Lord, Fill Me With Your Righteousness

Philippians 1:3-11

Our salvation does not end at the cross, but begins at the cross. It should inspire us that God takes care to develop us and shape our character into His image. Our salvation is not the completed work of God but the beginning of what God seeks to do in our lives.

1. Love His _____.

Only man, created in God’s image has the ability to exercise _____ love.

We are to love knowledge based on truth, not based on feelings.

2. Approve what is _____.

If I don’t have enough knowledge to pick out the good from the bad, I will accept anything that gives a good sales pitch.

God will not bless a relationship that violates His stated word.

3. Be _____.

When God examines your life, His light will reveal all that is hidden and God judges righteously without watering down the truth.
