COURSE PHILOSOPHY/OBJECTIVES

Jazz is a language. In this course, our focus will be on new “dialects” of the language previously learned in Improv I, II & III. We will not only reinforce the foundational pillars of melody and harmony found in pre-bop and bebop, but will start to approach harmony with a focus on sounds, structures and shapes. We will work to develop a connection to previously learned concepts, and also new perspectives and approaches with the ultimate goal of creating a lasting method by which students can continue to develop on their own, even after this course.

COURSE CONTENT/MATERIALS

There is no textbook required for this course, but students should be able to seek out recordings on their own through legal means.

You should create a playlist of the following tunes/solos and begin actively listening to them NOW:

- Joe Henderson on Inner Urge (from Joe Henderson, Joe Henderson Big Band)
- Mark Turner on Iverson's Odyssey (from Mark Turner, Dharma Days)
- Dayna Stephens on Seems Like Yesterday (from Dayna Stephens, Reminiscent)
- Kenny Garrett on November 15 (from Kenny Garrett, Songbook)
- Joshua Redman on Coax (from Redman, Parks, Penman, Harland, James Farm)
- Aaron Parks on I'll Be Seeing You (from AC Trio, Dear Someone)
- Mulgrew Miller on Reflections (from Joe Lovano, Quartets Live at the Village Vanguard)
- Herbie Hancock on Dolphin Dance (from Herbie Hancock, Maiden Voyage)
- Brad Mehldau on All the Things You Are (from Brad Mehldau Trio, Art of the Trio, Vol. 4)

COURSE POLICIES AND INFORMATION

GRADING: Your grade is determined by the following criteria.

30%: Language Journal Entries (6 entries at 5% each,
12%: Solo Singing Exercises
3%: Submission and Class Presentation
55%: Exams (5 Exams at 11% each)

The final grade is determined by the following scale:

A = 90-100%, B = 80-89%, C = 70-79%, D = 60-69%, F = below 60%.

Grades that are one point or less below a cutoff can be rounded up at the sole discretion of the instructor based on a student's overall effort, disposition, and attendance both in class and in office hours. For example, 89.1 and 89.0 can be rounded up to a 90.0 at the instructor's discretion, 88.9 cannot.

LANGUAGE JOURNALS:

Each student is expected to keep a "language journal" (for a total of 30% of the grade). This should be kept as one file in a notation program. It should be continuous throughout the whole semester: you should not re-order anything. The goal is to track and remember all of your favorite "bits of language" from various solos we study in class, and to witness your own growth in real time.

Within this semester, there are six journal assignments. Journal assignments will include transcribing and performing excerpts from different solos, breaking down the solos into shapes and phrases, analyzing them, internalizing them in twelve keys (in and out of the context of a piece of music), and synthesizing a new solo in a new context using the concepts you have internalized.

You are free to handwrite assignments for your own benefit, but all submissions must be computer notated and in concert key (treble clef). Neatness and presentation are a part of your grade for each.

All journal assignments are submitted through Canvas by 9 am on the day it is due. This is a firm deadline: no late work is accepted for any reason except an excused absence. If you email the instructor to ask about submitting a late assignment, you will simply be referred to the policy here in the syllabus. Illegibility, unclear images or recordings will not be graded.

Do not email assignments to the instructor, only use the Canvas platform.

The grader will provide individual feedback through the Canvas platform and advise if extra work is needed in office hours. Please be sure to check Canvas for comments and feedback on your submissions.

SOLO SINGING EXERCISE:

In the language journal assignment, we spend a long period of time on a small amount of material (just a few solo excerpts). We go into tremendous depth, breaking down concepts, devices, and vocabulary. It is akin to learning a second language: breaking down the grammar and learning to piece words together in a very focused way. While this is a valuable method of learning improvisation, it can be equally valuable to learn a high volume of material with much less depth - this is what some would call “learning by osmosis.”

For this reason, you are also expected to submit an example of yourself singing along to a great solo this semester. You do not need to transcribe this solo, and your singing does not have to be pitch-perfect. But it must be very clear that you know the solo inside-and-out, that you are aware of the phrasing, articulations, and other unique elements of the solo. This exercise is designed to help you (or force you, if need be) to keep listening to the great recordings, and to absorb the general “sound” of the jazz language. It is akin to learning your first language: picking up general phonetics, rhythmic flow, etc.

EXAMS:

The five exams will be highly specific musical tasks related to the concepts and language discussed in each unit. It is important to note that the exams measure your internalization of the concepts discussed in this course, not your overall improvisational skill, nor your improvisational vocabulary acquired prior to this course.

Being a great player is not enough to pass an exam. Regular practice is essential for success on these exams; you should not procrastinate or “cram”.

Furthermore, all exams are considered to be essential tasks for passing this course and for your personal and musical development.

A score of 75% or above on all exams is HIGHLY recommended in order for a student to pass this class, regardless of performance in other course assignments.

If a student fails to achieve a 75% or above on a given exam, the student will be afforded extra help and one opportunity to retake that exam before the end of the semester.

In short, it is not recommended that you move on from this class without passing all five of the exams with a 75% or above. If you do not pass an exam, it is recommended that you begin scheduling a meeting for extra help. You may retake an exam the week before finals week every semester as well as any other agreed upon time between you and/or the TF or Professor.

ATTENDANCE:

Please note: Attendance is not directly factored into any of these grading criteria, but each unexcused absence after the THIRD will lower your final grade by 5%, regardless of performance in any of the above criteria. This is a generous attendance policy that allows you to miss approximately 10% of class meetings with no questions asked. After your third absence, the policy is strictly enforced.

Excused absences are, of course, permitted with ample notice and reasonable cause. These absences do not count towards the three unexcused. Please email the instructor to clear these in advance, or as soon as possible after-the-fact in case of emergency. Please provide documentation/verification.

If you feel overwhelmed in any way, or if you are dealing with something that is causing you to miss a significant amount of class, the best thing to do is speak with the instructor as soon as possible. Do not wait until the end of the semester when grades are published.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a "0" for that particular assignment or exam [or specify alternative sanction, such as course failure]. Additionally, the incident will be reported to the Dean of Students (Office of Academic Integrity), who may impose further penalty. According to the UNT catalog, the term "cheating" includes, but is not limited to: a. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; b. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; c. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty or staff member of the university; d. dual submission of a paper or project, or resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructor(s); or e. any other act designed to give a student an unfair advantage. The term "plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to: a. the knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment; and b. the knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc.

Financial Aid and Satisfactory Academic Progress

Undergraduates

A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total hours registered. Students cannot exceed attempted credit hours above 150% of their required degree plan. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose their financial aid eligibility.

Students holding music scholarships must maintain a minimum 2.5 overall cumulative GPA and 3.0 cumulative GPA in music courses.

If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so may have the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility. It is recommended that you to schedule a meeting with an academic advisor in your college or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course before doing so.

Graduates

A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total registered hours per term. Music scholarships require a 3.5 cumulative GPA. Students cannot exceed maximum timeframes established based on the published length of the graduate program. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose their financial aid eligibility.

If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so may have the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility. It is recommended you schedule a meeting with an academic advisor in your college, an advisor in UNT-International or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course.
