CREATING THE CONTEXT

I ask myself questions

- 1. What is junk food?
- 2. Name the systems involved in the process of nutrition.
- 3. Who are the actors in this case study?
- 4. What questions could help guide you in gathering information?

I must

5. Restate the goal of the case study.

GATHERING INFORMATION

I do research

1. Identify the role of the systems involved in the process of nutrition. Name the tissues or organs associated with each of these systems.

System	Role	Organs or tissues

2. Gather the information needed to complete this case study.

I apply my research results (continued)

3. Identify the effects of the diet in question on the teen you selected in the table below. Specify which tissues, organs and systems involved in the process of nutrition are affected.

COMPLETING THE CASE STUDY

I make suggestions

Write the text of the broadcast. Introduce the eating habits you are suggesting to the person you have selected. Then describe how they will limit the negative effects of junk food on his or her tissues and organs.
