

One Minute Free Traffic The Lazy Q Lander

Bonus Video Transcript

Super pumped about this. It's the one minute list secret and I call it the lazy Q lander. Let's take a look at what that really means. Now, the principles of success, I'm going to get into specifics in a moment, but strategically you're using Quora to push people over to a blog post and then you're going to monetize that blog post and it doesn't need to be wonderful or beautiful. Obviously the better design that you've got, the better off you are, but you do not need perfection here. The hint, the big money hint here is that you write your blog post before answering on Quora. In other words, you look for questions on Quora. Then you rapidly create content as a blog post. Then you go back to Quora and when you're providing the answer you say, Hey, I just wrote a blog post about this, which is absolutely true.

It's very ethical. It also means you've got fresh content. It's a little bit sneaky though, right? Cause you're looking at the questions people are asking and then you're going to create the content. Then go back. It's sneaky but deadly effective. I also recommend if you're sort of stuck and you need more content, and you also want to provide SEO juice to your blog post for SEO purposes. Well look, while you're at it, while you're putting together your queue lander, go ahead. Be Smart about this and embed videos in your blog post to increase the stickiness as well on your blog post. Even if they're not your videos, you can go to YouTube, grab the embed code, drop the video onto your blog post. And then of course, you know, once people have landed on your cue lander monetize list-build, uh, you've, you've got your direct affiliate links.

You can do so much more. I'm a fan of building your list because then you get push button traffic directly. I'm going to show you a quick demo of this so you can see for yourself. So here's a personal example here. Uh, do people who are rich enough to pay cash for a house still take on alone? Anyway, so I saw this question and then what I did is I built out a blog post about exactly this. I actually then I saw this question and then I wrote this particular blog post. So over at web word I wrote this wider rich people take out loans. So then here at the top I've got 10 ways to make $10 in 10 minutes. Of course this points to a squeeze page. And then I wrote out the answers super fast, took maybe be five, six, seven minutes to write this really fast.

And then the side Hustle, I actually point off to what I've shown you in previous trainings that I'm pointing off to my freelance paycheck, which is a program that, that I run a, you can be an affiliate for that if you'd like to do that. But the point is that I built this cue lander and you can see there again, I know there's a little bit of repetition there. And also as I mentioned videos, I just embedded a video, you know, if you can't afford a house, don't buy one. You know, Dave Ramsey. So I'm doing this for keyword juice. I'm doing this because it's sticky. People are watching. And then, okay, your turn a time to make money side hustle so you can see exactly what I did is I built this based on the question that I saw here and then I went back to Quora and wrote out the answer and really I just summarized what I wrote over on the blog post.

Super powerful stuff, and I also want to point out one more thing and you know I got the upvotes. The quality is very high here. It's not junk. It's really useful because I provided the summary and it's, you can see there are one, two, three, three bullet points and then some bullet sub bullets underneath that particular look at this right? 1.3 k view. So 1,300 views. What do you think that this does? This gets that real traffic over to my queue lander, which means I'm getting real people visiting my site, joining my email list, and that means money. It is absolutely drop dead simple when you follow the system with
