Students assume ALL responsibility for the operating condition of personal computers and the functionality of individual Internet connections. I will provide you with tips and guidance for operating your equipment, and the helpdesk offers support, but you have to assume responsibility for everything on your end. CLASS STRUCTURE
This course is taught exclusively online, through Canvas, and it is the student’s responsibility to be able to access, and appropriately use, online materials and complete course requirements as outlined in this syllabus. Though it is not entirely self-paced, and there are hard deadlines, the class is formatted to allow for asynchronous participation. Course does not meet F-1 visa requirements for international students.

Students are expected to read all the assigned materials on time, per the course calendar in the syllabus. Lecture notes and other materials posted online are supplementary and are not a substitute for thorough reading of the chapter. Additional material, which may include video segments or articles, may be assigned from time to time. Often, this material will reflect content that is newly identified as relevant to the course and is therefore not specified on the syllabus. Students will be informed in advance what supplemental materials will and will not be included as part of graded assessments.
Assignments and Grading

Concept Quizzes
There will be short quizzes on a weekly basis that cover concepts from the week’s assigned material. These are based largely on recall of definitions for key terms and concepts. These are simple and straightforward exercises meant to promote basic understanding of course topics and promote accountability to staying on track with reading assignments. There will be six Concept Quizzes.

Weekly Insights
Students will make meaningful and reflective weekly posts to the course site in Canvas regarding their experience that week. These posts will be responses to prompts that focus on insights gained from reading the material, class dialogue, or exposure to concepts. Students should plan to provide robust responses to the prompts as this is intended to meaningful supplement the absence of in-class dialogue.

Organizational Case Studies
There will be one organizational case study this semester according to the course calendar. Students will be presented with a scenario from an organization and tasked to answer questions related to identifying the problem, considering various courses of action, and recommending a strategy for addressing the issue that demonstrates competency of the material covered in class.

Exams
There will be two exams scheduled during the semester according to the course calendar at the end of the syllabus. All material covered in class or posted online, assigned textbook readings, and videos are covered on the exams. Exams are not open book or open note; no outside assistance is allowed. Students are expected to study beforehand and use this knowledge to take the exams. Exams will include multiple choice, true/false, and maybe some short answer. Exams will use Respondus LockDown Browser with a Webcam required.

This semester, UNT will administer course evaluations online (the “SPOT” – Student Evaluation of Teaching). The evaluations are used to evaluate faculty performance and provide guidance on what can be improved (also tell us what you like!). These are very important to me as you are the reason I’m here. I truly value your feedback and very much appreciate you taking the time to complete the evaluations which will be administered towards the end of the semester. You will be notified on Canvas and via your UNT email once the evaluations open.
The Instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus if needed. Notices will be delivered electronically in advance of changes being made.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION:

UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one’s specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided to me within the first week of the semester. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester. For additional information see the ODA website at http://disability.unt.edu.

If you decide it is necessary to drop the course, please adhere to the Academic Calendar on the Registrar’s website: http://www.unt.edu/catalog/. Late submissions, which are not excused by University policy, will be subject to 25% reduction for the first twenty-four hours, then 50% the next day, and a 75% reduction thereafter. No late work is accepted after July 6, 2022.

The Code of Student Conduct can be found at https://conduct.unt.edu. Any person who believes that a violation of University policy has been committed by a student can go to https://report.unt.edu and report the allegation. Students who have read the syllabus up until this point have found the Easter egg.
