Required text: Law and Economics, Robert Cooter, Thomas Ulen, 6th ed., Addison Wesley, 2012. The book is freely available. I have posted it under my “Articles” section in the Canvas course website.

Course objectives: Law and economics is a relatively young and emerging field in economics. In addition, it is used as a major theoretical model at major law schools. This is an excellent course for any student considering enrolling in law school or any student interested in the economic analysis of the law. The purpose of this course is to demonstrate how to apply economic analysis (marginal analysis, opportunity cost, game theory, the importance of incentives, etc.) to legal and political issues.

This course will primarily focus on topics in “private” law rather than “public” law. Private law covers the areas of property, contracts, and torts (accidental harm). Some concepts of public law, such as criminal law and regulation, are also examined.

Prerequisites: The only required class is Economics 1100: Principles of Microeconomics. If you have taken intermediate micro (Econ 3550 or Econ 5030) you will have an easier time grasping some of the applications. However, the necessary theory will be covered in class. If you sense that you are experiencing any difficulties, please contact me immediately. I usually can assist you in covering any deficiencies.

Grades: Your grade will be determined as follows:

Exam 1	27.5.00% of your overall grade
Exam 2	27.5.00% of your overall grade
Final Exam (comprehensive)	35.00% of your overall grade
Homeworks	10.00% of your overall grade

The grading scale is:

A: 90-100% B: 80-89% C: 70-79% D: 60-69% F: below 60%.

I will use Canvas to email you. I will also post your scores from homeworks and exams on Canvas. Familiarize yourself with Canvas. Be sure to check emails in Canvas from me a few times each week. I recommend that you install the Canvas app on your smartphone.

Attendance Policy

Attendance at every class meeting is essential to understanding the material. Unless you are an exceptional gifted student, your grade will be positively related to the number of times you attend class.

If a student misses an exam without a university excuse, the student will receive a grade of zero. To the extent possible, please inform me in advance if you must miss an exam.

Cell phone & laptop use policy

Cell phones are not allowed to be used in class. Put your cellphone in your backpack or bag. You will receive one warning for using your cell phone in class. If you use your cell phone for a second time in class, I will drop you from the class. You may use your laptop in class only for course related work. You will receive one warning for using your laptop for non course-related work. If you use your laptop for non course-related work for a second time in class, I will drop you from the class.
