

Eldership at Mount Pleasant Christian Church

In accordance with the Biblical qualifications for eldership and MPCC's guiding principles for elder selection, three men have been unanimously approved by the current elders to be added to our eldership. If anyone in the congregation has concerns about their qualifications, please mail your letter to the attention of Chairman of the Elders, using the church address. If no disqualifying charges are presented in writing to the current elders, signed and substantiated by witnesses within three weeks of this date, these men will be officially ordained as elders in January. Please pray for the leadership of Mount Pleasant Christian Church and for our prospective elders.

Luke Akard

Luke and Carol Akard have been members of Mount Pleasant for 24 years. They are lifelong residents of the Indianapolis area and have been married for 38 years and have four adult children, two living in Indianapolis and two out of state, with their first granddaughter due in April. Luke is a hematologist specializing in bone marrow transplantation. The Akards have served in mission trips, teaching small groups, Music and Arts ministry, the IMPACT Center and as an elder.

Rick Nevill

Rick Nevill has been married to Elizabeth for 33 wonderful years and have attended Mount Pleasant for the past 20 years. He has served in the Community Life Center and IMPACT Center and he is currently serving as a leader of a Group and in the Soul Care ministry focused on premarital couples. They have two grown children, Alex and Allison. Rick works for Eli Lilly in their drug discovery organization.

Clark Wilson

A member since 1995, Clark and his wife Sherri have been married for 38 years and have three children: Austin, Avery, and Adrienne. He is retired from Eli Lilly. Clark and Sherri currently lead Bible Bowl.
