Course Description, Structure, and Objectives

UNT Catalog Course Description

Principles of teaching social studies in primary and elementary school. Students observe social studies instruction and materials in real settings, apply principles of social studies instruction in classroom settings, and experience first-hand the scope and sequence of the curriculum in a school setting.

Course Prerequisites

Admission to the Teacher Education program; Concurrent enrollment in EDEE 3330 and EDRE 3350; Enrollment in Block A

Course Learning Objectives

The course is designed in alignment with the TEA Generalist EC-6 social studies standards. The goal of the course is to prepare students for their certification exam, Block B fieldwork, and their role as future EC-6 educators. The course touches on the various social studies disciplines and is designed with the understanding that students also gain content knowledge through the UNT core curriculum.

TEA Social Studies Generalist EC-6 Standards

- 1 The social studies teacher has a comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences and recognizes the value of the social sciences in society and the world.
- 2 The social studies teacher effectively integrates the various social science disciplines.
- 3 The social studies teacher uses knowledge and skills of social studies, as defined by the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS), to plan and implement effective curriculum, instruction, assessment, and evaluation.
- 4 History: The social studies teacher applies knowledge of significant historical events and developments, as well as multiple historical interpretations and ideas, to facilitate student understanding of relationships between the past, the present, and the future.

- 5 Geography: The social studies teacher applies knowledge of people, places, and environments to facilitate students' understanding of geographic relationships in Texas, the United States, and the world.
- 6 Economics: The social studies teacher knows how people organize economic systems to produce, distribute, and consume goods and services, and uses this knowledge to enable students to understand economic systems and make informed economic decisions.
- 7 Government: The social studies teacher knows how governments and structures of power function, provide order, and allocate resources, and uses this knowledge to facilitate student understanding of how individuals and groups achieve their goals through political systems.
- 8 Citizenship: The social studies teacher understands citizenship in the United States and other societies, and uses this knowledge to prepare students to participate in our society through an understanding of democratic principles and citizenship practices.
- 9 Culture: The social studies teacher understands cultures and how they develop and adapt, and uses this knowledge to enable students to appreciate and respect cultural diversity in Texas, the United States, and the world.
- 10 Science, Technology, and Society: The social studies teacher understands developments in science and technology, and uses this knowledge to facilitate student understanding of the social and environmental consequences of scientific discovery and technological innovation.

How to Succeed in this Course

Communication Practices

Connect with me via email or during office hours. Appointments can be scheduled through the Calendly link posted in Canvas. I am available for both in-person and virtual meetings. During busy periods, responses may take up to two business days. If you do not receive a response within that time, a follow-up email is welcome.

Please be intentional about email communication. Many questions can be answered by peers, and developing professional collaboration skills is an important part of teacher preparation.

Attendance and Participation

Because this course emphasizes collaboration and professional preparation, attendance and active participation are essential. Teaching is a profession that requires consistency and presence. For example, most districts provide teachers with about 10 sick days per year out of about 180 teaching days.

Those with excused absences during the semester must use their excused absence as their free absence. In other words, you do not get excused absences and a free absence.

The following will be the attendance policy for our course:

of Unexcused Absences	Deduction from Final Grade
0 – 1	No point deduction
2	3 points (e.g., 100-97)
3	5 points (e.g., 95-90)
4 or more	Failure of course

Tardiness Policy

Being on time is expected in the teaching profession. Three tardies will be counted as one unexcused absence. Arriving late or leaving early disrupts learning and will be recorded accordingly.

Whether an absence is excused or unexcused, students must complete the alternative Canvas assignment within one week of the missed class session to earn accountability points for that day.

It is the student's responsibility to sign the attendance sheet. Failure to sign the attendance sheet might result in an absence.

According to UNT Policy 06.039, illness is “deemed a matter between the student and their faculty member.” Therefore, you are given one day this semester to take as your sick day, unless it is an extenuating circumstance in which you should reach out to Dr. Smith. Please save your one unexcused absence for when you are ill. If you miss class for any reason outside a university excused absence or an extenuating circumstance, do not email Dr. Smith. For example, if you have a minor cold or a flat tire, do not email Dr. Smith. Rather, complete the makeup assignment.

Accommodations

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodations for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Access (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to the faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time; however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information, refer to the Office of Disability Access website (<https://studentaffairs.unt.edu/office-disability-access>). You may also contact ODA by phone at (940) 565-4323.

Academic Success Resources

UNT strives to offer a high-quality education in a supportive environment where you can learn, grow, and thrive. As a faculty member, I am committed to supporting you, and I want to remind you that UNT offers a range of mental health and wellness services to help maintain balance and well-being. Utilizing these resources is a proactive way to support your academic and personal success. To explore campus resources designed to support you, check out mental health services (<https://clear.unt.edu/student-support-services-policies>), visit unt.edu/success, and explore unt.edu/wellness. To get all your enrollment and student financial-related questions answered, go to scrappysays.unt.edu.

Supporting Your Success and Creating an Inclusive Learning Environment

I value the many perspectives students bring to our campus. Please work with me to create a classroom culture of open communication, mutual respect, and belonging. All discussions should be respectful and civil. Although disagreements and debates are encouraged, personal attacks are unacceptable. Together, we can ensure a safe and welcoming classroom for all. If you ever feel like this is not the case, please stop by my office and let me know. We are all learning together.

Academic Integrity and AI

For our class AI policy, I want to begin by being transparent about my own practices. I will not use AI to answer student emails, provide individualized feedback, evaluate or grade your work, or write letters of recommendation. These aspects of teaching are deeply relational, and using AI in these ways can affect the trust, care, and professional relationship I work to build with you. I value those relationships far more than efficiency. When I do use AI—for example, to assist in creating rubrics or identifying unclear language in assignment descriptions—I will clearly identify what was generated by AI. I never simply copy and paste from AI. I always make edits on AI-generated materials. You are encouraged to reflect on your own approach to AI in this course by crafting a brief statement about how you will or will not use it, guided by what you value about your learning, the course experience, and your relationships with peers and me. Your stance may evolve over the semester, but I ask that you always disclose AI use openly to me and to your classmates. There will be certain assignments in this course where the use of AI is not permitted. These will be clearly marked, and using AI on them will be considered academic dishonesty under the University's Academic Integrity Policy. This policy is not only about compliance, but it is also about protecting your own learning. Over-reliance on AI can limit your ability to practice critical thinking, communication, and other skills that this course is designed to develop.

Course policy is adapted from Watkins \(202\)5 and Dr. Dan Krutka's Fall 2025 EDEE 3340 syllabus.
