The Memorial Chapel is open today.
Take a peek into rural East Texas church life in the 1920s.

The chapel was built in 1922 using the same hand hewed sills that supported the previous building constructed in 1867.
Four class rooms were added in 1945. The addition of a well in 1955 made running water available for the first time and one class was converted into two restrooms.

Most of the furniture was hand made during the 1950s including the pulpit, hardwood pews, Lord's supper table, and children's table and chairs.

The attendance boards behind the pulpit reflect attendance at the last service held there the week before Easter 1978.

Displayed in the foyer:

The small hand made white church may have been made by Otis Jones. Members deposited one penny per year for birthdays and wedding anniversaries at the beginning of each Sunday morning service.

The beautiful ceramic nativity scene was completely hand crafted by Iris Gilbert about 1978.

Julia Crowder painted the four canvases depicting scenes of the live nativity, Journey Thru Jerusalem performed annually from about 1993-2006.
