prepared for each presentation, finishing all projects on deadline and regular class attendance.

If you are experiencing difficulty with a concept or project I urge you to visit with me as I am here to aid in your success. Office hours are posted in the syllabus. Other meetings can be scheduled by appointment.

Editing is a both an art and a craft. While it may only take a short time to learn acceptable mechanics, a good editor is more than a technician. The most successful editors also understand the language of the visual medium including tone, balance, pacing, color as well as the use of music and sound effects.

Grades on individual assignments will reflect a total evaluation of how well the skills and theories in the course are exemplified. Each assignment will also be graded based on and how closely each project adheres to the instructions and content of the requisite course unit.

BASIC COURSE SCHEDULE:

In addition to normal assignments this course will also include guest speakers, screenings and supplemental readings. These additional meetings will allow students additional information and reference needed to expand their understanding of editing. Each student is expected to participate in a non-disruptive manner and contribute to the positive learning environment of the course.

Information from any supplemental course information is subject to formal examination.
