

THEA 4310 Acting for the Camera: Spring 2025 // Wednesday 2:00PM to 5:50PM

Instructor: Nick Cutelli (he/him)

Email: Nicholas.Cutelli@unt.edu

Office Hours: Upon Request

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The exploration of camera acting and audition technique in order to prepare the student for the diverse opportunities in the medium, with an emphasis on building confidence with the camera, expanding acting range, and preparing for the profession.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Students will:

- Demonstrate basic on-camera acting performance techniques for a diverse range of projects
- Analyze the demands of screenplay and media script analysis and apply those observations to their performances
- Interact with and take direction from a film medium director
- Practice audition technique (including prepared auditions, cold reads, and taped submissions)
- Demonstrate a comprehension of basic camera and industry terminology and protocol
- Observe and discuss the lessons of existing on-camera performances from film and television and allow that to inform their own work
- Critique and offer feedback for both their own on-camera performances and those of their class colleagues
- Document information about the process of seeking agency representation, as well as other forms of marketing, promotion, and professional conduct.

By the end of this course, students will have a solid foundation in on-camera acting and a clear understanding of the professional expectations that await actors working in film, television, and commercial media. The focused work on improvisation, character development, and camera technique will help students expand their emotional range, increase their confidence, and develop a repeatable, personalized approach to acting on camera.

CLASS REQUIREMENTS:

Space/Equipment to film submissions for class

Assigned Text: Students will not be required to purchase books as PDF copies of assigned readings will be available through the instructor. All text used will be available on Canvas, One Drive, or hard copy.

Optional Text:

ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY

Punctual attendance is critical for your success in the course. Thus, students are expected to be present and punctual for all classes.

The following policy is consistent with all acting courses in the department:

- Students are allowed no more than a total of TWO excused (2) absences during the semester for any reason.
- Students are considered tardy if they arrive for class no more than 30 minutes late. Arriving more than 30 minutes late for class is considered an absence.
- Students are expected to attend class for the duration of the period. Leaving class before then is considered an absence.
- An occurrence of tardiness for the class FOUR (4) times is the equivalent of ONE (1) absence.
- A total of THREE (3) absences means that the highest grade the student can earn in the class is an F.
- If the student accrues the fourth absence AFTER the last date on which a student may withdraw, that will result in a lowering of one letter grade in the class. If yet another absence occurs in that time period, this will result in a lowering of yet another letter grade.

Any student with an issue in the area of attendance and/or punctuality will be referred to the Acting Faculty for guidance.

The policy is not negotiable, as that would constitute holding one student to a different standard than all students in all acting classes.

If a student's absences have resulted in a grade with which they are not pleased, they may choose to withdraw from the class.

The professor's roll is the official record of absences and tardiness. At any point, the students are welcome to check the grade roster on Canvas to be sure that their attendance/punctuality record is accurate.

KEEPING IT REAL...

I am very aware that the unexpected comes up in life, and many times it is beyond your control. The attendance policy of acting classes in the Department of Dance and Theatre at UNT is set up to ALLOW for those occasional issues that may come up (illnesses, deaths in the family, emergencies, traffic, car trouble, unavoidable commitments, weather, etc.). All of these things could occur to you during the semester (even a couple of times). Please DO NOT ask for further leeway on this, because there is none. The leeway for these unexpected occurrences is already BUILT IN to the attendance policy. Do not ask me if there is any extra credit you can do to make up for excessive absence. Do not ask me to "work with you" on this issue. Changing the policy for you means that it must, in the interest of fairness, be changed for students in all acting classes. There is NO NEED to bring me a doctor's note when you are sick. If you tell me you were ill, I absolutely believe you.

The attendance policy already allows for the fact that you might get sick and miss a class or two as a result. However, there have to be limits, particularly since your absence may have an impact on a fellow actor. If you are ill and/or absent excessively, it means you are missing the actual content of the course. You are seeking to be a professional actor—get used to the fact that you simply have to BE THERE, and you have to be there ON TIME. Once you have used up the two excused absences (or the allowed amount of tardiness), I will treat absence and lateness as the INDUSTRY will treat them. It is important that you are aware of this before undertaking the challenge of the course.

GUIDELINES FOR THE VIRTUAL CLASSROOM

Should online meetings of the class ever occur, it is expected that every student will practice virtual etiquette that is respectful to the class, the professor, and other students during these sessions. Adherence to appropriate virtual etiquette is factored into the student's grade. This includes the following:

- Log on at least a minute or two early; do not be surprised if you are counted late if you are not logged on to the virtual class when it starts.
- Do not attend class if you are unable to participate actively. Do not join the virtual classroom just to ignore it or walk away from it. If the instructor realizes this has occurred, your participation will be penalized, and you may be counted absent.
- Do not attend virtual class from your bed. While this is a virtual space, it is still a classroom. You will find it easier to pay attention, learn material, and complete your course work if you are seated at a table or desk.
- If you use a profile picture in virtual classroom, it should be a classroom-appropriate photo.
- Mute yourself unless you are making a presentation to the class or the instructor is seeking questions/comments from the class. For users in virtual classroom, the space bar acts as a quick unmute—press it down to speak on mic, then release the space bar to mute yourself again.
- You are expected to enable your video and remain on camera while class is in session, unless directed otherwise by the professor.
- Dress as if you are coming into a regular class.
- Make sure to illuminate your face with natural or artificial light so the instructor and others can see you clearly.
- Make sure there is nothing distracting or inappropriate in the background of your video feed.
- Try to avoid having other people enter and exit your frame to avoid distracting your classmates and instructor.
- If seeing yourself on camera distracts you, right-click on your own video feed in virtual classroom and choose HIDE SELF VIEW. This setting allows your instructor and classmates to see you, but you will not see yourself.
- Be careful when sharing your screen. You do not want your personal email, documents, or images to be displayed accidentally.
- Be aware everyone can see your messages in chat unless you have chosen to send the instructor a direct message. Private messages to other students are disabled to avoid distractions during class.
- Do not attend virtual class while operating a vehicle or doing anything else in which attending the virtual class at the same time may negatively impact your safety or the safety of others.
- Do not attend class in an unauthorized public space where others will see/hear the class. Your privacy and the privacy of your classmates is federally protected.
- If you know that you are unable to attend a class meeting, contact the instructor in advance to receive a recording of the class that you can watch later.
- Do not share the web URL for our virtual classroom class with anyone outside of class. If class is “virtual classroom bombed” because you shared the link, administration will be notified and will enact sanctions up to and including removal from the course and possible expulsion from the university.
- If the class is “bombed,” the instructor will first attempt to mute and boot the unwanted person from the meeting. If this is not possible or fails to stop the disruption, the instructor will end the meeting, create a new meeting link, and email it to you in short order.

STUDENT OBLIGATION TO ACADEMIC/PRODUCTION WORK

Dance & Theater students are expected to budget and organize their time and efforts in order to meet both their academic and production commitments satisfactorily and on time. The faculty and staff recognize that the academic and production assignments within the department, as well as outside employment and other obligations, sometimes impose conflicting pressures on DT students. One of the main responsibilities of each student is to identify carefully and monitor the commitments that comprise his/her departmental assignments and outside obligations. It is also important to keep in mind that production work and outside obligations do not constitute an excused absence from DT classes or from the completion of any required class assignments.

ACCOMMODATION FOR DISABILITIES

The University of North Texas is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation: reference Public Law 92-112—The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of new federal legislation entitled Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens.

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

STUDENT PERCEPTIONS OF TEACHING (SPOT)

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website at www.spot.unt.edu or email spot@unt.edu.

The Department of Dance and Theatre also offers face-to-face SPOT evaluations, if the student wishes. Ask your professor for details if you wish to pursue that option.

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom, and the instructor may refer the student to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.unt.edu/csrr.

ASSIGNMENTS:

All assignments' due dates and descriptions are listed in the syllabus. Assignment due dates are unlikely to shift for any reason. Late assignments must be discussed with the instructor before the due date. If there is no communication about a late assignment, the student will receive an automatic 0.

Please note that for each film project, students will be provided with a script or storyboard and will be required to prepare an on-camera character map to guide their performance and present to the class.

- SLATE

- Your slate is your professional introduction—often the first thing casting directors see in a self-tape audition. This short video should clearly and confidently present who you are, while demonstrating strong camera presence and awareness. It's not about performing a character; it's about being authentically you and showing a little of your personality that matches the tone of the project you're auditioning for.

- COMMERCIAL #1

- This assignment challenges you to create a compelling character and tell a short story using only one line of dialogue and a strong reaction to a product. You'll use improvisation to shape the character's personality and show how the product impacts their point of view—all while staying natural and camera-ready.

- COMMERCIAL #2

- For this assignment, you'll deliver a direct-to-camera product description using a corporate-style marketing script. The focus is on creating a strong, engaging character who can bring life, clarity, and personality to otherwise straightforward material. Your goal is to make the copy feel natural, compelling, and uniquely your own—while staying true to the tone of the brand, but also using improv to add texture to the performance to give it “character ownership.”

- MOS #1 - Focused in intimate

- In this dramatic, dialogue-free scene, you'll tell a complete emotional story using only your face and eyes. The performance will be filmed in extreme close-up, emphasizing subtlety and inner life. Your challenge is to create a clear, compelling moment where the audience understands what your character is experiencing—without saying a word.

- MOS #2 - wide physical comedic

- This assignment focuses on comedic physicality. Filmed in a wide shot, you'll use your full body to express a character's reaction to a surprising or absurd situation—with no dialogue. Timing, movement, and clear emotional shifts are key. The goal is to create a funny, visual story that plays well without sound, much like a physical comedy beat in a commercial or sitcom.

- PSA - Straight into camera

- In this assignment, you'll deliver a direct-to-camera monologue designed to inform, persuade, or inspire action on a social issue. Your challenge is to approach the material with sincerity, clarity, and emotional connection, making the message feel authentic—not performative. Whether serious or uplifting, the goal is to present a grounded, believable character who genuinely cares about the cause.

- FILM MONOLOGUE

- You will perform a film or TV monologue in two distinct versions, both shot in an over-the-shoulder framing to mimic a standard on-set setup. The first version will be a faithful interpretation of the script, focusing on clarity, emotional truth, and connection. The second version will allow for added character texture—bringing in improvisational nuance, instinctual choices, and subtle adjustments to deepen the character's voice and presence. This exercise develops your ability to personalize material while working within professional camera constraints.

- FILM SCENE (Partnered)

- You will perform a scripted two-person scene from a film or television show, shot in a standard over-the-shoulder/reverse coverage style. This assignment emphasizes listening, reacting, and maintaining emotional continuity across takes. You'll rehearse with a partner and perform two versions: one grounded and true to the script, and a second that incorporates improvisational character texture and moment-to-moment exploration. This mirrors how actors are expected to bring something fresh to each take while staying within the structure of a professional set.

- FINAL

- Your final project is a four-part solo scene submission that demonstrates your complete on-camera process—from audition to performance—
- This final assignment draws on all major techniques covered in the course, including improvisation, script analysis, MOS storytelling, and monologue delivery.
  - You will submit the following:
  - Audition SLATE
A SLATE and the answer the following question. “Who am I as an on camera actor?”
  - Storyboard of the shots in your scene
A professional clean storyboard that clearly shows the camera angles you will be using in your scene.
  - MOS Sequence (1 minute)
A short, non-verbal moment performed in wide and close-up framing. This shows the character in a natural setting or emotional moment leading into the monologue—using only physical behavior, facial expression, and timing.
  - Monologue (45 Seconds)
A fully performed scripted monologue that represents the emotional or narrative arc of the character. This should feel like a natural continuation of the MOS moment. Monologue must include at least 2 different shots.
  - Reflection (Separate File Submission)
A (1–2 page or video blog) reflection

- SELF CRITIQUES (6 Total)

- Throughout the semester, you will complete five self-critiques, each submitted after key assignments. These critiques are your opportunity to reflect on your process, preparation, instincts, and on-camera performance. Each self-critique should be submitted before the following class session and will be guided by specific prompts provided on Canvas. You'll be asked to evaluate your character choices, emotional clarity, technical execution (framing, sound, lighting), and overall growth. Honest, thoughtful reflection is the goal—not perfection. This can be written or video blog.

- TERMINOLOGY QUIZ

- This quiz will test your knowledge of basic on-camera terminology, industry language, and set protocol. Understanding terms like "eyeline," "MOS," "mark," "slate," and "coverage" is essential for navigating auditions and professional film sets with confidence and clarity. The quiz will be short and straightforward, designed to ensure you're familiar with the vocabulary we've used throughout the course. Think of it as part of your toolkit for being a prepared and professional on-set actor.

SUBMISSION EXPECTATIONS

Your work in this course will be evaluated not only on performance quality but also on your professional preparation and engagement. Each assignment should reflect thoughtful, technical, and creative effort. Submissions will be assessed based on the following criteria:

- Level of Preparation
Proper setup for camera work, including lighting, sound, framing, reader (if needed), and use of required materials (e.g., USB drive or digital upload). Outside rehearsal time is expected.
- Memorization
Lines should be fully memorized unless otherwise specified. Memorization allows for deeper character exploration and more truthful performances.
- Clarity of Given Circumstances & Text Analysis
Your performance should reflect a clear understanding of the character's situation, emotional arc, and objectives, even when the script is minimal or abstract.
- Application of Technique
You should demonstrate your ability to integrate and explore the techniques and concepts discussed in class, including improvisational tools, physicality, emotional connection, and camera awareness.
