Course Description and Objectives

Brass Pedagogy is designed to provide the student with the necessary information to be successful as a brass performer and teacher. Topics covered include how to teach fundamentals of brass playing, how to organize a studio, working in a professional performance and academic environment, history of each brass instrument, and other topics related to a career as a brass musician.

Objectives:

- Understand and be able to teach standard brass pedagogical topics
- Know the history and standard repertoire of each brass instrument
- Develop a plan for creating a successful teaching studio
- Learn how to create a collaborative video

Required Materials

Any necessary reading materials will be distributed in pdf format via email as the semester progresses.

Attendance and Participation

Attendance in class is mandatory and will be monitored. However, students will be permitted to miss two class periods during the semester without penalty. Any absence beyond those two class periods will result in a lowering of the attendance average by a letter grade per missed class. Excused absences will be permitted past the two class periods if written documentation is provided of an illness (note from a doctor) or a UNT sponsored trip.

Students are also expected to participate in class discussions. Discussions should always be conducted in a professional and respectful manner.

COVID-19 impact on attendance

While attendance is expected as outlined above, it is important for all of us to be mindful of the health and safety of everyone in our community, especially given concerns about COVID-19. Please contact me if you are unable to attend class because you are ill, or unable to attend class due to a related issue regarding COVID-19. It is important that you communicate with me prior to being absent as to what may be preventing you from coming to class so I may make a decision about accommodating your request to be excused from class.

If you are experiencing cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, fever, or any of the other possible symptoms of COVID-19 (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html) please seek medical attention from the Student Health and Wellness Center (940-565-2333 or askSHWC@unt.edu) or your health care provider. While attendance is an important part of succeeding in this class, your own health, and those of others in the community, is more important.

Assignments

The primary assignments for this course are listed in the “Course Grading” section of this syllabus. Descriptions of each assignment are provided below. The instructor reserves the right for assignments to change, or to be added throughout the semester.
However, two-weeks written notice will be given before any change occurs in an assignment.

Graduate students will be required to do additional work beyond what is required for undergraduate students. Those requirements are discussed in the assignment descriptions.

All assignments are due on the date listed in the course calendar. Late assignments will not be accepted. Students should plan accordingly in their preparation.

Lesson Observation

Students will be required to observe an applied lesson over the course of the semester. It should be with a lesson with a brass faculty member on a different instrument than your own. A written summary will be due according to the dates listed in the schedule. The summary should be typed and should use the word document provided to each student.

Students should always contact a faculty member via email to obtain permission to observe a lesson. The email communication should be professional, respectful, and sent more than a week in advance of the lesson.

Curriculum Project

Students are required to create an undergraduate, four-year curriculum for their instrument. Students should list which method and etude books, solos, orchestral excerpts, and any other required items desired for each year of a four-year undergraduate degree. Required materials should be appropriate to the assigned level. (Due 4/27)

Syllabus Project (graduate students only)

In addition to the Curriculum Project, graduate students are required to create a sample syllabus for a Masters Degree college-applied studio.

History Presentation

Students will be required to give a 10-minute presentation on an important aspect of the history of their instrument. Topics will need to be approved by the instructor before beginning the presentation. The presentation should include a handout provided for the class with important summary information from the presentation. The presentation is also required to be given on PowerPoint. Graduate students will present a 15-minute presentation and follow the guidelines set forth in the project handout. (4/22; 4/27; 4/29)

Teaching Video Project

Undergraduate students will be required to submit a video link of a 10-minute lesson they have taught to another student on their respective instrument. The student should focus the lesson on teaching and modeling one specific area of brass pedagogy. Lesson topics should be chosen from either sound production, articulation, breathing, or musical phrasing.

Graduate students will be required to submit a video link of a 20-minute lesson that incorporates successful teaching of two elements from the list above.

Videos should be submitted as an unlisted YouTube link via email to the instructor by the due date prescribed in the course calendar (April 29, 2021)

Collaborative Video

Students will create a video that features a performance with at least one additional performer (not piano). The length of the video is 3 minutes minimum and no longer than 5 minutes. Videos should be submitted as an unlisted YouTube link via email to the instructor by the due date prescribed in the course calendar.

Videos will be shown during class on March 9 & 11, 2021.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a "0" for that particular assignment or exam [or specify alternative sanction, such as course failure]. Additionally, the incident will be reported to the Dean of Students (Office of Academic Integrity), who may impose further penalty. According to the UNT catalog, the term “cheating” includes, but is not limited to: a. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; b. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; c. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty or staff member of the university; d. dual submission of a paper or project, or resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructor(s); or e. any other act designed to give a student an unfair advantage. The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to: a. the knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment; and b. the knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials. See: Academic Integrity

STUDENT BEHAVIOR
Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. See: Student Code of Conduct

Financial Aid and Satisfactory Academic Progress

Undergraduates
A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total hours registered. Students cannot exceed attempted credit hours above 150% of their required degree plan. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose their financial aid eligibility.

Students holding music scholarships must maintain a minimum 2.5 overall cumulative GPA and 3.0 cumulative GPA in music courses.
If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so may have the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility. It is recommended that you schedule a meeting with an academic advisor in your college or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course before doing so.
