A note from Pastor Karla...

Happy summer!

The other day my husband and I were driving to get lunch, a rare outing without kids, and we had an encounter that left us uncontrollably laughing. You know the kind of laughter that leaves you with tears flowing down your cheeks? The story itself is not that interesting but, I have to tell you, it felt good to laugh.

Sometimes I wonder if that is what God does when he sees some of the ways we try to fumble through our "grown up" lives? I wonder if he laughs--not in a sinister way--but in a way that brings joy to His soul. Not in a way that condemns, but in a gentle way that recognizes the humor endowed in His Creation.

Summer is a great time to remember that our God both mourns with us and laughs with us. May you find moments of joy in the midst of your life, no matter the season of your soul, and may that bring a smile to your face.

Things that make you go hmmm....

1. If the #2 pencil is so popular, why is it still #2?
2. Why do psychics ask for your name?
3. Is "cute as a button" really a compliment?
4. If something "goes without saying" why do people say that?
5. What hair color do they put on the license of bald men?
6. Why is the word abbreviation so long?
7. Isn't it a bit unnerving that doctors call what they do "practice"?
8. Why does fat chance and slim chance mean the same thing?
9. If nothing sticks to Teflon, how do they make Teflon stick to the pan?
10. How do "do not walk on the grass" signs get there?

Preschool Openings!

Session Highlights July 27, 2022

The Session gathered in person and on Zoom, with elders joining from three time zones, and Elder Carolyn Verhoye joining from near Machu Picchu in wintry Peru! Also attending were several guests of the Renovation Task Force and the Capital Campaign Committee, who shared their proposals for the next steps in campus renovation. John Dominy, Domus Studios' principal architect, presented the latest concept plans for the renovation, which include development of open spaces in the campus center, and new construction and remodeling of the education buildings.

The Session endorsed the Capital Campaign Committee's motion to start development of materials that will help interpret the renovation projects to the congregation. The fundraising Steier Group will produce the materials.

Pastor Karla Shaw and Elder Gresham Bayne reported on challenges facing private preschools following the opening of state-funded free pre-kindergarten programs. But Bayne lauded the continued robust health of the church finances and projections, thanks to generous giving and efficient operations.

And the Session also thanked God in prayers for faithful leaders, inspiring plans, and the lives of cherished members and friends.

"Is This a Good Time to Invest in the Endowment?"

Over the last few weeks, we have received variations of this question asking about timing a gift to the Endowment. My favorite version is the title for several reasons.

These questions all recognize that the stock markets have declined in recent months. One question was, "I have some unexpected funds just now, but should I wait to donate to the Endowment until the stock market goes back up?"

The answer to these questions is that any time is a great time to make contributions or bequests to the Endowment. When the Endowment receives funds, it invests those funds in the principal of the Endowment. The principal is invested for the very long term. As a result, there is an argument that when the market is low, as it is now, it may be an excellent time for many people to contribute funds to the Endowment principal. That creates the likelihood of a more significant appreciation of the principal as the markets rebound. However, short-run market changes do not drive the Endowment because the principal of the Endowment is expected to last in perpetuity. As for income, the increase in interest rates may result in higher interest payments over the coming months (or years).

Of course, the answer to the question of timing very much depends on the donor's circumstances. Someone wanting to contribute cash will be in a different position than someone with stock that has temporarily declined in value. For example, the latter donor may decide it is better to wait until the markets have rebounded.

In short, while there may be individual considerations in deciding when the time is right to contribute to the Endowment, it is always a good time from the perspective of its benefits to the future work of the church.

"Is this a good time to invest in the Endowment?" is an excellent statement of the question because it recognizes that such contributions are always an investment. The Endowment exists as an investment in the future of the PLCPC and the future work of the church. It is always a good time to make such an investment.

We welcome your thoughts and comments. You may reach us by contacting Jolene Wade at jolene@pointlomachurch.org or 619-223-1633 x204 or the chair of the Endowment, Steve Smith at srs@cwsu.edu.

Twenty Years or Prayer Quilts!

Since 2002, we at PLCPC have been covering each other and strangers around the world with prayers, represented by knots tied into small quilts.

Chapter 78 of Prayers & Squares International, we have made and distributed more than 2,000 quilts, at the rate of 100 or so each year. Just think about all those people. Think about all those prayers.

This ministry manifests God's boundless love. Each quilt is a testimony to the mysteriousness of the Lord's ways and to the power of prayer. Those prayers don't end when the quilts are delivered. Richelle Slater leads a team that meets regularly to pray for our recipients, lifting them up again, often over several months.

On August 21, we will once again decorate the sanctuary with prayer quilts. Come celebrate twenty years with us! If you'd like to request a quilt, please send an email to Lynn Spafford at redbrickprayerquilts@gmail.com.

If you'd like to join the chapter (we are a very fun group) or if you have an update on a recipient, please contact Karen Vandenberg at ktvandenberg@aol.com or (858) 569-6115.

Among the many adventures had by our junior high students at Campus by the Sea last month was this meeting of a gopher snake on Catalina Island.

Nothing screams summer fun quite like sunsets, bonfires and s'mores on a San Diego beach. Our youth recently enjoyed all three at Ocean Beach.

Rancho Genesis Intergenerational Mission Trip

Seventeen PLCPC members ages 5 to 77 spent a week at Rancho Genesis, south of Ensenada, to serve a Mexican orphanage. Our goal was to love and serve these children as Jesus would. At Rancho Genesis, these orphans experience a typical summer camp adventure including VBS, hiking, swimming, games and campfires as we act as the loving arms of Jesus for these severely neglected children. This is the one week of the year where the orphans get to leave their situation and have a true camp experience. The time at Rancho Genesis was transformational for both the orphans and Church members as we experienced God's love on a deeper and more meaningful level.

Session Restructure Update

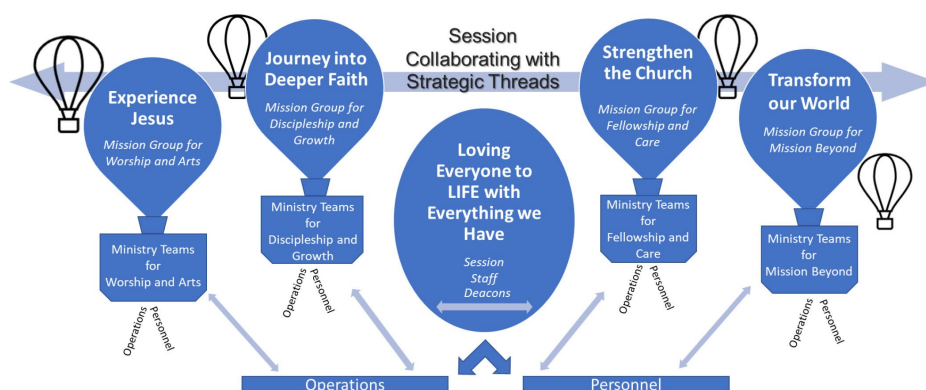

Submitted by: Lynn Ziegenfuss

Last December the Session decided to depart from its 60+ year old committee system and develop a new structure. A transition team was appointed to implement the changes. The goals were to: 1) create a more collaborative way of working among the Elders and church staff; 2) align with the four corners of the PLCPC mission (Experience Jesus, Journey into Deeper Faith, Strengthen the Church, Transform the World); 3) become more strategic, innovative, discerning and evaluative; 4) find more ways to shepherd, engage and empower more of our church family to live out our mission and vision, "Loving everyone to life with everything we have."

The Transition Working Group met for several months to develop implementation steps. This diagram was created using new language and a vision that describes the new structure. The four hot air balloons represent the elders and staff that lead the four mission teams. For example, the worship services and online ministries leaders are placed in the Experience Jesus Team. Mission Groups, fellowship groups such as Women's and Men's Ministries, and care ministries, such as Deacons are placed in the Strengthen the Church Team. Mission Support Groups that undergird and intersect with each of our four mission teams are the Management and Operations Group, and the Personnel Group.

The hot air balloon image demonstrates the mission teams' role to "float above" day-to-day details. They seek to be more innovative, discerning and prayerful about God's leading while evaluating the effectiveness of current programs. This is a big change with MANY steps ahead! The Session believes in this new design, and we need your prayers for wisdom and patience, as change is never easy or comfortable.

At the June Session and Staff annual retreat we practiced this new design - a sort of test flight that we intend to fully launch this fall, when we ask the Spirit of God to "fill our balloons" as we take flight. Watch for the changes and join us! And, again, please pray as we embark on this journey!

Would you Like a Custom Piano Bookcase?

Our beautiful choir room piano is ready to be laid to rest as the tuning pegs are no longer able to hold its tuning and are too expensive to fix. We are grateful for an anonymous donor who has offered to cover the cost of a new instrument.

John Spafford has offered to recycle the piano and convert the case into a beautiful custom bookcase for a substantial donation to the Music Ministry. The piano harp is also available as a home decoration. Please contact Alicia at alicia@pointlomachurch.org if you are interested.
