

One Minute Free Traffic It's "Q-Time"

Bonus Video Transcript

Okay, I'm very pumped for you. Congratulations. Because it's now Q time. You have enough knowledge, do you have enough skill even with one minute free traffic and what you've learned from myself, John S. Rhodes and also my brother Matt Rhodes with one minute free traffic, you can truly go queue time on this and I'm talking about the ability to be lazy and keep things simple, make it very passive for yourself. There is just very, very little competition here. The importance is that you're not fighting against other people and there's so many people, millions, hundreds of millions of people and there are so many questions flooding in all times of the questions. We'll never stop. So you have an unlimited, you know, greenfield, blue sky, blue ocean opportunity here. Really, really great. Really cool. It's also easy to do. I mean if you're struggling, just go back and look at the training, look at the philosophy and the psychology behind this.

Most important, look at what actually works, what I've proven to work, what we've shown you again and again. Hundreds of millions of users are there and I say users there, humans, real people. This is not dumb, ugly, weird. You know what clicks or something, this, there's no bots here. These are real people, 30 million active users and hundreds of millions of accounts because people are always leaving and coming back and then there are the die hards and they are hungry and desperate for you and your knowledge and your trainings and your information. They're looking to connect with real people with real answers. By the way, nothing says you can't outsource the answer development, the answer creation. In fact, you could also have people look for great questions for you to answer. Great questions for you to be thinking about ahead of time. They can even write up the content for you.

You can use Fiverr and Upwork, other sites as well to outsource practically everything, right? My advice have them answer by writing top 10 list for you. This is a great way to outsource, a great way to win with one minute free traffic utilizing Quora, the cue time. It's a proven approach. I've shown you the cue lander. I've shown you how to set up your profile, what topics to look at, how many people are answering. I've shown you the metrics, the data, but most important in your gut and your heart. You know that this is proven. I've shown you the traffic. I've shown you where people are looking. I've shown you how they think now. You know what I know so you can go big time. The way you go, big time as you do this over and over and over. This is not about trading time for money.

This is about leveraging and compounding the investment that you're making with one question and one answer at a time. And then growing and growing, not just financially, but the reputation, getting the fans, growing girl groups growing your email list, you grow and you expand. It's not linear, it's nonlinear. You can go big in a big way. Scale and growth with one minute free traffic. Other people can be building your empire because you're outsourcing and in an intelligent way. In fact, there's some software that will help you do this as well. Okay? Reinvest profits and growth. Don't reinvest profits and you know, buying the new Lamborghini instead, grow your business and then you'll have Lamborghinis dropping out of the sky, so to speak, right? But the money, the real profits come from reinvesting in profits. It's this wonderful, wonderful, virtuous circle. The more money you make, the more you invest back into your growth.

The more you invest in your growth, the more money you make, and then you can start to take money out and really enjoy one minute free traffic, growing your business and other people doing the work for you and other tools. Are there software making the magic happen, making it rain, making it happen, making it finally work for you. It's working for you. The system works for you at first, a little bit of elbow grease at first, a little bit of time, but you can do this. I really believe in you. I'm very excited for you and we'll see you in the next video.
