Focusing on Safety

School administrators held their annual back-to-school meeting with the team of Mooresville Schools officers (all off-duty local police officers) this week.

The group discussed safety protocols and plans as well as information about Mooresville Schools' newly expanded behavioral health program and recently received grant for upgrading to a digital radio system.

Mooresville Schools was also one of several districts which will receive hand-held metal detectors from the state. Officers and school administrators will all take part in training in August about the proper use of the detectors.
