2026 State Election Results

Last updated: November 16, 2026 at 10:00 am ET.

MULTISTATE

Gubernatorial Party Control After the 2026 Elections

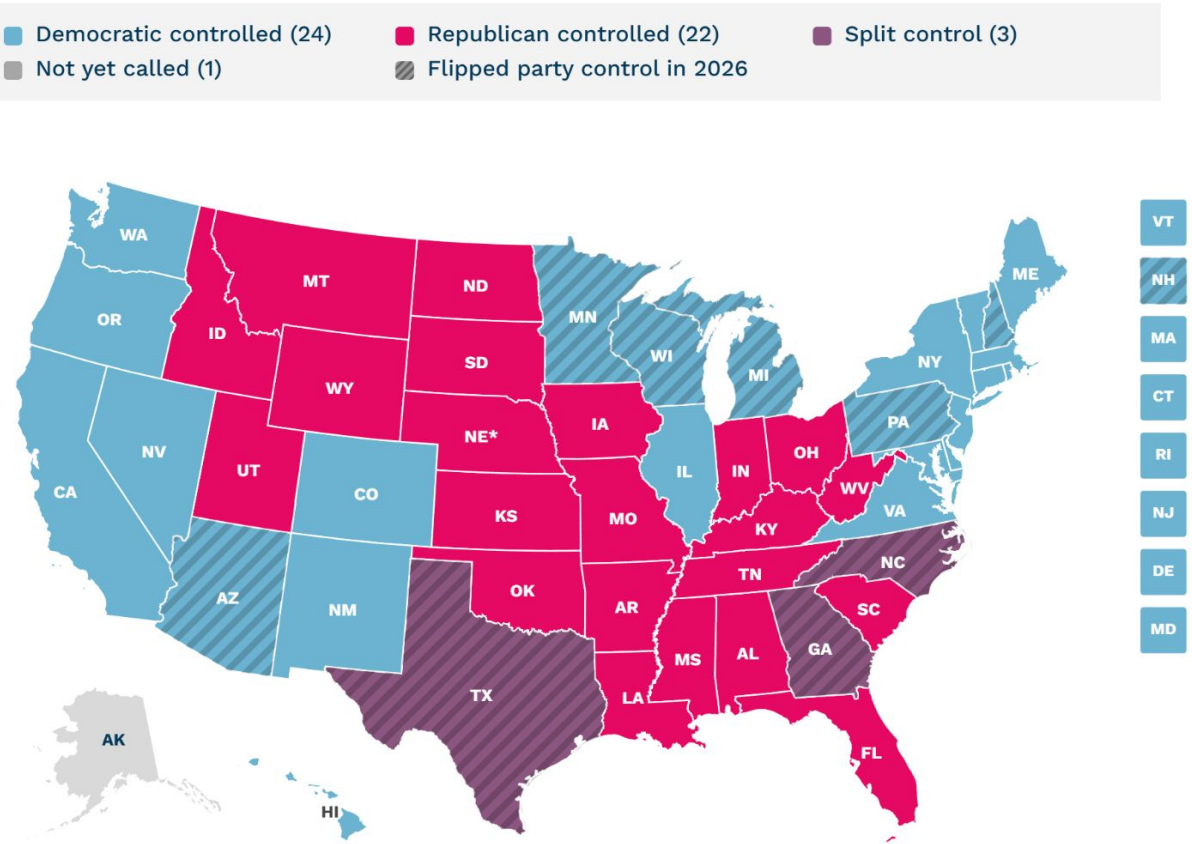

- 36 states held gubernatorial elections in 2026.
- Democrats flipped six governor's offices: Alaska, Georgia, Iowa, Nevada, Ohio, and Texas. Republicans flipped none.

Source: MultiState. Data as of November 14, 2026. Stripes indicate a change in party control of the governorship in 2026.
*Indicates a 2026 gubernatorial election.

Legislative Party Control After the 2026 Elections

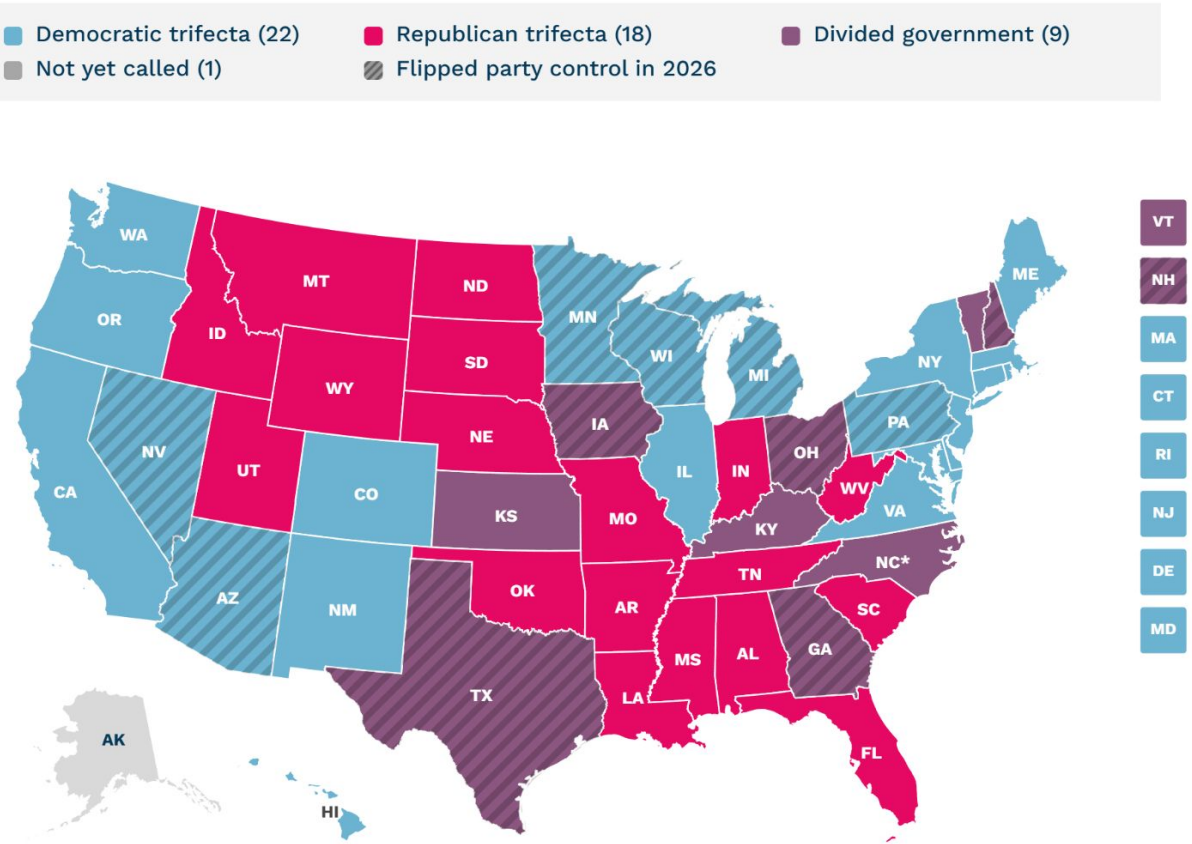

- 88 of 99 chambers in 46 states held elections.
- Nine states saw a change in legislative control: AZ (R → D), GA (R → split), MI (split → D), MN (split → D), NH (R → D), NC (R → split), PA (split → D), TX (R → split), and WI (R → D).
- One state has yet to be called: Alaska (likely coalition)

Source: MultiState. Data as of November 11, 2026. Stripes indicate a change in legislative control in 2026. Gray indicates one or more chambers not yet called. *Nebraska's legislature is nonpartisan; shaded by its majority's party affiliation.

Trifecta Status by State After the 2026 Elections

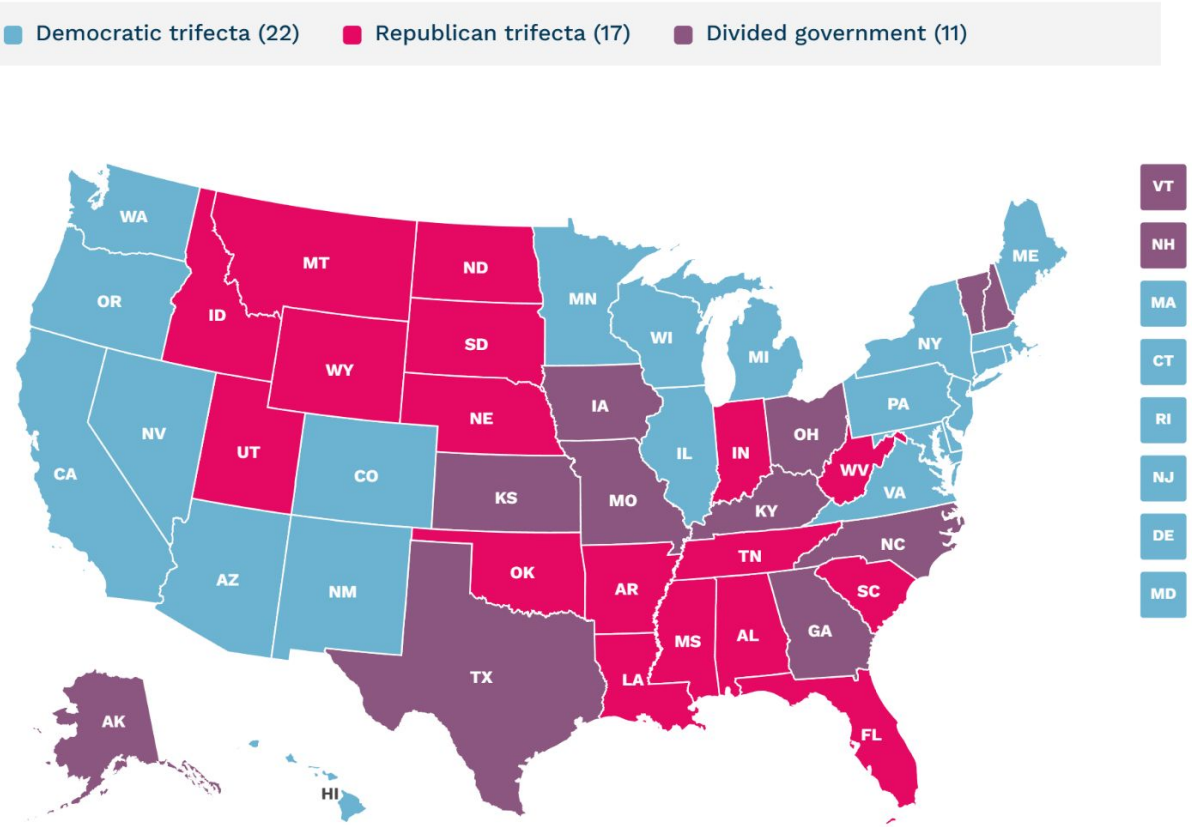

- Democrats gained trifectas in AZ, MI, MN, NV, PA, and WI.
- Republicans lost trifectas in five states: GA, IA, NH, OH, and TX. All five now have divided government.
- The Alaska legislature (likely coalition) has not been called and Democrats flipped the governor's office.

Source: MultiState. Data as of November 9, 2026. Shading shows trifecta status going into 2027. Stripes indicate states whose trifecta status changed as a result of the 2026 elections. Gray indicates states where uncalled races could still change trifecta status. *Projected from current leads; not yet called.

2027 Trifecta Status by State

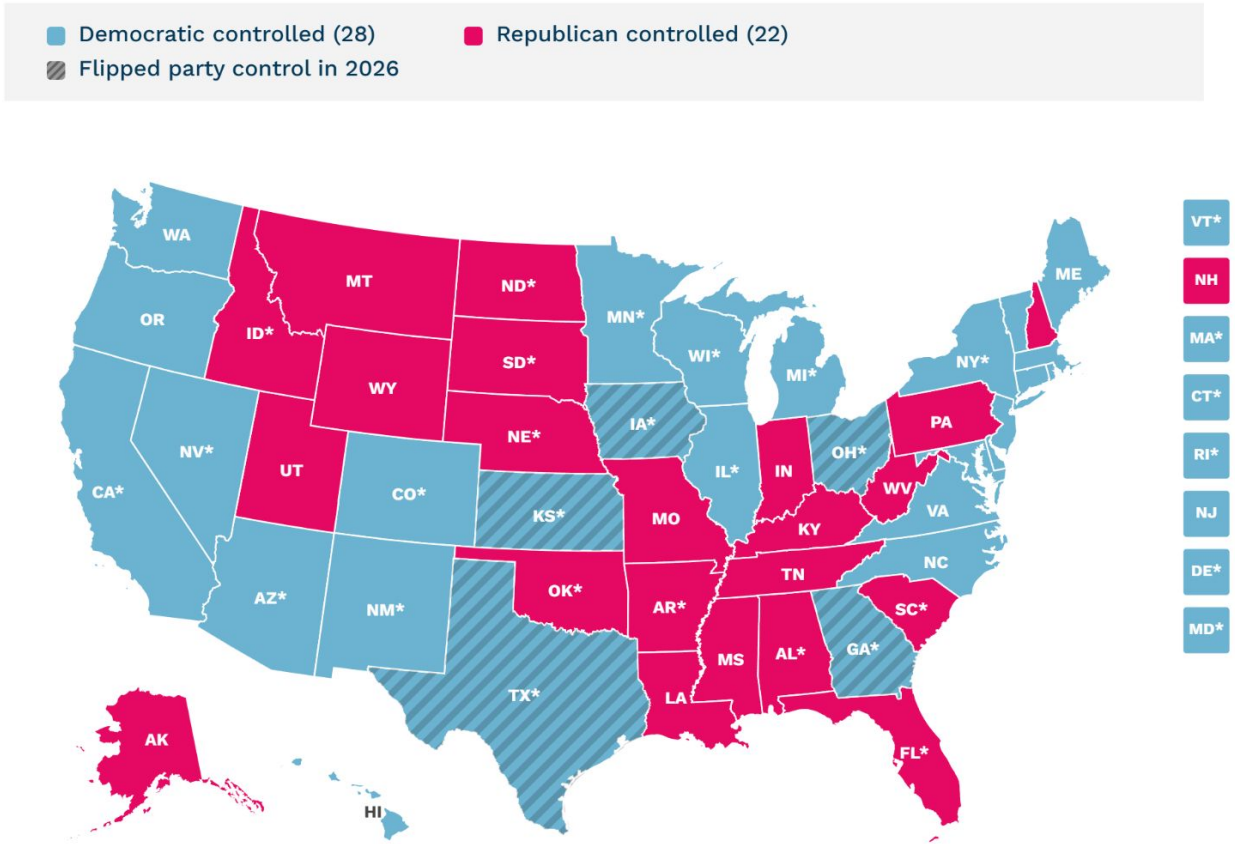

- Democrats trifectas new for 2027: Arizona, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.
- New split governments for 2027: Georgia, Iowa, New Hampshire, Ohio, and Texas.

Source: MultiState. Data as of November 9, 2026. Shading shows trifecta status going into 2027.

AG Party Control After the 2026 Elections

- 30 states held elections for attorney general.
- Democrats flipped attorneys general offices in Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio, and Texas.

Source: MultiState. Data as of November 9, 2026. Stripes indicate a change in party control of the attorney general's office in 2026. *Indicates a 2026 attorney general election.