COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES:
Students will rehearse and perform works toward gaining an overall knowledge of large ensemble performance and repertoire. Various music from the 20th century including Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Thad Jones, others as well as new music from artists such as Maria Schneider and Jim McNeely, will be used to develop effective and efficient rehearsal/performance experiences. A real-world effective approach towards appropriate stylistic interpretation, sight-reading skills, and performance etiquette, will be encouraged daily.

LEARNING GOALS
Two O’Clock Lab Band

1. Critical thinking
   Students will demonstrate the advanced application and transfer of music cognition in the areas of daily rehearsal, performance and listening while integrating this content into a role the students might be able to reflect upon in his/her daily life.

2. Logical reasoning
   Students will demonstrate the application and transfer of advanced information concerning difficult performance repertoire relative to the level of the band while playing musically at all times.

3. Students develop skills in communicating clearly
   The student demonstrates the verbal and written communication skills necessary to effectively articulate their work while working with others within sectionals and section responsibilities.

4. Students develop their leadership and service potentials
   Students will demonstrate the knowledge and skills sufficient to work as a musically literate citizen in the role of a leader and/or in collaboration with others of all diverse cultures. Students will demonstrate the skills and desire to foster the growth of the arts with a special emphasis in the large jazz ensemble experience.

5. Students become independent, lifelong learners
Students will also demonstrate advanced skills in independent professional growth.

6. Students develop a sense of values that guide personal decision making
   Students might demonstrate a sense of value in daily rehearsals and performances that demonstrate devotion and philosophy within the jazz education/performance arena.

7. Students develop intercultural competencies and the ability to work in diverse groups
   Jazz and its evolution/birth out of diverse communities such as New Orleans, Chicago, and New York, create a palette where someone of diverse thinking and empathy can understand and model for all students of all ages.

Grade Sub-Total 100%

PERFORMANCE DATES:
TBD

OFFICE HOURS: For assistance outside of regular class time, I recommend you contact me via email listing your name, phone number, the topic of discussion, and available hours over a period of several days. I will respond with a time that we can meet or visit my office to make an appointment.

EMAIL: Email is a very efficient means for communicating information to all of you at once. Please be sure your email address is up to date with the instructor.

COVID-19 impact on attendance
While attendance is expected as outlined above, it is important for all of us to be mindful of the health and safety of everyone in our community, especially given concerns about COVID-19. Please contact me if you are unable to attend class because you are ill, or unable to attend class due to a related issue regarding COVID-19. It is important that you communicate with me prior to being absent as to what may be preventing you from coming to class so I may make a decision about accommodating your request to be excused from class. If you are experiencing cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, fever, or any of the other possible symptoms of COVID-19 (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptomtesting/symptoms.html) please seek medical attention from the Student Health and Wellness Center (940-565-2333 or askSHWC@unt.edu) or your health care provider. While attendance is an important part of succeeding in this class, your own health, and those of others in the community, is more important.
