Course Description: This course examines the dynamic landscape where IT and business intersect. As innovations redefine business models and processes, the expectations placed on IT leaders are higher than ever. The growth of the Internet, globalization, social media, big data, the internet of things, and the era of digital transformation have collectively elevated the significance of information technology. Amid this transformation, the debate around the true value of IT persists, raising the visibility and expectations for Chief Information Officers (CIOs) and their leadership teams. This course is designed to provide an immersive experience into the multifaceted world of managing information and information systems assets within organizations. Rather than focusing solely on technical aspects, the course places a spotlight on managerial considerations, offering insights from strategy and boardroom perspectives to operational and frontline dynamics. Business communication skills are also a central focus, ensuring that students are equipped to bridge the gap between IT professionals and business stakeholders. A highlight of the course is the engagement with teammates and guest speakers throughout the semester. These interactions aim to provide students with both academic and practitioner perspectives on IT/IS Management. Your active participation is crucial for enhancing your learning and contributing to the collective knowledge of the class. It is imperative to engage with assigned materials before each class, ensuring preparedness for lively and insightful class discussions.

Course Learning Objectives:

- Understand the Strategic Role of IT in Business: Develop an understanding of how information technology can be leveraged as a strategic asset in business, enhancing competitive advantage and enabling organizational success.
- Develop IT Project Management Skills: Acquire skills in planning, executing, monitoring, and closing IT projects successfully using various project management methodologies and tools.
- Cultivate Leadership and Communication Skills: Enhance leadership and communication skills essential for IT managers, focusing on team management, stakeholder engagement, and effective decision-making.
- Understand the Business of IT: Gain proficiency in the financial aspects of managing IT resources, including cost recovery, total cost of ownership, and making a business case for IT.
- Experience Practical Application through Case Studies and Projects: Apply theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios through case studies and projects, fostering practical problem-solving skills and hands-on experience.

Technology requirements

In order to access the course material and complete assignments and exams, students will need: a Computer, reliable internet access, and the Microsoft Office Suite

Technical Assistance

UNT has a Student Help Desk that you can contact for help with Canvas or other technology issues.

Grading (Dates listed in Course Schedule below and on Canvas)

Students will be evaluated on the following:

Grading Scale

Component	Points
2 Exams (Exam 1 – Chapters 1-3,5; Exam 2 – Chapters 8, 11-13)	200
Group Project (CIO Reports, Presentation & Deliverables)	140
Homework Assignments (2-3)	40
Class Participation & In Class Assignments	20
TOTAL	400

Percent	Grade
90.0 % or above	A
80.0 - 89 %	B
70.0 - 79 %	C
60.0 - 69 %	D
Lower than 60.0 %	F

Course Components

Exams (50% of grade): There will be two in-class exams that will test your understanding of the concepts and definitions from the textbook chapters. These exams will be 40 - 50 questions in multiple-choice, true/false, and short-answer format. You will have 45 minutes to complete the exam.

Semester Group Project (CIO Report & Presentation) (35% of grade): For the group project, students will work on a team and develop two CIO reports on emerging information technologies. Detailed requirements for the project will be posted on Canvas. Each team will submit reports and present findings to the class.

Homework Assignments (10% of grade): There are two homework assignments that include professional development activities. The instructions for these assignments are posted on Canvas.

Class Participation & Professionalism (5% of grade): In-person class attendance is expected. This course is designed for students to read the chapters prior to each class, and for students to meet with groups to complete the semester project. Classes will consist of case discussions, guest speakers, and group work. You gain participation points by being in class, on time, and participating in the class discussions and team meetings. Participation points will be posted in Canvas after each class.

Course Schedule – See Canvas for Exact Due Dates/Times. The Schedule is tentative and subject to change based on class progress.

Course Policies and Procedures

Class attendance and participation: In-person class attendance is expected. This course is designed for students to read the chapters prior to each class. Classes will consist of case discussions, guest speakers, and group work. As such, your participation and contribution to the class are crucial. Students are expected to come on time and stay for the duration of each class. Excessive absences and failure to participate will impact your class participation and professionalism grade. If you must miss a class, you remain fully responsible for all material, changes in the schedule, and other information given during class. It is important that you communicate with the professor prior to being absent, so we can discuss and mitigate the impact of the absence on your attainment of the course learning goals.

Professional Communication: Students are expected to communicate with the instructor verbally and in writing using professional language. All electronic communication will be conducted over email or through messages on Canvas. All student emails to the instructor will be sent from the student's official UNT email. During the week, I will respond to emails within 24 hours, but I typically respond sooner. During weekends or on holidays, I will respond by the next business day.

Late Submission Policy: All assignments are due on or before the due date in Canvas. Late submissions will not be accepted after the due date.

Incomplete Grades: A grade of "I" will be given only in exceptional circumstances to passing students, and only for circumstances occurring during the last week of regular class meetings. That is, only emergency situations such as an illness or death in your immediate family constitute exceptional circumstances (and these must be fully documented).

Group Work Policy: Students are expected to contribute to the group project. All students will complete a mid-term and final peer evaluation for their group members on a 1-5 scale. Team members averaging 4 or above will receive no penalty. Team members averaging between 2 and 3.9 will receive a penalty equivalent to 25-50% of the possible grade. Team members averaging between 1 and 2.9 will receive a penalty equivalent to 50-100% of the possible grade on the group project deliverables. I will remove a student from their group if I find they are not participating in meetings or if the student acts in an unprofessional manner toward group members. If this happens, the student must complete the project individually. Additionally, if a student is not meeting with their group during class sessions, I will remove the student from their group, and they will receive a zero for the group assignments completed in their absence.

ODA Accommodations: The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodations for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website at <https://studentaffairs.unt.edu/office-disability-access>. You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

Academic Integrity: This course adheres to the UNT policy 06.003, on student academic integrity. The policy can be found at <http://vpaa.unt.edu/fs/resources/academic/integrity>. Academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to: cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions, ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University. The UNT College of Business and the ITDS Department expect their students to behave at all times in an ethical manner. There are at least two reasons for this. First, ethical behavior affirms the personal value and worth of the individual. Second, professionals in all fields (but particularly in information systems, accounting, and HR) frequently handle confidential information on behalf of their employers and clients. Thus, employers of UNT College of Business graduates expect ethical conduct from their employees because that behavior is crucial to the success of the organization. Academic dishonesty is a major violation of ethical behavior.

Penalty for academic integrity violations: Students found to be in violation of academic integrity standards will incur penalties ranging from a failing grade of a specific assignment to a failing grade in the course. Cheating on an exam or assisting others in cheating, misrepresenting others' work as your own, and severe plagiarism (over 30% similarity on the project) will result in a grade of F on the assignment and in the course. All academic integrity violations will be reported to the Academic Integrity Office.

Assignment Feedback and Grade Disputes: Assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded within one week of the due date. For larger projects, I will announce when students can expect the project to be graded. All grades and feedback are posted on Canvas. I encourage you to check your grades on Canvas regularly and email the instructor within one week if you have any issues of questions about the grade so we can resolve any grade issues.

Rules of Engagement: Rules of engagement refer to the way students are expected to interact with each other and with their instructors. Treat your instructor and classmates with respect in any communication online or face-to-face. See these Engagement Guidelines (<https://clear.unt.edu/online-communication-tips>) for more information.

Syllabus Change Policy: Course assignments and content may change to adapt to course pace and/or UNT course policies. I will notify the students both in class and on Canvas through the announcement page when and if any changes are made.

UNT Policies

Academic Integrity Policy: According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

ADA Policy: UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one's specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website (<https://disability.unt.edu/>).

Prohibition of Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation (Policy 16.004): The University of North Texas (UNT) prohibits discrimination and harassment because of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal or state law in its application and admission processes; educational programs and activities; employment policies, procedures, and processes; and university facilities. The University takes active measures to prevent such conduct and investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate.

Emergency Notification & Procedures: UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert to quickly notify students with critical information in the event of an emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to Canvas for contingency plans for covering course materials.

Retention of Student Records: Student records pertaining to this course are maintained in a secure location by the instructor of record. All records, such as exams, answer sheets (with keys), and written papers submitted during the duration of the course, are kept for at least one calendar year after course completion. Coursework completed via the Canvas online system, including grading information and comments, is also stored in a safe electronic environment for one year. Students have the right to view their individual records; however, information about students' records will not be divulged to other individuals without proper written consent. Students are encouraged to review the Public Information Policy, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws, and the University's policy. See UNT Policy 10.10, Records Management and Retention, for additional information.

Acceptable Student Behavior: Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom, and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including the University and electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. Visit UNT's Code of Student Conduct (<https://deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct>) to learn more.

Access to Information - Eagle Connect: Students' access point for business and academic services at UNT is located at: my.unt.edu. All official communication from the University will be delivered to a student's Eagle Connect account. For more information, please visit the website that explains Eagle Connect and how to forward e-mail Eagle Connect (<https://it.unt.edu/eagleconnect>).

Student Evaluation Administration Dates: Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website (<http://spot.unt.edu>).

Student Verification: UNT takes measures to protect the integrity of educational credentials awarded to students enrolled in distance education courses by verifying student identity, protecting student privacy, and notifying students of any special meeting times/locations or additional charges associated with student identity verification in distance education courses. See UNT Policy 07-002 Student Identity Verification, Privacy, and Notification and Distance Education Courses (<https://policy.unt.edu/policy/07-002>).

Use of Student Work: A student owns the copyright for all work (e.g. software, photographs, reports, presentations, and email postings) he or she creates within a class and the University is not entitled to use any student work without the student's permission unless all the following criteria are met:

- The work is used only once.
- The work is not used in its entirety.
- Use of the work does not affect any potential profits from the work.
- The student is not identified.
- The work is identified as student work.

If the use of the work does not meet all of the above criteria, then the University office or department using the work must obtain the student's written permission. Download the UNT System Permission, Waiver and Release Form.

Academic Support & Student Services

Mental Health: UNT provides mental health resources to students to help ensure there are numerous outlets to turn to that wholeheartedly care for and are there for students in need, regardless of the nature of an issue or its severity. Listed below are several resources on campus that can support your academic success and mental well-being:
