Course Description & Overview:

The purpose of this course is to develop awareness, appreciation, and enjoyment of concert dance forms within their historical, geographical, and socio-cultural contexts. More specifically, it's a study of modern dance and ballet on stage from 1900 to the present with an emphasis on dance in the United States. We will examine the evolution of these two concert dance forms through the lives of choreographers; the historical, political, social and cultural context of significant pieces of choreography; and the aesthetic movements and themes represented by specific dances through time. Through numerous readings and viewings, as well as physical experiences, students will engage with skills of observation, movement learning, contextual and comparative analysis, and descriptive and critical communication about dance.

Course Prerequisites:

DANC 1250, DANCE 2800

This course fulfills:

Dance Major requirements and Elective requirements

Learning Outcomes:

This course will tap into multiple modes of learning, incorporated through movement, written responses, readings, visual observation, verbal responses and written analysis.

Upon successful completion of this course students will:

- demonstrate awareness of the forms, trends, and key individuals in dance from 1900-Present
- identify critical frameworks useful for evaluating the impact of historical, social, and political influences on dance practices.
- demonstrate an ability to compare and critique dance practices and their historical periods/styles
- apply strategies for critical reading and observing dances and dance writing styles
- design and execute a research project
- demonstrate a comfortable and dynamic presence/presentation in front of an audience

Course Materials and Supplies:

Reynolds, Nancy, and Malcolm McCormick. Dance in the Twentieth Century: No Fixed Points. New Haven, London: Yale University Press, 2003. Print.

Major Course Assignments and Examinations:

Assignments will include viewing and listening to videotapes and online audio resources.

1. Each week students are expected to bring two reflections, comments, and/or questions, grounded in the assigned reading. These responses will guide our class discussion. If more than one chapter is assigned, please write one response per chapter, though you are always welcome to write more if desired. The responses will be submitted to the instructor through Canvas and a copy brought to class.

You are asked to engage and interact with the text in order to assert your own agency in our class discussions and in the field of dance. I charge you to be an active participant and learner in class.

2. For the mid-term assignment, students will develop an oral presentation through the Canvas course shell concerning a historical dance figure of their choice. The presentation will include the following areas: artist as a person, historical/geographical/political context, artistic characteristics, and cultural relevance. Cited text from various sources, including (but not limited to) readings and discussions in class, will aid in the production of the oral presentation. Additional sources may be obtained through local libraries or the web (not Wikipedia). Research will be formally cited in MLA format.

3. At the end of the semester, students will complete and present a comprehensive group project which will include research, creating a visual aid, writing a dance critique, and recreating and performing a short dance. Individual members will perform separate tasks as determined by the instructor. Cited visual imagery and cited text from various sources, including (but not limited to) readings and discussions in class, will aid in the production of the project. Additional sources may be obtained through local libraries or the web (not Wikipedia). Research will be formally cited in MLA format.

How to Keep Track of Your Grade Throughout the Semester

Canvas allows you two ways to keep a running or continual track of where your grade is with the graded record of each assignment. If you scroll all the way to the right in your gradebook screen, you will see a "Running Total" and a "Running Weighted Total." The Running Total adds up your points in relation to the total points possible to accumulate throughout the entire course.

The Running Weighted Total keeps track of how your points are calculated in relation to the assigned percentage for each assignment. In this class, the easiest way to keep track of your grade is through the percentage level you receive through the Running Weighted Total. It will tell you where you are in terms of your grade scale with each assignment.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

This course meets once a week. Only ONE absence is allowed in this course. It is advised to only take an absence for extreme and urgent circumstances. Missing class material impacts your ability to progress and succeed in this course. Attendance is imperative in a course where the discussions and interactions may not be duplicated. The themes and concepts developed in class discussions, movement activities, and videos create the basis for our analytical studies over the course of the semester. Absent students are expected to inform themselves of the material and videos, as well as any handouts missed.

It is the student's responsibility to verify his/her attendance with the instructor after attendance has been taken.

LATE WORK:

Late work is not permitted in this class after 24 hours from the deadline (10% immediately deducted from late submissions after the deadline). Exceptions to this policy will only be considered for extreme extenuating circumstances. Students must speak with the instructor immediately if they foresee a problem in submitting their work on time.

If the student has not amassed at least 30% of their 100 % grade by mid-term, the student will receive an unsatisfactory progress notice. If the student continues making unsatisfactory progress he or she will be asked to drop the course.

All required assignments in this course may be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin.com

EVALUATION METHODS:

Written work and course assignments are graded on fulfillment of the assigned parameters. Participation and contribution in class discussions is expected. Preparation for class includes completion of and reflection on assigned readings, as well as prepared ideas for discussion. Class participation will reflect student demonstration of the following:

1. arrive ready
2. ability to articulate and engage the concepts presented in class
3. contribution to creating a better environment

Additional Information:

Students must have access to UNT's Canvas platform and UNT outlook (email). The instructor will arrange for each student to have access to his or her own Canvas shell.

Very Important: Lack of access to a computer or technical problems with a computer is not an acceptable excuse for missing assignments or meeting deadlines. Plan ahead and develop a backup plan.

- Students must also save a copy of the important course documents and course assignments on their computers or memory stick in the event that Canvas or the UNT web site becomes unavailable.

- Students should use only their UNT e-mail account when communicating with the instructor, classmates, and completing online coursework.
- Students must make a consistent practice of sending a carbon copy to themselves of any email they send out in order to document their work and to keep these in a designated electronic computer folder on their own computer or external drive.

CLASSROOM POLICIES:

It is expected that you will be respectful, supportive, and tolerant of each of your colleagues in this class. A multitude of topics and images will be presented in class that may cause discomfort and may reflect one's life, familial, or cultural experiences. When engaging in critical discussions, it is important to be mindful of how our words and body language can impact others. This is also a general life skill that will serve you outside of the academic setting.

No food or drinks in the classroom, besides water in a closed container. Please dress in comfortable, but not baggy clothing. Socks are permitted for warm-up only, but not suggested. Turn cell phones OFF when entering the classroom.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

UNT's Policy of Academic Dishonesty found in the Student Handbook applies to this course. If caught plagiarizing (meaning copying) published sources or another student you will be referred to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities and you will also fail this course. This policy also applies if you are caught falsifying your attendance or misrepresenting your work in any way. For your own sake, please be sure that you are familiar with the rules and regulations regarding Academic Dishonesty. "The term 'plagiarism' includes, but is not limited to: 1. The knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgement [or citation] and/or 2. The knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or by an agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials."

STUDENT BEHAVIOR IN THE CLASSROOM:

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.unt.edu/csrr

STUDENT OBLIGATIONS TO ACADEMIC/PRODUCTION WORK:

DT students are expected to budget and organize their time and efforts in order to meet both their academic and production commitments satisfactorily and on time. The faculty and staff recognize that the academic and production assignments within the Department, as well as outside employment, athletics, and other obligations, sometimes impose conflicting pressures on DT students. One of the principal responsibilities of each student is to carefully identify and monitor the commitments that comprise his/her production work and outside obligations do not constitute an excused absence from DT classes or from the completion of any required class assignments.

DISABILITIES STATEMENT-MOVEMENT:

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking reasonable accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with a reasonable accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request reasonable accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of reasonable accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of reasonable accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of reasonable accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

*To graduate, students majoring in dance and theatre must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 in dance courses, make a B in dance technique courses and at least a C in all other dance courses comprising his/her major.

*Students who miss the first day of class without consent of the instructor are subject to be administratively dropped from the course so that other students may be added. Students who must miss the first day of class because of illness or some other acceptable excuse must notify the instructor on record the day of the absence.

The instructor reserves the right to amend this syllabus as necessary.
