

ADVG 3300: ADVERTISING STRATEGY AND INSIGHTS

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This is an advertising class, I promise. It might not always feel that way. This course encourages you to think and learn about society with an open mind. We will focus on exploring people and groups to understand them better.

It is important to remember that advertisements are created for people. If we have a thorough and authentic understanding of who we're talking to, we can create more meaningful experiences for society. At an advertising agency, the "strategist" (also sometimes called the "account planner") is responsible for learning as much as they can about people: cultures and subcultures, passions, trends, and how people spend their time. They then relay these findings to the creative team via a document called a "creative brief." This class is about getting to know audiences and bringing humanity into the commercial world of advertising.

This class will support your learning about people who are not like yourself and about societal trends. It will require you to think and gain insights from other perspectives. Strategists know people, they like people, they get people. We'll explore how to gain a genuine understanding of viewpoints and backgrounds including across gender, race and ethnicity, age, ability, sexuality, political views, religion, geographic location, socioeconomic status, and other perspectives.

In this class you will gain hands-on experience solving advertising and communication-related issues faced by strategists today. This includes determining and understanding your audience (where do you fit into their lives?), collecting primary and secondary consumer insights, establishing the purpose of your brand's advertising and generating creative briefs.

By the end of this course, you will be able to do the following:

1. Define present-day account planning/strategy. What is it? Where does it fit within an advertising context? How can you use strategy and account planning beyond an ad agency?
2. Discover and apply diverse audience insights. How are these collected? How do you distill this detailed information? How have you worked to understand your audience in an authentic way? How have you accounted for perspectives of all backgrounds?
3. Demonstrate your ability to make authentic creative briefs. What are the components? What is the process? What do you need? In what ways can you use your insights?

Required Readings: We'll read the classic – Jon Steel's Truth, Lies, and Advertising (1998), which you can find a PDF via a Google search or you can get a used copy for a few bucks.

Prerequisites: You should already be an ADVG major or minor and completed the Foundational ADVG Courses.

Communications: Canvas is the best way to me or our teaching assistant! When I log into Canvas – your message is right there – and not lost in an email abyss next to a bunch of random emails I get about mouse genetics. Please send me a Canvas message and we will get to you as soon as we can, usually within 24 hours (with some exceptions). Please do not contact us less than 24 hours before something is due, as we won't be able to guarantee a response before the deadline. You wouldn't give your boss 24-hours notice either, so this is good practice for the real world. Throughout the course we will make the assumption that you have read this syllabus and all Canvas messages and instructions before contacting us.

Online Tips: Our class is asynchronous (i.e. no set meeting time) and completely online. Check out the Course Calendar below to see when things are due. Some students find online classes challenging because of this flexibility and I get that. One idea that can sometimes help is to block out a set time in your schedule for the course, just as you'd have for your other classes. You can pick any block that works for you and work on stuff for this class during that time. Please do this.

Attendance/Participation: Everyone in this class has an extremely important role. As a class we will rely on your insight to contribute to our group's "bigger picture." If you foresee any event compromising your ability to complete work for this class, please let me know right away. If you let me know at the end of the semester that your work was compromised by other stressors (for example, caring for a family member), there is less we can work on together than if you tell me at the beginning or during the semester. I expect you to complete all assignments on time, just as you would in the real world.

No Baloney: It's hard to learn in an environment that feels uncomfortable. In this class, you are required to exhibit respect to everyone in our class. Should it be determined that you are disruptive, exhibiting signs of harmful behaviors, being a jerk, etc. a formal report will be submitted to the Dean of Students Office, the UNT CARE Team, or other corresponding committee. This policy applies to violations of the honor code. This policy also applies to any discussion of hate, discrimination, harassment of any person for any reason. Account planners love and want to understand people – this must be valued and is inherent to your work in this course.

Use of AI: Please do not use AI to complete your assignments. Some day we will figure out best practices for AI but we're still in the early days of its use and misuse. Unless otherwise specified, you shouldn't be using AI to complete any of your assignments. There are pretty easy ways for me to detect if you're using it in your writing. That said, we will mess/play with it later in the semester and consider what should be ethical and unethical in its use for account planning at agencies.

Late Work: The world is run by deadlines. Turn assignments in on time. Assignments submitted after the deadline will receive a 5% deduction for each day that passes. A "new day" starts right after the assignment is due. Submit late work to Canvas under the corresponding assignment. Please do not send any assignment via email or Canvas message, like ever. It will get lost and I will cry. I mentioned the abyss above.

Class Recordings & Student Likeness: This is some language from UNT about online classes that I'm required to put in my syllabus: Some sessions in this course will be recorded for students enrolled in this class section to refer to throughout the semester. Class recordings are the intellectual property of the university or instructor and are reserved for use only by students in this class and only for educational purposes. Students may not post or otherwise share the recordings outside the class, or outside the Canvas Learning Management System, in any form. Failing to follow this restriction is a violation of the UNT Code of Student Conduct and will lead to disciplinary action.

Technical Assistance: Part of working in the online environment involves dealing with the inconveniences and frustration that can arise when technology breaks down or does not perform as expected. Here at UNT we have a Student Help Desk that you can contact for help with Canvas or other technology issues.

ASSIGNMENTS: In this course you will demonstrate your growing knowledge of the world of advertising, public relations, and brand communications through a series of (fun but) challenging assignments. Please see the Course Calendar for due dates. These include:

- REVIEW QUIZ (1 quiz @ 50 points each): Before we get started with our in-depth learning about strategy, we need to review and contextualize this role. The first week of our semester will be a review, to connect you back to what you've already learned and bring that back into focus.
- GROUP DISCUSSIONS: (4 discussions @ 50 points each): As a class, we'll put all of our minds together to gather as many insights as possible. Discussions are designed to provide you with a breadth of information to choose from to complete the corresponding client exercise in the following week. These discussions will also encourage you to stretch your creative thinking – you'll be graded based on completeness– but also how different it is from other students in the class!
- CLIENT EXERCISE QUIZZES (4 quizzes @ 100 points each): After completing the group discussion in the content week prior, you'll use this information to write a section of a creative brief for a client. This will be alongside some quiz questions that cover the two weeks of content including readings from Jon Steel.
- MID-SEMESTER BRIEF (1 brief @ 100 points) Your client exercises throughout the first half of the semester will culminate in a creative brief for your client.
- STRATEGY PORTFOLIO (200 points) In the second half of the semester, you will complete a series of strategy exercises, which will put your new strategy knowledge to the test. This is designed to be a cohesive piece, excellent for job applications.
- COURSE WRAP UP (50 points) Just as you did at the beginning of the semester, you'll complete a course wrap-up quiz that encapsulates your experience in the course this semester.

JOURNALISM REQUIREMENTS & GUIDELINES

JOURNALISM COURSE REGISTRATION

- By registering for this course, you are stating that you have taken the required prerequisites according to your catalog year and major/minor status. If the instructor later determines that you haven't taken and passed these requirements, then you may be dropped at any point in the semester. If you have questions about your prerequisites, please see an advisor.
- A journalism major enrolled in any restricted 3000 and 4000 level classes must have taken and passed all foundational courses. Students must earn and maintain a 2.5 UNT and/or overall GPA (depending upon catalog year) to be eligible for major-level courses.

RE-TAKING FAILED JOURNALISM CLASSES

Students will not be allowed to automatically take a failed journalism course more than two times. Once you have failed a journalism course twice, you will not be allowed to enroll in that course for one calendar year after the date you received the second failing grade. Once a student has waited one calendar year after failing a course twice, the student may submit a written appeal to the director to be approved to enroll a third time. Students will not be allowed to re-take a failed journalism course more than three times.

FINANCIAL AID SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS (SAP) UNDERGRADUATES

A student must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to continue to receive financial aid. Students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA in addition to successfully completing a required number of credit hours based on total registered hours per semester. Students cannot exceed attempted credit hours above 150% of their required degree plan. If a student does not maintain the required standards, the student may lose financial aid eligibility.

If at any point you consider dropping this or any other course, please be advised that the decision to do so has the potential to affect your current and future financial aid eligibility.

Please visit UNT Financial Aid (<https://financialaid.unt.edu/satisfactory-academic-progress-requirements>) for more information about financial aid Satisfactory Academic Progress. It may be wise for you to schedule a meeting with your MSOJ academic advisor or visit the Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office to discuss dropping a course before doing so.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

All first-time-in-college students at UNT are required to schedule an appointment with their Academic Advisor and receive an advising code to register for classes both fall and spring semesters of the first year in college. ALL students should meet with their Academic Advisor at least one time per long semester (Fall & Spring). It is important to update your degree plan on a regular basis to ensure that you are on track for a timely graduation.

It is imperative that students have paid for all enrolled classes. Please check your online schedule daily through late registration to ensure you have not been dropped for non-payment of any amount. Students have been unknowingly dropped from classes for various reasons such as financial aid, schedule change fees, parking fees, etc. MSOJ will not be able to reinstate students for any reason after late registration, regardless of situation. It is the student's responsibility to ensure all payments have been made.

ACCREDITATION

The Mayborn, which is one of over 100 journalism programs across the world that are accredited, is renewing its credentials this year. Accreditation is important to you because it means your degree is more valuable than one that comes from an unaccredited school.

Accreditation has profound benefits. Accredited programs may offer scholarships, internships, competitive prizes, and other activities unavailable in non-accredited programs.

ADVG 3300 SYLLABUS

Accreditation also provides an assurance of quality and rigorous standards to students, parents, and the public. Students in an accredited program can expect to find a challenging curriculum, appropriate resources and facilities, and a competent faculty.

Accreditation is our promise to our students that you will receive the best education possible in journalism and mass communication. With today's technology, anyone can present information to a mass audience. But not all are trained in the creation of ethical messages that reach and serve diverse audiences that our standards uphold. What you learn in an accredited program makes you more marketable and your degree more valuable!

The Mayborn School's accreditation is determined by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC) through an extensive evaluation process. Accreditation by the ACEJMC council means we embrace the value of a broad, multidisciplinary curriculum that nurtures critical thinking, analytic reasoning and problem-solving skills that are the essential foundation for all mass communication education.

ACADEMIC ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

Understanding the academic organizational structure and appropriate Chain of Command is important when resolving class-related or advising issues. When you need problems resolved, please follow the steps outlined below:

OFFICE OF DISABILITY ACCESS

The University of North Texas and the Mayborn School of Journalism make reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time. However, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class.

Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student.

For additional information see the website for the Office of Disability Access (<http://www.unt.edu/oda>). You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

COURSE SAFETY STATEMENTS

Students in the Mayborn School of Journalism are urged to use proper safety procedures and guidelines. While working in laboratory sessions, students are expected and required to identify and use property safety guidelines in all activities requiring lifting, climbing, walking on slippery surfaces, using equipment and tools, handling chemical solutions and hot and cold products. Students should be aware that the University of North Texas is not liable for injuries incurred while students are participating in class activities. All students are encouraged to secure adequate insurance coverage in the event of accidental injury. Students who do not have insurance coverage should consider obtaining Student Health Insurance for this insurance program. Brochures for this insurance are available in the UNT Health and Wellness Center on campus. Students who are injured during class activities may seek medical attention at the UNT

ADVG 3300 SYLLABUS

Health and Wellness Center at rates that are reduced compared to other medical facilities. If you have an insurance plan other than Student Health Insurance at UNT, please be sure that your plan covers treatment at this facility. If you choose not to go to the UNT Health and Wellness Center, you may be transported to an emergency room at a local hospital. You are responsible for expenses incurred there.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the use of any unauthorized assistance (including AI) in taking quizzes, tests, or exams; dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor, the acquisition of tests or other material belonging to a faculty member, dual submission of a paper or project, resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructors, or any other act designed to give a student an unfair advantage. Plagiarism includes the paraphrase or direct quotation of published or unpublished works without full and clear acknowledgment of the author/source. Academic dishonesty will bring about disciplinary action which may include expulsion from the university. This is explained in the UNT Student Handbook. Please see our course syllabus on Canvas and contact me with questions.

MSOJ ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

The codes of ethics from the Society of Professional Journalists, American Advertising Federation and Public Relations Society of America address truth and honesty. The Mayborn School of Journalism embraces these tenets and believes that academic dishonesty of any kind – including plagiarism and fabrication – is incongruent with all areas of journalism. The school's policy aligns with UNT Policy 06.003 and requires reporting any act of academic dishonesty to the Office for Academic Integrity for investigation. If the student has a previous confirmed offense (whether the first offense was in the journalism school or another university department) and the student is found to have committed another offense, the department will request the additional sanction of removing the student from the Mayborn School of Journalism. The student may appeal to the Office for Academic Integrity, which ensures due process and allows the student to remain in class pending the appeal.

FINAL EXAM POLICY

Please see our course syllabus on Canvas and contact me with questions.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

As you know, your access point for business and academic services at UNT occurs within the My.UNT site (www.my.unt.edu). If you do not regularly check EagleConnect or link it to your favorite e-mail account, please so do, as this is where you learn about job and internship opportunities, MSOJ events, scholarships, and other important information. Visit the Eagle Connect website for more information (http://eagleconnect.unt.edu/) including tips on how to forward your email.

COURSES IN A BOX

Any MSOJ equivalent course from another university must receive prior approval from the MSOJ academic advisor to ensure that all MSOJ degree plan requirements are met. For example, courses that are taken online or from a program that offers course material via CD, booklet, or other manner of correspondence must have prior advisor approval.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR F-1 STUDENTS TAKING DISTANCE EDUCATION COURSES

To comply with immigration regulations, an F-1 visa holder within the United States may need to engage in an on-campus experiential component for this course. This component (which must be approved in advance by the instructor) can include activities such as taking an on-campus exam, participating in multiple on-campus lecture or lab activity, or other on-campus experience integral to the completion of this course.

If such an on-campus activity is required, it is the student's responsibility to do the following:

- (1) Submit a written request to the instructor for an on-campus experiential component within one week of the start of the course.
- (2) Ensure that the activity on campus takes place and the instructor documents it in writing with a notice sent to the International Advising Office. The UNT International Advising Office has a form available that you may use for this purpose.

Because the decision may have serious immigration consequences, if an F-1 student is unsure about his or her need to participate in an on-campus experiential component for this course, students should contact the UNT International Advising Office (telephone 940-565-2195 or email international@unt.edu) to get clarification before the one-week deadline.

EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION & PROCEDURES

UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert to quickly notify you with critical information in an event of emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to Canvas for contingency plans for covering course materials. If Canvas is not accessible during the emergency, contact me via email or phone for more information. Students should confirm that their Eagle Alert contact information is correct via the myUNT portal.

STUDENT PERCEPTIONS OF TEACHING (SPOT)

Student feedback is important and an essential part of participation in this course. The student evaluation of instruction is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT. The short SPOT survey will be made available to provide you with an opportunity to evaluate how this course is taught. You will receive an email from "UNT SPOT Course Evaluations via IASystem Notification" (no-reply@iasystem.org) with the survey link. Please look for the email in your UNT email inbox. Simply click on the link and complete your survey. Once you complete the survey you will receive a confirmation email that the survey has been submitted. For additional information, please visit the SPOT website (www.spot.unt.edu) or email spot@unt.edu. Spots survey dates:

ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found on the Dean Of Students website (www.deanofstudents.unt.edu).

CLASSROOM POLICIES

The Mayborn School of Journalism requires that students respect and maintain all university property. Students will be held accountable through disciplinary action for any intentional damages they cause in classrooms. (e.g., writing on tables). Disruptive behavior is not tolerated (e.g., arriving late, leaving early, sleeping, talking on the phone, texting or game playing, making inappropriate comments, ringing cellular phones/beepers, dressing inappropriately).

SEXUAL DISCRIMINATION, HARRASSMENT, & ASSAULT

UNT is committed to providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences any of these acts of aggression, please know that you are not alone. The federal Title IX law makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses. UNT has staff members trained to support you in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more.

UNT's Dean of Students' website (http://deanofstudents.unt.edu/resources_0) offers a range of on-campus and off-campus resources to help support survivors, depending on their unique needs.
