The Dry Season is a remarkable time to return to Ghana. It has been several years since we have been in this season and I (Bonnie) have missed it. The weather is HOT and very DUSTY. You constantly see small funnels of dirt and trash swirling around in the sky. Although this year we have been averaging only about 102, which is much milder than some years. We did have one rain in January—thankfully when most of the roof we were replacing on Tamale Mission House was already on. I guess I like this season because it is the season we first experienced when we moved to Ghana. Certainly not the lush green land we see once the rains come.

N-Limo Church has been completed and dedicated with much appreciation from both the Church and the Village. Very soon Salvation Church will be plastered and have a ceiling. What a joy it is to have been a small part of erecting church buildings. The best thing though is how the Word is going out and people are coming to know Christ and worship in those buildings.

South Fork Church team has been with us three weeks and have been to most every area, facilitating Bible Club Leaders trainings and giving out teaching tools to help the Club Leaders enhance their Bible Stories with newer technologies, Story Cloths, Skits, and Games. Everyone has been blessed and been a blessing to each other.

Our other BIG news for us since returning is the starting of a two year Mentoring/Trainee program with nine young men. They have moved in to join us in ministry and will be translating both orally and written, going into schools as part of the Joyful Sowers, and leading the Seedlings!
