Weekly News for August 20th-24th, 2018

What We are Learning?

Reading: Our story is "Exploring Space with an Astronaut." We will be working on words with long vowels. We will be introduced to different syllable types. We will be writing a nonfiction story, working with main ideas and supporting details.

Science: We will be discussing scientists and tools and methods they use to collect data.

Religion: We will be studying the book of Genesis.

Social Studies: We will continue talking about communities.

Math: We will continue working on different addition strategies.
