Chamber Music Studies Description:

- This course consists of two sections: the Applied Chamber Music Studies Coachings and the Chamber Music Studies Class/Concerts.

Applied Chamber Music Studies Coachings:

- Applied chamber music coachings are offered in the form of weekly group instruction.
- The specific coaching time and the repertoire for the semester is to be arranged with the assigned chamber music coach during the second week of classes.
- Each chamber group should receive a minimum of ten coachings.

- It is your responsibility to contact your coach and the members of your chamber group by the end of the second week of classes, in order to arrange the coaching time and group's rehearsal schedule.
- The first coaching should take place not later than the third week of classes.
- It is expected that you learn your part to the best of ability and to rehearse as a group at least once before your first coaching.
- Chamber groups should rehearse at least twice per week in addition to the weekly coaching.
- You are expected to be familiar with the score and to have completely learned your part by the end of the fourth week of classes.
- The coach may assign additional class work as necessary.
- No outside (other faculty) coachings after the 5th week, unless requested by the coach of the group.
- No substitutions in personnel (for rehearsals, coaching, performances) are permitted within the groups, unless approved in advance by the Coach, Area Representative and the Chamber Music Coordinator.
- Attendance is required at all rehearsals and coachings, except in emergency situations, such as crisis in the immediate family or serious personal illness. If you are unable to attend a rehearsal and/or a coaching due to an emergency, it is your responsibility to notify your coach and colleagues in your chamber group and to reschedule the rehearsal and/or a coaching as soon as possible.

- It is your responsibility to make sure that your attendance has been recorded.
- No unexcused absences are allowed. Each unexcused absence will lower your attendance grade by one letter grade.
- The attendance record will be posted on the Chamber Music Studies Website: chambermusic.music.unt.edu and will be updated regularly after each class meeting/concert.
- If you believe that your attendance has been marked incorrectly, you should contact the Chamber Music Studies Coordinator within ten days from the date in question to discuss your question/concerns. After the ten-day period has passed, the attendance record will not be discussed nor altered.
- If you are late 10 or more minutes, or you leave before the end of the class/concert, you will be marked absent.
- If you must leave in the middle of the class/concert, you need to sign out as you leave and sign in upon your return. If you are gone for 10 minutes or more, or if you do not sign out and sign in, you will be marked absent.
- All electronic devices (such as cell phones, ipods, ipads, laptops...) must be turned off and stored away. All reading materials must be stored away. Please do not use the seat in front of you as a footrest. Two incidents (after an initial warning) of disruption or inattentiveness (using an electronic device, reading, talking...) in the class/concert will result in one unexcused absence.
- Excused absences:
 - Reasons for excused absence might be, but not limited to: auditions, important solo or chamber music concerts on or off campus (gigs are not considered important performances), crisis in the immediate family or serious personal illness. It is expected that you do not schedule or accept concerts during the above mentioned class concerts and meetings.
 - Only a student requesting an excused absence can submit a request for an excused absence.
 - The Excused Absence Request form is available online at: chambermusic.music.unt.edu

- The request must be submitted at least two weeks prior to the absence and must include supporting documentation (contract, program, letter of acceptance, invitation...). If the above procedure is not followed the absence(s) will be unexcused.
- In a case of an emergency situation or serious personal illness, the cause for the absence and supporting documents must be submitted as soon as possible. If the above procedure is not followed the absence(s) will be unexcused.
- The Excused Absence Request form is automatically sent to the Coordinator of Chamber Music Studies and the Area Representative (strings, piano, woodwinds, or brass). The Chamber Music Coordinator, the Area Representative and/or the Chamber Music Studies Committee will consider each request for an excused absence and will base the decision on an individual case basis.

 - Your performance is scheduled only after you receive a confirmation email.

- For additional information regarding the Chamber Music Concerts please look at the Chamber Music Studies Concerts Instructions available at the Chamber Music Studies Website: chambermusic.music.unt.edu.
- All groups are encouraged to perform additionally at different venues such as area departmentals and studio classes.
- An exception for performing one performance at a different venue/time may be granted to students/groups who are unable to perform on one of the sets of concerts due to unavoidable conflicts such as auditions, family crisis, serious illness, job interview, etc. However, one performance on one of these pairs of concerts is mandatory.
 - The Chamber Music Coordinator, the Area Representative and/or the Chamber Music Studies Committee must approve each exception in advance.
 - To request an exception, the chamber ensemble coach must submit a Request for Change of Venue form available online at: chambermusic.music.unt.edu

- The Request for Change of Venue form is automatically sent to the Coordinator of Chamber Music Studies and the Area Representative (strings, piano, woodwinds, or brass). A prompt response as to acceptance or denial of the request will be sent to the coach.
- Performances outside the Chamber Music Class Concerts should be in the College of Music (on a student/guest/faculty recital, studio class, departmental, or jury) with at least one faculty member present.
- Public performances outside the College of Music may be allowed if the venue is appropriate and the performance is verified.
- For all performance outside of the Chamber Music Studies Concerts a program including the performance or a note from a faculty member present should be submitted to the Coordinator and the Area Representative within one week of the performance.

Grading:

Final grade is based on your performance in two main areas:

- Weekly coaching attendance, attitude, effort and preparation: 50%.
- Chamber Music Class attendance and attentiveness, and the quality of the two mandatory performances: 50%.
- Grading will be done per individual students, not per group.

Acceptable Student Behavior:

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct

Ada Statement:

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at disability.unt.edu. You may also contact them by phone at (940) 565-4323.
