

Our Strategy

FACES Ministry Center

Full range of services to children and adolescents who have immigrated to the city to work, teaching them about children's rights, and offering them hope through a personal relationship with Jesus.

New World Christian School

Christian school designed to meet the needs of the working children.

Outreach to Quichua & Shuar Communities

Development of relationships with the Indigenous communities from which the children immigrate, working together with village leaders to found economic projects that benefit the entire family and community, thus turning the tide on child labor.

We covet your prayers for the FACES children, leadership, teachers, and volunteers.

The FACES Ministry and the Susong Family Ministries are outreaches of the Church of God.

For over a decade the FACES Ministry, founded by Dan & Teresa Susong, has been successfully fighting child labor and evangelizing the people of Ecuador. When the ministry was born in 2003, Ecuador had more working children than any other Latin American country. In the rural areas, children work mostly in the agricultural sector. In urban areas, they work in construction, in restaurants and hotels, as house maids, mechanics, selling on the streets or outdoor markets, recycling from trash dumps, and as street jugglers or beggars. Working children often use chemicals and sharp tools, and lift heavy loads. The good news is that since the FACES Ministry began, the number of working children has dropped by hundreds of thousands. Through hard work and the partnership of many friends, we have advanced greatly in the struggle against child labor in Ecuador.
