Course Description:

This course is designed to be able to discuss issues in informal and formal situations across a variety of familiar topics in Japanese. By exploring five themes related to Japanese society (religion, pop-culture, traditional handcrafts, education, convenience stores), we will learn new vocabulary, kanji and grammar and expand the socio-cultural knowledge as we go along. We will read about, discuss and write about each theme. You will complete a research project and give a presentation on a topic of your choice.

Learning Outcomes:

- Learn about five aspects of contemporary Japanese society
- Gain in-depth understanding of the topic you choose for your research project
- Develop a broader range of vocabulary and kanji reading skills
- Solidify elementary-level grammar
- Increase overall communicative ability and confidence in Japanese

Attendance & Participation: Foreign language learning is a cumulative process, and it is very important that you come to class. Attendance and active participation in class are mandatory and absolutely essential to your success in learning Japanese. Partial attendance, frequent tardiness, or lack of participation will result in deduction of points. Absences will only be excused in the case of university-sponsored activities, religious holidays, military service, or extended illness with documentation. Please present documents before your absence. See the UNT attendance policy for details at <https://policy.unt.edu/policy/06-039>. You will be allowed two unexcused absences during the course. After more than two unexcused absences, you will lose 10 points for each absence.

Homework: Practicing Japanese every day and studying for the class are also very important for successful Japanese learning. In order to raise your Japanese skills to the advanced level, you will need to take every opportunity that you can both to produce Japanese yourself and to observe the way Japanese is used by native speakers.

Homework will consist of:

- Preview and review materials for the grammar and vocabulary of the readings of each chapter in the form of worksheet available on Canvas,
- Weekly listening practice in the form of authentic videos discussing social and cultural trends in Japan, available on Canvas
- Weekly reading and writing practice in the form of summaries of short news articles, links to which will be available on Canvas.

Quizzes: Ten quizzes are given online. On the quiz, you will be expected to identify new vocabulary and kanji, and to make use of the grammar points introduced in each chapter.

Tests: At the end of each chapter, a comprehension test will be given in class. The total number of the test is 5 times. Detailed information will be given in class.

Essay: You are expected to write an essay on a topic you select in Japanese. Detailed information will be given in class.

Academic Honesty:

Homework assignments and tests should be true representations of your effort and learning. Plagiarism (i.e., copying another person's work and presenting it as your own work) or cheating (i.e., providing answers for someone else or getting answers from someone else) are prohibited. In addition, we ask that no online translation tools are used when completing writing assignments. Consequences of any breach of academic integrity may include lowering of grade and/or failure of the assignment and/or the course.

Resources, Extra Help & Disability Accommodation:

UNT endeavors to offer you a high-quality education and to provide a supportive environment to help you learn and grow. And, as a faculty member, I am committed to helping you be successful as a student. To learn more about campus resources and information on how you can achieve success, go to succeed.unt.edu.

Office Hours

Visit your instructor during office hours for individual help or study suggestions. If the scheduled times don't work for you, call or email for an appointment.

Course Evaluation:

The Student Evaluation, SPOT, will be available at the end of the semester, providing you a chance to comment on this class. The SETE is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT, and responses are used by the department in evaluating the faculty. We work to continually improve our courses, so we appreciate your feedback!

DISABILITY ACCOMODATIONS:

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323. <https://disability.unt.edu/>

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR:

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.deanofstudents.unt.edu

SEXUAL DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT, & ASSAULT

UNT is committed to providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences any of these acts of aggression, please know that you are not alone. The federal Title IX law makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses. UNT has staff members trained to support you in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more.

UNT's Dean of Students' website offers a range of on-campus and off-campus resources to help support survivors, depending on their unique needs: <http://deanofstudents.unt.edu/resources>. Renee LeClaire McNamara is UNT's Student Advocate and she can be reached through e-mail at SurvivorAdvocate@unt.edu or by calling the Dean of Students' office at 940-565-2648. You are not alone. We are here to help.
