

Chromatograph: performs chemical analyses.

Spectrophotometer: measures the degree of absorption for a given wavelength.

High-resolution NMR spectroscopy: studies highly complex molecules.

Spectrometer: measures the spectrum emitted by the elements.