Instructor Policies

Communication

UNT-provided email is the official mode of communication for this class.

Email should be treated as formal business communication. If you are unsure of the standards for formal written communication, please read this before sending me an email.

Please include ENGL 3000.002 at the beginning of your Subject line, followed by a brief summary of your question; e.g. “ENGL 3000.002 Question about MLA citations.” Email not following this format risks going unanswered. Note that I am not able to discuss any information relating to academic records through email.

As a general rule, I read and respond to email between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, and commit to responding within one business day. If you receive an out of office message, I will respond on the date that the message indicates I will return to the office.

Attendance and Absences

1. No student missing more than 20% of classroom instruction will be able to pass the course. Literature courses are by nature participatory, collaborative, and discussion-based. This is not a lecture course. For this course, I will take grades at the beginning of every class period for quizzes and/or writing assignments. Upon missing two of these assignments, whether for absence or tardiness, you will receive an automatic 10% deduction from your final grade. Not participating in class may also result in missed grades for a class period. Please arrange any planned absences with me ahead of time in order to avoid penalization.
2. In class work cannot be made up.
3. Absences for religious observance, sport participation, or other authorized official university activity (Policy 06.039) must be cleared with the instructor in advance.
4. Verification from the Dean of Students must be provided for any absence due to serious illness or other extenuating circumstance. See Absence Verification on the Dean of Students' Resources page.

Technology in Class

Laptops and tablets are acceptable in class for taking notes and accessing course materials only. Any student using laptops or tablets for social media, email, or other activities unrelated to class will lose their tech privileges for the rest of the semester and receive a 0 for engagement for that session. Mobile phones must be powered off and put away during class. Use of a mobile phone during class will result in loss of tech privileges for the rest of the semester and a 0 for participation for that session.

Participation & Civility

We are all members of an academic community where it is our shared responsibility to cultivate a climate where all students/individuals are valued and where both they and their ideas are treated with respect. Therefore, I expect you to conduct yourself in a professional and respectful manner during all class meetings and class--related activities. I expect you to listen to and respect the viewpoints of others, even if you strongly disagree with them. When you do voice disagreement, do so in a civil manner. I expect you to come to class having done the reading and writing assignments assigned for the day and to be prepared to discuss the reading, to participate in draft workshops, or to conduct group work as the case may be. On days that are allotted for group work, I expect you to come prepared to work in the classroom for the entire period.

Everyone will have multiple opportunities to participate in class. Participation can be many things, including all of the following:

- Participating actively in small group work, class activities, and presentations
- Participating and listening carefully in class discussion
- Bringing all required materials to class
- Completing all homework assignments on time
- Coming prepared to conferences/office hours

Disruptions

Excessive disruptions of our class time—including talking, sleeping, texting, cell phone usage, and doing work for other classes—hurt the class atmosphere and will hurt your grade should you engage in them. Please respect the class environment by giving your classmates and me your full attention at all appropriate times. Frequent tardiness or disruptions will affect your overall grade for the course.

Deadlines

We do not have due dates in this course, we have deadlines. As such, you may submit your work via Canvas any time between the date you receive the assignment and the deadline. Plan accordingly. Late work will not be accepted.

Using Canvas

Please also include a date and the course number (ENGL 1310). Use a text font for all essays (Times Roman or Garamond for example) at 12 points, with all one-inch (1") margins, and double-spacing. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the date indicated by the assignment prompt. Please DO NOT include a cover sheet.

Using the UNT Writing Center

It is recommended that you visit the UNT Writing Center with your assignments for this class. All writers can benefit from sharing and discussing their work with a trained peer tutor, early and often. Rubrics and Scoring Systems

For the purposes of this course:

- “A” WORK will constitute a final score of 90-100% of total points, and will represent an overall response that is impressively sophisticated and illuminating: inventive, balanced, justified, effective, mature, and expertly-situated in time and context
- “B” WORK will constitute a final score of 80-89.99% of total points, and will represent an overall response that is thorough and systematic: skilled, revealing, developed, perceptive, but not unusually or surprisingly original
- “C” WORK will constitute a final score of 70-79.99% of total points, and will represent an overall response that is acceptable but limited: coherent, significant, and perhaps even insightful in places, but ultimately insufficient in organization, articulation, perception, and/or effectiveness
- “D” WORK will constitute a final score of 60-69.99% of total points, and will represent an overall response that is incomplete and severely lacking: incoherent, limited, uncritical, immature,
- undeveloped, and overall not reflective of the performance expected of UNT undergraduates
- “F” WORK will constitute a final score of 0-59.99% of total points, and will represent an overall response that is unacceptable.

*Note that rubrics for each assignment can be found in your course textbook.

Academic Integrity Standards and Consequences

According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity, academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University. [Insert specific sanction or academic penalty for specific academic integrity violation].

ADA Accommodation Statement

UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one's specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website at disability.unt.edu.

Emergency Notification & Procedures

UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert to quickly notify students with critical information in the event of an emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to Blackboard for contingency plans for covering course materials. II. Optional Statements.

Retention of Student Records

Student records pertaining to this course are maintained in a secure location by the instructor of record. All records such as exams, answer sheets (with keys), and written papers submitted during the duration of the course are kept for at least one calendar year after course completion. Course work completed via the Blackboard online system, including grading information and comments, is also stored in a safe electronic environment for one year. Students have the right to view their individual record; however, information about student's records will not be divulged to other individuals without proper written consent. Students are encouraged to review the Public Information Policy and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws and the University's policy. See UNT Policy 10.10, Records Management and Retention for additional information.

Acceptable Student Behavior

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct.

Student Evaluation Administration Dates

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The survey will be made available during weeks 13, 14 and 15 of the long semesters to provide students with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. Students will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Students should look for the email in their UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete the survey. Once students complete the survey they will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website at www.spot.unt.edu or email spot@unt.edu.
