

SHOW HOW SMART YOU ARE DON'T SHOW OFF YOUR SMART PHONE

If your phone is stolen, immediately notify an MTA Police Officer or transit employee. Protect yourself and protect your property.

Your safety is paramount

PLAY IT SAFE

Trusting your instincts and staying aware of your surroundings is key to protect your personal property. Be sure to take the time to properly stow it away prior to entering or exiting a transit vehicle.

THEFT PREVENTION

- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Keep cell phones or other electronic devices secure – specifically on station platforms and near train doors.
- Don't lend your device to strangers.
- Be discrete in making phone calls or listening to music to avoid attention of would-be thieves.
- Report suspicious persons or activity to MTA Police or other MTA employees.

ADDITIONAL MEASURES

- Register your device if possible.
- Keep a record of the device, including make, model and serial number.
- Password-protect your cell phone/device if possible.
- Take advantage of available tracking applications that can identify the location of your device if it is stolen.

TRACKING APPLICATIONS

- Tracking applications are readily available for both the iPhone and Android models and are often free or can be purchased for a low price.
- Apple offers a free "Find My iPhone" feature through their iCloud service. Please access the link below for further information.

- There are multiple applications available for download on the Android Market which provide similar services.
- Contact your service provider for specific information on available applications to provide this service.

Remember, security is everybody's responsibility

These measures and applications can assist law enforcement during an investigation, increasing the chances of recovering a stolen item.
