

Contraception

STUDENT BOOK p. 151

Methods for preventing the implantation of the zygote in the uterus

STUDENT BOOK p. 151

1. Which of the following statements does not apply to contraception?

- a) Contraception is intended to prevent pregnancy. ☐
- b) Some methods of contraception are intended to prevent the formation of a zygote (fertilized ovum). ☐
- c) Some methods of contraception are intended to prevent the production of an ovum. ☐
- d) Contraception is intended to prevent the occurrence of an STI (sexually transmitted infection). ☐

2. Indicate which method of contraception is described in each statements below. Choose a method from among those in the box.

Condom	Emergency contraceptive pill	Contraceptive injection
Tubal ligation	Mini-pill	Contraceptive pill
IUD	Contraceptive patch	Vasectomy

- a) Worn on the skin and changed once a week to release the hormones it contains
- b) Pill containing only one kind of hormone
- c) Pill containing hormones taken as soon as possible after sexual intercourse
- d) Sheath usually made of latex fitted over the erect penis
- e) Surgical procedure for blocking the fallopian tubes
- f) Device placed in the uterus by a doctor and left as long as contraception is desired
- g) Surgical procedure for cutting the vas deferens
- h) Oral pill containing synthetic hormones that mimic natural hormones
- i) Synthetic hormone injected into a muscle every three months

3. Which methods of contraception cited in question 2 cause sterility?
