Literatura Latina/e/o/x para Niños Bilingües

Latina/e/o/x Children's and YA Literature for the Elementary Bilingual Classroom

Professor Melissa Rojas Williams, Ph.D.	Pronouns: she/her/ella
Meeting place/time: Mathews 102 Mondays 9 am-11:50	Office location: Mathews 206D
Contact info: melissa.williams@unt.edu	Student Hours: Mondays in person 8 am-8:30 in office; 8:30-9 am in Mathews 102; 12pm-12:30 or 1:30pm- 3pm in office or via Zoom (12:30 pm-2 pm)

IMPORTANT

This class is taught in Spanish/bilingual.

Course Goals

- Design culturally sustaining sequences of lessons that prioritize and strategically integrate children's picture books and/or YA literature across the curriculum for the Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) elementary classroom.
- Work collaboratively with a practicing DLBE teacher in the creation of culturally sustaining sequences of lessons that integrate children's picture books and/or YA literature across the curriculum and have opportunities to teach lessons that are part of the respective unit.
- To build foundational knowledge of Latinx authors and illustrators of bilingual and culturally relevant children's literature.
- To study the criteria for evaluating culturally authentic children's literature for the bilingual learner.
- To explore the publication of Latine children's literature.
- To examine different approaches/strategies for using bilingual children's literature in the educational curriculum and with parents and community members.

- To gain knowledge of multimedia and online resources related to bilingual children's literature.
- To develop an understanding and practice of the literary response process for children's narrative and expository literature, both oral and written.

Format: All instructions, assignments, readings, rubrics, and essential information will be on your course's Canvas website. Please make it a habit to check your Canvas email on a regular basis (at least once a day) for any updates or changes to upcoming class sessions. It is your responsibility to note changes when announced.

Required Field Hours

2-3 hours of virtual field interaction/observation in a DLBE classroom that will be during our regularly scheduled class time.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS AND/OR MATERIALS

- 1) López-Robertson, J. (2021). Celebrating our cuentos: Choosing and using Latinx literature in elementary classrooms. Scholastic Incorporated.
- 2) You will choose one book from these selected titles for our class book clubs and literacy circles in Spanish.
 - La Tierra de las grullas by Aida Salazar
 - La primera regla del punk by Celia Pérez
 - Guerrera by Carmen Tafolla
 - Efrén dividido by David Bowles and Ernesto Cisneros
 - El Gusano de Tequila by Viola Canales
 - Iveliz lo explica todo by Andrea Beatriz Arango
 - Mexikid (Spanish edition) by Martín Pedro
 - Tumbos by Celia Pérez
- 3) Other articles and materials will be uploaded to Canvas.

Instructor Statement: I am committed to being as flexible as possible to support all students in our class. I will prioritize your humanity, physical and mental health, and well-being in addition to your intellectual growth while also trying to provide a worthy learning environment. Collectively, I hope we can build a community that maintains social connections and academic engagement yet recognizes that personal accommodations may be necessary to foster that environment. Our time together may be emotional and challenging, while at the same time, a space of critical hope where we can collaboratively imagine how theory and action in bi/multilingual education can be transformational during these times. I admire each and every one of you for enrolling in this class. It takes a lot of courage, effort, and intellectual drive to take courses right now. If you find yourself in a difficult situation, please communicate with me so we can brainstorm what works best (Adapted from Geneva L. Sarcedo).

CENTERING PRACTICES FOR THE COURSE (España & Herrera, 2020)

Through Latino/a/x children's and YA literature, we will aim to:

- Get to know your students' journeys
- Understand our students' language practices
- Understand our students (and their families) traditions of literacies
- Help create awareness of students' language practices

Our goal is to begin to conceptualize culturally sustaining sequences of lessons that are situated around the following:

- A centering topic or theme that connects to Latinx students' identities and realities and sustains those same identities and realities (Paris & Alim, 2017)
 - Engage with quality books that go beyond heroes and holidays and focus on complex issues in society
 - Translanguaging as an approach to teaching

COURSE POLICIES & EXPECTATIONS

Attendance

Research has shown that students who attend class are more likely to be successful. You should attend every class unless you have a university-excused absence such as active military service, a religious holy day, or an official university function, as stated in the Student Attendance and Authorized Absences Policy \(PDF\) (<https://policy.unt.edu/policy/06-039>). Please let me know if you cannot attend a class due to an emergency. Your safety and well-being are important to me. You will not be penalized for this absence, although you will still be responsible for any work you will miss on that day if applicable. The class is designed to be interactive; therefore, zooming into class does not suffice for full participation.

For an emergency, please follow this procedure to make up work:

- 1) Make sure to communicate as soon as you are able of your absence
- 2) Go to the Modules>Google Slides of the class missed
- 3) Write a 2-3 page paper that shares a summary of the readings for the week. Go through each slide of the week's presentation to answer all activities missed to be turned in by the next class period.
- 4) If you were scheduled to present that week, in your email, also address that it is understood that the presentation will be rescheduled to the following class date to receive credit.
- 5) If you must be absent during "Classroom in Communities Reading" time, you will be responsible for letting your group know as soon as possible. Your contribution should have been completed ahead of time so they could put it into action.

Attendance is important for developing an understanding of the varied uses of Latinx bilingual children's literature and creating a community of learners. Class sessions will include short lectures, small and whole group projects and discussions, literature circles, virtual postings and responses, and student presentations. In order to accomplish the goals of the course, classes are designed for active participation. Students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned material. Your perspectives are appreciated, needed, and respected and should be shared. Students are expected to respect the viewpoint of all class members.

Attendance means arriving on time and staying the entire length of the class when the professor dismisses the class. There are no unexcused absences. More than 4 unexcused absences will result in a failing grade for the class. A pattern of tardiness or early departures will affect your grade. A tardy is 15 minutes past class start time. Unexcused excessive tardies or early departures (3 or more) also constitute an unexcused absence. There may be times when class may be moved online due to bad weather for class safety.

If you are absent, use your resources wisely. Let me know as soon as possible, particularly if it is COVID-19. If you have to quarantine because of COVID-19 exposure, a class recording may be able to be provided based on equipment availability and time constraints. If you find topics we covered while you were gone that raise questions, you may request to meet with me. If you need additional time to complete missed assignments, we will decide together on a timeline for completion. I ask that you honor that timeline.

In alignment with Bilingual Education courses, the chart shows the points attributed to attendance:

For courses offered 1 time per week
0 – 1 unexcused absence 10 points
2 unexcused absences 7 points
3 unexcused absences 4 points
4 unexcused absences 1 point
5 unexcused absences You will receive an F for your final grade

Late Work Policy

Students are expected to turn in assignments at the designated time, but I understand that situations may arise where this may not be possible. It is your responsibility to communicate with me when such a situation occurs so that I am aware of this, along with a specific/hard date when you will turn in the assignment (within 1 week of the due date). In your communication with me about this late assignment, you should also let me know where you are at in the process of completing it. If you do not turn in the assignment within the 1 week grace period, you will not be able to get full credit. The key here is to do your best to keep up with the material, and if you do, by chance, get behind, please COMMUNICATE! I take this content and our community seriously and hope you will do the same!

Class Technology: I want you to take every opportunity to integrate technology into your teaching in thoughtful and meaningful ways. Each technology activity will be assessed based on its content, relevance, and clarity.

- Creativity: to what extent were you thoughtful and insightful in your use of technology and content
 - Clarity: to what extent did you reveal a mastery of the content/pedagogical focus
 - Relevance: to what extent did you use your readings and our discussion in completing the assignment in ways that furthered your understandings

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

Course assignments are located on Canvas within the week's Module. Using Canvas, please upload your assignment as attached Word files labeled: Title of assignment & Your Last Name. It is your responsibility that attachments can be viewed and links work.

1. Literacy Journey Box & Autobiography (20%)

1a. My Literacy Journey Box (10%)

This project is an invitation for you to recall/think about early memories from 0-6 years old, K-12 and the current role that literacy events, books, children's literature, and significant others played in your literacy journey, as well as how you approach reading, writing, and children's literature in your two or more languages. For this project, use a small box filled with objects (books, journals, titles, poems, photos, or anything else that is meaningful to you) that exemplify what reading, authoring, literacy, and literature have had and continue to mean to you. An index page will list what the items are in your journey box and a sentence regarding their meaning. A rubric to assist you for completing the project will be provided. Do have fun and be creative with this project. In class at the third class session, September 9th you will present your Literacy Journey Box in small groups. Groups will be randomly chosen from the Team Shake app

1b. Autobiography of Reading and/or Writing Experiences (10%)

As a future teacher of reading and writing in two languages, it is important that you bring to the surface your own background and beliefs about language and literacy. This assignment contains three parts: timeline, semantic web, and autobiography. For this assignment, you will use a timeline and semantic web to explore how your personal history as a reader and writer influences your choices as a future teacher of emergent bilinguals. The semantic web will be utilized to show ideas, influences, experiences, and attitudes about your own literacy experiences; use your timeline to reflect on your progression in literacy over the years. The assignment is a way to understand who you are and are going to be... a future bilingual teacher. As you did with the journey box, in the autobiography focus on memory of learning language(s) and literacy(ies). The autobiography explores experiential knowledge generated from your semantic web and timeline and should be no more than 5 pages total (2-3 double-spaced pages for autobiography + 1 page semantic web + 1 page timeline). The written assignment will be submitted via Canvas and is due Friday, September 13th, at the end of the day.

For the (auto)narrative consider questions like:

- What books do you remember reading as a child? In what language(s)?
- What was reading like for you in school? At home? In what language(s)?
- How did you learn to read?
- Who influenced you as a reader?
- Were there any discouraging experiences in your life as a reader? Wonderful experiences?
- What conditions have inspired you to write? In what language(s)?
- When, where, and for whom have you written? In what language(s)?
- Do you see yourself as a writer? Why or why not?
- Do you see yourself as an artist? Why or why not?
- How has the internet and smartphone and other electronic devices influenced your literacy development? In what language(s)?
- If you have moved or traveled, how have these experiences affected your language and literacy development?
- Were you exposed to particular methods that influenced your reading and writing? In what language(s)?
- How do your connections of background/history/beliefs in literacy developments shape/influence you as a future bilingual teacher?

2. Reading Response & Discussion Board (10%) Your grade in this area is based on your discussion board assignments on Canvas. Two times during the semester one quote from our readings will be posted as a forum on Canvas. It will include a short quote from the readings and a question related to the quote. The posting on the discussion board will be made available to you a week before it is due. Your responses must be posted by midnight prior to class.
 - You will respond substantively to each of the two CANVAS discussions with a minimum of 200 words.
 - You will then discuss your reactions, perspectives, connections, and/or questions with your classmates during our class meeting time.

Canvas responses to discussion questions: Due September 30 and October 21st

3. Ensayos escritos en español (20%)

Each student will actively engage in literature discussion groups. These are guided by your book club selection. You are expected to use evidence from the selected texts and class discussions to write a 2-page double-spaced reflective essay of what you learned from the literature discussion process used in class. The essay should include:

- what you learned from discussion with your peers in relation to their responses, reactions, and arguments about the selected literature;
- the literature roles that you engaged in and how each role facilitated (or not) in-depth discussion and meaning-making
- if and how you would use, modify, or extend literature discussion groups in your future bilingual classroom.

The second ensayo will be a creative reflection of the book.

DUE DATE: November 4th (essay) and November 11 (creative reflection)

4.) Author/Co-author a Children's Book - group project (30%) Students will become authors in the creation, writing, and illustrating of a Latinx-centered children's book. The book should either be bilingual or completely written in Spanish and completed in a pair. Your partner and you will prepare a presentation regarding the writing process. Each dyad will submit the final book and a jointly written 2-page reflection paper. The reflection paper should include the rationale for the selection of the book topic and the role taken by each member in the authoring and illustration process. Please upload the digitized book and reflection to Canvas. Each dyad will share their final book during our last class celebration on Monday, December 2nd

5) In-Class Participation:

- Attending and being prepared for each class period will count toward your attendance grade.
- Culturally Sustaining Sequence of Lessons: Based on the grade level and contextual factors in your virtual field observation sites (DLBE school) and grounded in theoretical perspectives in the course, students will design culturally sustaining sequences of lessons to be integrated into these respective sites.
- Active Participation: Each person will engage in discussions and contribute insights around projects, observations, and understandings.

UNT's Standard Syllabus Statements

Academic Integrity Standard and Consequences. According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to, cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Tool Usage: AI tools (e.g., ChaptGPT) can generate text, images, and other media very quickly. Since the central goal of this course is to help you become independent and critical thinkers, you are discouraged from using AI tools to create text, essays, video, audio, or images that end up in your work (assignments, activities, responses, etc..) Any work submitted using AI tools will be treated as though it was plagiarized.

If Any part of this is confusing or uncertain, please reach out to me for a conversation before submitting your work. (statement from Boston College Center for Teaching Excellence)

ADA Accommodation Statement. The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodations for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to the faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time; however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website (<http://www.unt.edu/oda>). You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

Emergency Notification & Procedures. UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert to quickly notify students with critical information in the event of an emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to Blackboard for contingency plans for covering course.

Acceptable Student Behavior

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom, and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct.

Academic Freedom & Academic Responsibility

According to UNT Policy number 06.035, The University of North Texas (UNT) exists for the common good. The common good depends upon the free search for truth and its free expression. Academic freedom is essential to these purposes and applies to both teaching and research. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth. Academic freedom in its teaching aspect is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the faculty member in teaching and of the student to freedom in learning.

Academic freedom carries with it special responsibilities correlative with rights. Faculty have the academic responsibility to subject their knowledge and postulates to rigorous review by peers who are experts in the relevant subject material, to have a firm foundation of their postulates in the most relevant and suitable available evidence, and to work with one another to provide the best education possible for our students.

FERPA and Class Recordings

Class Recordings: Class recordings are reserved only for students in this class for educational purposes and are protected under FERPA. The recordings should not be shared outside the class in any form. Violation of this restriction by a student could lead to Student Misconduct proceedings. Guidance on public access to class recordings can be found as UNT Policy 07.018.

COVID-19

UNT COVID 19 Information States: Although infection rates have lessened on campus and locally, individuals should remain vigilant in protecting their health. This includes self-monitoring for symptoms, making informed decisions about high-risk situations, and self-isolating after a positive test.

Students who need COVID testing should make an appointment to see an SHWC medical provider. If the medical provider feels COVID testing is appropriate, they will order testing through the in-house laboratory.

Personal Pronoun Use (She / He / They / Ze / Etc)

Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, culture, religion, politics, sexual orientation, gender, gender variance, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student's legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by a name that is different from what appears on the official roster, and by the gender pronouns you use (she/he/they/ze, etc). Please advise me of any changes early in the semester so that I may make appropriate updates to my records.

Department Syllabus Statements

Student Evaluation Administration Dates. Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey, they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website at www.spot.unt.edu or email spot@unt.edu.

Sexual Assault Prevention. UNT is committed to providing a safe learning environment free of all forms of sexual misconduct. Federal laws and UNT policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex as well as sexual misconduct. If you or someone you know is experiencing sexual harassment, relationship violence, stalking and/or sexual assault, there are campus resources available to provide support and assistance. The Survivor Advocates can be reached at SurvivorAdvocate@unt.edu or by calling the Dean of Students Office at 940-565- 2648.
