Headline: forfeit – Not enough players

What's the call, Ump? This recently happened. Batter hits a line drive right back at the pitcher. The ball glances off his glove. The ball hits the protective netting and rolls towards home plate. The batter doesn't run because he thinks the ball is dead. Meanwhile the pitcher picks up the ball and tosses to 1st base. Is this a live or dead ball?

Unfortunately for the batter, the ball is live and he is out.
